Contested Pasts:

Contested Pasts Katharine Hodgkin, Susannah Radstone, 2003-09-02 This interdisciplinary volume demonstrates from a range of perspectives the complex cultural work and struggles over meaning that lie at the heart of what we call memory In the last decade a focus on memory in the human sciences has encouraged new approaches to the study of the past As the humanities and social sciences have put into question their own claims to objectivity authority and universality memory has appeared to offer a way of engaging with knowledge of the past as inevitably partial subjective and local At the same time memory and memorial practices have become sites of contestation and the politics of memory are increasingly prominent

Staging Difficult Pasts Maria M. Delgado, Michal Kobialka, Bryce Lease, 2023-12-22 This collection of original essays brings together museum theatre and performance case studies with a focus on their distinctive and overlapping modes of producing memory for transnational audiences Whether this is through narrative object embodied encounter or a combination of the three this volume considers distinctions and interactions between memory and history specifically through the lenses of theatre and performance studies visual culture and museum and curator studies This book is underpinned by three areas of research enquiry How are contemporary theatre makers and museum curators staging historical narratives of difficult pasts How might comparisons between theatre and museum practices offer new insights into the role objects play in generating and representing difficult pasts What points of overlap comparison and contrast among these constructions of history and memory of authoritarianism slavery colonialism genocide armed conflict fascism and communism might offer an expanded understanding of difficult pasts in these transnational cultural contexts This collection is designed for any scholar of its central disciplines as well as for those interested in cultural geography memory studies and postcolonial theory The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution NoDerivatives CC BY ND 4.0 license

Do 'Zimbabweans' Exist? Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, 2009 This book examines the triumphs and tribulations of the Zimbabwean national project providing a radical and critical analysis of the fossilisation of Zimbabwean nationalism against the wider context of African nationalism in general The book departs radically from the common praise texts in seriously engaging with the darker aspects of nationalism including its failure to create the nation as people and to install democracy and a culture of human rights The author examines how the various people inhabiting the lands between the Limpopo and Zambezi Rivers entered history and how violence became a central aspect of the national project of organising Zimbabweans into a collectivity in pursuit of a political end

Writing Resistance in Northern Ireland Aimée Walsh, 2024-04-02 Writing Resistance in Northern Ireland is an examination of feminist republicanism s in the north of Ireland between 1975 and 1986 Republican prison protest was rife during this period and fractures opened up between the feminist and republican movements Despite their shared objective of self determination the two movements did not achieve a natural or total congruence While it has been argued that there is a disjuncture between feminism and nationalism this book argues for a new perspective on feminist republicanism s in the north and tells the story of a niche collective of republican feminists who came to the fore during the Troubles and sought bodily political and economic autonomy The book examines source material including historical narratives jail writings journalism documentary film and literary texts and paints a vivid picture of a movement of republican feminist women s writing concerned with political crisis gender and the nation Aimée Walsh uses the plural republicanism s as a way of encapsulating the varied iterations of nationalist feminism from militant republicanism in Armagh Gaol to a non violent literary nationalist feminism This examination of the interaction between nationalism and gender shows how the study of women s writing can offer a paradigm shift in the history of the Troubles as seen through a feminist lens Violence and Genocide in Kurdish Memory Eren Yıldırım Yetkin, 2022-07-11 Kurdische Erinnerungen an den Genozid an den Armeniern stellen die systematische Leugnung durch die türkischen Staatsstrukturen in Frage und eröffnen neue Möglichkeiten der Vergangenheitsbewältigung Dieses Buch untersucht kurdische Biografien insbesondere aus Van in der Türkei und erforscht die Dynamik der miteinander verflochtenen Erinnerungsregime in Bezug auf die politische Gewalt an Armeniern und

Erinnerungsvorstellungen über Gewalt, Täterschaft und Opferrolle in Vergangenheit und Gegenwart Emerging Memory Paul Bijl, 2025-10-01 This incisive volume brings together postcolonial studies, visual culture and cultural memory studies to explain how the Netherlands continues to rediscover its history of violence in colonial Indonesia. Dutch commentators have frequently claimed that the colonial past and especially the violence associated with it has been forgotten in the Netherlands. Uncovering lost photographs and other documents of violence has thereby become a recurring feature aimed at unmasking a hidden truth. The author argues that rather than absent, such images have been consistently present in the Dutch public sphere and have been widely available in print, on television and now on the internet. Emerging Memory: Photographs of Colonial Atrocity in Dutch Cultural Remembrance shows that between memory and forgetting there is a haunted zone from which pasts that do not fit the stories nations live by keep on emerging and submerging while retaining their disturbing presence. The Routledge Handbook of Museums, Heritage, and Death Trish Biers, Katie Stringer Clary, 2023-07-26

This book provides a comprehensive examination of death, dying and human remains in museums and heritage sites around the world. Presenting a diverse range of contributions from scholars, practitioners and artists, the book reminds us that death and the dead body are omnipresent in museum and heritage spaces. Chapters appraise collection practices and their historical context, present global perspectives and potential resolutions and suggest how death and dying should be presented to the public. Acknowledging that professionals in the galleries, libraries, archives and museums (GLAM) fields are engaging in vital discussions about repatriation and anti-colonialist narratives, the book includes reflections on a variety of deathscapes that are at the forefront of the debate. Taking a multivocal approach, the handbook provides a foundation for debate as well as a reference for how the dead are treated within the public arena. Most important, perhaps, the book highlights best practices and calls for more ethical frameworks and strategies for collaboration, particularly with descendant communities. The Routledge Handbook of Museums, Heritage and Death will be useful to all individuals working with, studying and interested in curation and exhibition at museums and heritage sites around the world. It will be of particular interest to those working in the fields of heritage, museum studies, death studies, archaeology, anthropology, sociology and history.

Mining the Heartland Erik Kojola, 2023-06-06 As conflicts over resource extraction erupt across the world, a dive into one such fight in Minnesota reveals how these are cultural and political struggles about place, identity and collective memory that complicate economy versus environment narratives and are tied to broader class and rural-urban divisions and resurgent right-wing populism. The Partition of the Indian Subcontinent (1947) and Beyond Chhanda Chatterjee, 2023-03-24

The book is a comprehensive study of border-related issues arising from the 1947 Partition of India. It looks at various cases of border disputes and affrays such as disputes related to the incorporation of princely states like Kashmir and Jaunpur, the

Cultural Memory and Literature Diane Molloy, 2015-10-20

Cultural memory involves a community's shared memories the selection of which is based on current political and social needs A past that is significant to a national group is reimagined by generating new meanings that replace earlier certainties and fixed symbols or myths This creates literary syncretisms with moments of undecidability The analysis in this book draws on Renate Lachmann's theory of intertextuality to show how novels that blur boundaries without standing in for history are prone to intervene in cultural memory A brief overview of Aboriginal politics between the 1920s and the 1990s in relation to several novels provides historical and political background to the links between and problems associated with cultural memory testimony trauma and Stolen Generations narratives which are discussed in relation to Sally Morgan's My Place and Doris Pilkington's Rabbit Proof Fence There follows an analysis of novels that respond to the history of contact between Aboriginal and settler Australians including Kate Grenville's historical novels The Secret River The Lieutenant and Sarah Thornhill as examples of a traditional approach David Malouf's Remembering Babylon charts how language and naming defined our early national narrative that excluded Aboriginal people Intertextuality is explored via the relation between Thea Astley's The Multiple Effects of Rainshadow Chloe Hooper's The Tall Man and the Royal Commission into Aboriginal Deaths in Custody Kim Scott's Benang from the Heart and That Deadman Dance and Alexis Wright's Carpentaria reflect a number of Lachmann's concepts syncretism dialogism polyphony Menippean satire and the carnivalesque Suggested is a new way of reading novels that respond to Australia's violent past beyond trauma studies and postcolonial theory to reimagine a different syncretic past from multiple perspectives
