When the framers of the Constitution gathered in the summer of 1787 their deliberations were shrouded in secrecy The Pennsylvania State House was locked armed guards were posted and the 55 delegates of the Constitutional Convention were sworn to secrecy by presiding officer George Washington Ordinary Americans were allowed no role in shaping the country s national charter Its principle architect James Madison believed secrecy was necessary to prevent a thousand of erroneous and perhaps mischievous reports and directed that his personal notes from the Convention not be published until after his death Secrecy has always played a role in American governance from the First Continental Congress to the Manhattan Project to today s controversial procedures for protecting national security The author examines the balance between the ideal of openness in government and the real world need for secrecy and the political accommodations that have been made for each Checklist of United States Public Documents 1789-1909 ,1962 Checklist of United States Public Documents, 1789-1909: Lists of congressional and departmental publications United States. Diary Poetics of Frances Burney, Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Shelley* Magdalena Ożarska,2014-01-08 Lacework or Mirror Diary Poetics of Frances Burney Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Shelley sets out to determine whether each of the diaries by three female writers namely Frances Burney Dorothy Wordsworth and Mary Shelley approximates the Philippe Lejeunean concept of the diary as lacework or the more sweeping view typical of the broadly conceived autobiography which Georges Gusdorf famously likened to the mirror The author explores Burney s Wordsworth s and Shelley s attempts at concealing the gaps between their narrating and narrated I s as well as examining their diary lacunae especially helpful for illustrating the gradual emergence of the diarists individual selves Broader issues connected with diary poetics such as the use of metaphors and symbols the degree of reliance on dialogue and ensuing narrativity down to handling the past by means of anachronous eccentricities are also subject to examination The study is based on the assumption that the journal is a literary genre which can be investigated with tools routinely used for the examination of literary texts Yet beyond the issues of literariness in accordance with Philippe Lejeune s dictum the three journals reveal the writers diaristic practices In fact it seems that issues of the journal genre and the journal practice cannot be divorced and neither can their lacework and mirror aspects
