

How Legal Firms can gain the Competitive Advantage in the New Normal

THE "NEW NORMAL"

As Governments, businesses and societies begin to adapt to the post-COVID 19 pandemic environment, the legal profession will continue to evolve in this complex operating climate filled with uncertainty with the potential to impact business operations and brand reputation. Firms that are better prepared not only provide assurance to their staff, but also to their clients (who are concerned with whether obligations can still be fulfilled during a potential business disruption, especially when news travel fast).

Navigating through these complexities require firms to be adequately prepared to ensure such threats do not become a reality and if they ever do, firms must be ready to implement well tested contingency and response plans to recover from and resume critical operations.

"In the New Normal, your clients will require a greater adoption of business continuity and crisis management plans and procedures (especially for government tenders). Is your organisation ready?"
