Contours Of Continuity And Change The Story Of The Bonda Highlanders:

Contours of Continuity and Change Bikram Narayan Nanda, 1994 Presenting a new approach to the study of transformations in tribal formations this book provides valuable critical insights into the current predicament of tribes in India The analysis is based on the author's clear understanding of the limits of indigenous concepts and the result is an important contribution to the contemporary anthropology of India's tribes Revolution and Pedagogy E. Ewing, 2005-05-13 Revolution and Pedagogy explores the tensions between and within the processes of revolutionary pedagogical change and continuity Contributors examine conventional topics such as school policies and curricula as well as more non traditional pedagogies such as public celebrations of holidays participation in international exchange programs and the incarceration of political activists Ethnographic Atlas of Indian Tribes Prakash Chandra Mehta, 2004 The tribals contribute a share of about eight per cent population of the country's population and spread over about 15 part of the country's land with 500 different tribal groups having special cultural traits and identity Keeping in view the importance of ethnography of every tribal group there is a gap in literature This was a voluminous work so I have decided to work on major tribal groups residing in different parts of the country Indigenous Environmental Knowledge and its Transformations Alan Bicker, Roy Ellen, Peter Parkes, 2003-12-16 The first concerted critical examination of the uses and abuses of indigenous knowledge The contributors focus on a series of interrelated issues in their interrogation of indigenous knowledge and its specific applications within the localised contexts of particular Asian societies and regional cultures In particular they explore the problems of translation and mistranslation in the local global transference of traditional practices and representations of resources IBSS: Anthropology: 1995, 1996 This bibliography lists the most important works published in anthropology in 1995 Renowned for its international coverage and rigorous selection procedures IBSS provides researchers and librarians with the most comprehensive and scholarly bibliographic service available in the social sciences IBSS is compiled by the British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics one of the world's leading social science institutions Published annually IBSS is available in four subject areas anthropology economics political science and sociology The Challenges of Self-Managed Development L.K. Mahapatra, R.P. Mohanty, 2009 Modalities of Change James Wilkerson, Robert Parkin, 2012 While in some cases modernity may place traditional forms of expression at a disadvantage in others the modern is embraced as a welcome source of new ideas that can be incorporated into tradition in order to change it while remaining within its own parameters This is actually likely to help a tradition survive Maintaining a strong and distinct cultural identity with the help of modernity helps representatives of that identity cope with the modern world more generally Assimilation to a dominant culture marked as modern by contrast is clearly associated with not only the loss of a distinct identity but also its specific forms of cultural expression This book explores the interface between modernity and tradition in selected societies in Taiwan mainland China and Vietnam The chapters question to what extent traditions are themselves exploiting modernity in creative ways in the interests of their own further developments      Native Peoples of the World Steven L. Danver, 2015-03-10 This work examines the world's indigenous peoples, their cultures, the countries in which they reside and the issues that impact these groups      Sociology and Social Anthropology in India Yogesh Atal, 2009 The Indian Council of Social Science Research, the premier organization for social science research in India, conducts periodic surveys in the major disciplines of the social sciences to assess disciplinary developments as well as to identify gaps in research in these disciplines      Cultivating Integral Development Ananta Kumar Giri, 2023-12-18 This book cultivates visions and practices of integral development of the self, society and the world. It builds upon deconstructions of development discourse and practice and strives to reconstruct and reconstitute it as integral development. It addresses entrenched dualisms in development studies and practices such as between the self and the other, the providers of development and its recipients, materialism and spirituality and cultivates pathways of integral development. The book explores the many challenges facing development studies and practice such as poverty, creativity, political economy, moral economy, leadership, sustainable development and evolutionary flourishing. It also opens the discourse and practice of development to cross-cultural dialogues by undertaking discussions between Euro-centric approaches to development and other visions and practices of development such as Purushartha, Swadhyaya, Sarvodaya, integral yoga and Lokasamgraha from Indic traditions. Drawing on multiple cultural and philosophical resources and traditions, Cultivating Integral Development is a pioneering work and will be of great interest to scholars, researchers and actors of development studies, political science and philosophy as well as concerned human beings around the world      The Munda Languages Gregory D.S. Anderson, 2015-04-08 The Munda group of languages of the Austroasiatic family are spoken within central and eastern India by almost ten million people. To date they are the least well known and least documented languages of the Indian subcontinent. This unprecedented and original work draws together a distinguished group of international experts in the field of Munda language research and presents current assessments of a wide range of typological and comparative historical issues, providing agendas for future research. Representing the current state of Munda Linguistics, this volume provides detailed descriptions of almost all of the languages in the family, in addition to a brief chapter discussing the enigmatic Nihali language      Sociological Bulletin, 1996

Emerging Trends in Higher Education: Concepts and Practices K. N. Panikkar, 2011 Papers presented at the International Seminar on Democratic and Secular Education held at Thiruvananthapuram during 4-6 December 2008      Journal of the Anthropological Society of Oxford Anthropological Society of Oxford, 1997      Islamization in Modern South Asia David Emmanuel Singh, 2012-08-31 This book explores the religious identity of the indigenous Gujjars living in Rajaji National Park (RNP), Uttarakhand, India. In the broader context of forest conservation discourse, steps taken by the local government to relocate the Gujjars outside RNP have been crucial in their choice to associate with NGOs and Deobandi Muslims. These intersecting associations constitute the context of their transitioning religious identity. The book presents a rich account of the actual process of Islamization through the collaborative agency of Deobandi madrasas and Tablighi Jama at Based on documents and interviews collected over four years it constructs a particular case of Deobandi reform and also balances this with a layered description of the Gujjar responses It argues that in their association with the Deobandis the Gujjars internalized the normative dimensions of beliefs and practices but not at the expense of their traditional Hindu folk culture This capacity for adaptation bodes well for the Gujjars but their proper integration with wider society seems assured only in association with the Deobandis Consequently this research also points toward the role of Islam in integrating marginal groups in the wider context of society in South Asia     Mainstream ,1995     Canadian Periodical Index ,1998     THE JOURNAL OF ASIAN STUDIES VOL. 55 NO. 2 ,1996     Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1996     Heilung durch Rituale Tina Otten,2006
