Control And Subversion Gender Relations In Tajikistan:

Control and Subversion Colette Harris,2004-03-20 Explores gender relations in Muslim societies using post Soviet Tajikistan as a central case study Control and Subversion Colette Harris,2004-03-20 Control and Subversion investigates the relationship of gender to the inner workings of social control such as exposing ways in which post Soviet Tajikistan society threatens men s masculinity thereby bringing them to force family members into conformity irrespective of the suffering this may cause Told through ethnographically collected life histories the book examines how masculine and feminine gender characteristics influence personal relationships and explores gender relations at their most intimate from the secret musings of adolescent girls through the painful experiences of young men to the trauma of sexual initiation Although largely concentrating on contemporary life the book also discusses historical materials and Soviet influence on Tajik society Control and Subversion is essential reading for anyone interested in Central Asia Muslim societies the lives of Muslim women or gender in a Muslim context Encyclopedia of Women & Islamic Cultures Suad Joseph,Afsāna Naǧmābādī,2003 Family Body Sexuality and Health is Volume III of the Encyclopedia of Women Islamic Cultures In almost 200 well written entries it covers the broad field of family body sexuality and health and Islamic cultures Post-Conflict Tajikistan John Heathershaw,2009-05-07 The book provides a critical analysis of why peace has been consolidated in Tajikistan and what role international peacebuilding has had in this It will be of interest to academics working on Peace Studies International Relations and Central Asian Studies Gender Education and Equality in a Global Context

Shailaja Fennell,Madeleine Arnot,2007-09-12 The Millennium Development Goals aim to achieve basic education for all by 2015 But can such global agendas address national and local gender inequalities and will they empower women through education This thought provoking book offers an opportunity to engage critically with existing and emergent conceptual frameworks and methodological approaches to this global debate It is divided into three sections that reconceptualise the definitions of gender equality used by various social scientific disciplines international organisations and policy makers illustrate the methodologies used to collect the voices of young men and women and their teachers telling stories of their success in lifting the burdens of poverty and negotiating traditional gender relations trace the impact of global gender agendas on national education policies such as citizenship education poverty reduction strategies and feminist activism around adult women s learning Gender Education and Equality in a Global Context is an invaluable introduction to the range of conceptual frameworks and innovative research methods that address issues of gender education and development

Masculinities of Tajik Labor Migrants Rustam Samadov,2025-01-10 This book explores masculinities of Tajik men and offers insights on how migrant and non migrant men maintain their gender identity and adjust their gender practices in the context of transnational labor migration from Tajikistan to Russia Being in the state of transnational in betweenness Tajik non migrant men and often their spouses need to adapt to gender norms of both Russian and Tajik gender orders despite the orders very different and at times contradicting gender requirements Therefore the book provides the first comprehensive analysis of Tajik non migrant men s masculinities and their navigation between various forms of masculinity hegemonic complicit marginalized protest and dominant thereby performing flexible and strategic masculinity While focusing on migrant men this research also highlights the role of women in sustaining their partners masculine image and the ways how Russian women adjust their gender practices in response to the requirements of Tajik society

Paradoxes of Migration in Tajikistan

Elena Borisova, 2024-05-28

Paradoxes of Migration in Tajikistan is the first ethnographic monograph on migration in Tajikistan one of the most remittance dependent countries in the world Moving beyond economic push pull narratives about post Soviet migration it foregrounds the experiences of those who stay put in the sending society and struggle to reproduce their moral communities Elena Borisova examines the role of mobility in historical and cultural ideas about the good life and how it becomes entwined with people s efforts to become good moral and modern subjects Addressing the complex relationship between the economic imaginative and moral aspects of mobility she shows that mass migration from Tajikistan is as much a project of navigating ethical personhood as it is a quest for economic resources This book reveals how transnational regimes and structures of mobility citizenship and histories map out in the intimate spheres of the body the person and the family It is a contribution to contemporary migration research which is mostly centred on Europe and North America and to the field of Central Asian studies It will be of interest to researchers of migration mobility and citizenship and to scholars of all disciplines working on Central Asia

Praise for Paradoxes of Migration in Tajikistan

In this vivid and poignant ethnography grounded in an intimate portrait of life in northern Tajikistan Borisova shows how migration is much more than a response to economic necessity Taking us from homes and wedding halls to passport offices and border posts Borisova illuminates migration as an ethical project inseparable from the search for a good life an argument of profound relevance for scholars of migration as well as for students of anthropology

Madeleine Reeves University of Oxford

This deeply researched account of the lived experience of migration between Tajikistan and Russia is a must read for all those interested in Central Asia and the migratory experience more generally This remarkable book is a testament to anthropology s relevance for understanding some of the most pressing issues and sensitive world regions of the present era

Magnus Marsden University of Sussex

Paradoxes of Migration in Tajikistan is a masterful account of migrants mobility between Tajikistan and Russia Carefully examining how people live their lives on the move under difficult conditions Borisova s lucidly written book is set to become a landmark study in the anthropology of migration

Till Mostowlansky Geneva Graduate Institute

An amazing book Borisova offers a rich fieldwork based account of life in the North of Tajikistan which is also a delightful read This work requires a substantial rethinking about how we conceptualise and think of mobility and migration Paying attention to the politics of care and ethical struggles the book helps a reader to understand what migration is and how it is weaved into everyday fabric of life in Tajikistan

Globalization on the Margins (2nd Edition) Iveta Silova, Sarfarozi Niyozov, 2020-01-01 Reflecting on almost three decades of postsocialist transformations the second edition of Globalization on the Margins explores continuities and changes in Central Asian education development since the dissolution of the Soviet Union in 1991 with a particular focus on the developments that took place since the production of the first edition in 2011 Rather than viewing these transformations in isolation the authors place their analyses within the global context by reflecting on the interaction between Soviet legacies and global education reform pressures in the Central Asian countries of Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan This new edition in addition to a revised introduction and a newly added conclusion consists of four thematic sections each reflecting a key theme in the educational life of the Central Asian states These thematic sections introduction and conclusion collectively update our understanding of the recent developments and challenges in education of the five Central Asian states They however go beyond mere information update so as to complicate re engage re form and re define the margins taking up margins a conceptual geographic cultural and geo political construct Notwithstanding the diversity of local and international authors variety of theoretical perspectives methodological approaches and conceptual lenses the essays reveal the complexity and uncertainty of the post socialist education transformations Instead of portraying the transition process as the influx of Western ideas into the region Globalization on the Margins provides new lenses to critically example education as a contested field of diverse perspectives competing forces and multidirectional flow of ideas concepts and reforms in Central Asia

ENDORSEMENTS Hindsight famously brings clarity And much of what happened after the fall of the Berlin Wall and the collapse of the Soviet Union has now been correctly deeded over to historians Nonetheless we ignore that history at our peril The contributors to this volume show that carefully textured and historically attuned education research generates deep insights into ongoing transformations and the political cultural social and economic structures relations and practices that do the work of producing margins and centers in the first place Noah W Sobe Loyola University Chicago

Globalization on the margins and at the epicentre of the battles of the Great Powers Two excellent educators Sarfarozi Niyozov and Iveta Silova compiled a timely and long awaited scholarly work based on empirical research in societies which had similar history close to three decades ago All the contributors are prolific educators who know the education system from within and without who either hailed from the region or have spent a considerable amount of time to know the systems well The book contains remarkable stories of education through the ups and downs of historical evolution It is a must read primer for anyone interested in learning about high quality research in the field of education in Central Asia It is a huge contribution to educational research with an impact on research and teaching for years to come Duishon Shamatov Nazarbayev University Kazakhstan

The challenge of moving Central Asia from the borders of the Soviet Empire to the world s center is the focus of the discussions in Globalization on the Margins The transition to the Western models of education was happening in the context of major paradigm shift which entire humanity was experiencing and which could be described as the arrival of the new post industrial civilization During this process Central Asian countries have been pushed to the margins because their contribution to the wealth of the new world know how was much less pronounced than that of their Western neighbours Therefore investment into the research that contributes to local knowledge production seems a natural solution to the problem All the contributors to this book have a vast experience in the region and many of their observations are thought provoking This is a very insightful and much needed book Elena Lenskaya Moscow School of Social and Economic Sciences Russia

The Transformation of Tajikistan John Heathershaw, Edmund Herzig, 2013-09-13 Tajikistan is one of the lesser known and least researched former Soviet Central Asian republics The birth of the new state in 1991 was followed closely by a civil war which killed more than 50 000 people and displaced many tens of thousands more While a peace agreement was signed in 1997 significant political violence continued until 2001 and intermittent outbreaks still occur today Many claim it remains a very weak state and perhaps in danger of state failure or a return to civil war However the revival of Tajikistan should not simply be seen in terms of its post conflict stabilization Since its creation as a republic of the Soviet Union in 1920s Tajikistan has been transformed from being a shell for socialist engineering to become a national society under a modern state Despite a multitude of economic social and political shocks the Republic of Tajikistan endures This book places the transformation of Tajikistan in its Soviet and Post Soviet historical settings and local and global contexts It explores the sources of a state with Soviet roots but which has been radically transformed by independence and its exposure to global politics and economics The authors address the sources of statehood in history Islam and secularism gender relations the economy international politics and security affairs This book is a new edition of a special issue of Central Asian Survey Tajikistan the sources of statehood including two additional papers and a revised introduction

Gender, Equality and Education from International and Comparative Perspectives David Baker, Alexander W. Wiseman, 2009-04-03 Investigates the often controversial relationship between gender equality and education from international and comparative perspectives This volume also investigates whether gender equality in education is really being achieved in schools around the world or not

Informationen und Daten The international public has taken a while to notice the specific problems of Central Asia and its significance for Europe both politically and as a subject of research in contrast to its immediate attention to the post communist states in Central Eastern and South Eastern Europe The origins of this book go back to a project on gender politics in Central Asia intended to both collect material on the situation in the countries of Central Asia with regard to organisations and women s own experiences and to analyse the findings from a gender perspective At the same time the project was intended to stimulate research on the region and to bring the Central Asian states into the discussions that are currently going on in women s and gender studies The eight contributions to this book deal with gender politics in Central Asia and in doing so put women s current life situations into political social economic and cultural contexts Each essay focuses on some special issue but beyond this specific focus the essays provide basic information and data on the state in question demographic and economic structures or political and ideological conditions Gender and Education in Central Asia Aliya Kuzhabekova,Naureen Durrani,Zumrad Kataeva,2025-01-30 This open access book brings together established and emerging scholars to explore policies statistical trends and representative research on gender equity across post Soviet Central Asia The book provides an overview of policy development in the promotion of gender equity a comparative summary of changes in gender equity indicators at various levels of education and examples of current research on an array of issues relating to gender equity across the region The chapters present a broad picture which will be relevant to scholars of educational reform comparative education policy international development and gender issues Polygynous Marriages among the Kyrgyz Michele E. Commercio,2022-12-06 During Soviet rule the state all but imposed atheism on the primarily Islamic people of Kyrgyzstan and limited the tradition of polygyny a form of polygamy in which one man has multiple wives Polygyny did continue under communism though chiefly under concealment In the decades since the fall of the Soviet Union the practice has reemerged Based on extensive fieldwork Polygynous Marriages among the Kyrgyz argues that this marriage practice has become socially acceptable and widely dispersed not only because it is rooted in customary law and Islamic practice but because it can also enable men and women to meet societal expectations and solve practical economic problems that resulted from the fall of the Soviet Union Michele E Commercio s analysis suggests the normalization of polygyny among the Kyrgyz in contemporary Kyrgyzstan is due both to institutional change in the form of altered governmental rules and expectations and to institutional endurance in the form of persistent hegemonic constructions of gender The Routledge Handbook of Gender and Development Anne Coles,Leslie Gray,Janet Momsen,2015-02-20 The Routledge Handbook of Gender and Development provides a comprehensive statement and reference point for gender and development policy making and practice in an international and multi disciplinary context Specifically it provides critical reviews and appraisals of the current state of gender and development and considers future trends It includes theoretical and practical approaches as well as empirical studies The international reach and scope of the Handbook and the contributors experiences allow engagement with and reflection upon these bridging and linking themes as well as the examining the politics and policy of how we think about and practice gender and development Organized into eight inter related sections the Handbook contains over 50 contributions from leading scholars looking at conceptual and theoretical approaches environmental resources poverty and families women and health related services migration and mobility the effect of civil and international conflict and international economies and development This Handbook provides a wealth of interdisciplinary information and will appeal to students and practitioners in Geography Development Studies Gender Studies and related disciplines

Under Solomon's Throne Morgan Y. Liu, 2012-05-20 Under Solomon's Throne provides a rare ground level analysis of post Soviet Central Asia's social and political paradoxes by focusing on an urban ethnic community the Uzbeks in Osh Kyrgyzstan who have maintained visions of societal renewal throughout economic upheaval political discrimination and massive violence Morgan Liu illuminates many of the challenges facing Central Asia today by unpacking the predicament of Osh a city whose experience captures key political and cultural issues of the region as a whole Situated on the border of Uzbekistan and Kyrgyzstan newly independent republics that have followed increasingly divergent paths to reform their states and economies the city is subject to a Kyrgyz government but the majority of its population are ethnic Uzbeks Conflict between the two groups led to riots in 1990 and again in 2010 when thousands mostly ethnic Uzbeks were killed and nearly half a million more fled across the border into Uzbekistan While these tragic outbreaks of violence highlight communal tensions amid long term uncertainty a close examination of community life in the two decades between reveals the way Osh Uzbeks have created a sense of stability and belonging for themselves while occupying a postcolonial no man's land tied to two nation states but not fully accepted by either one The first ethnographic monograph based on extensive local language fieldwork in a Central Asian city this study examines the culturally specific ways that Osh Uzbeks are making sense of their post Soviet dilemmas These practices reveal deep connections with Soviet and Islamic sensibilities and with everyday acts of dwelling in urban neighborhoods Osh Uzbeks engage the spaces of their city to shape their orientations relative to the wider world postsocialist transformations Islamic piety moral personhood and effective leadership Living in the shadow of Solomon's Throne the city's central mountain they envision and attempt to build a just social order

Everyday Islam in Post-Soviet

Central Asia Maria Elisabeth Louw, 2007-05-09 Providing a wealth of empirical research on the everyday practise of Islam in post Soviet Central Asia this book gives a detailed account of how Islam is understood and practised among ordinary Muslims in the region focusing in particular on Uzbekistan It shows how individuals negotiate understandings of Islam as an important marker for identity grounding for morality and as a tool for everyday problem solving in the economically harsh socially insecure and politically tense atmosphere of present day Uzbekistan Presenting a detailed case study of the city of Bukhara that focuses upon the local forms of Sufism and saint veneration the book shows how Islam facilitates the pursuit of more modest goals of agency and belonging as opposed to the utopian illusions of fundamentalist Muslim doctrines Islam in the Era of Globalization Johan Meuleman, 2005-09-30 Globalization modernity and identity are fundamental issues in contemporary Islam and Islamic Studies This collection of essays reflects the wide diversity that characterises contemporary Islamic Studies The case studies cover regions stretching from China and Southeast Asia to diaspora communities in the Caribbean and Tajikistan There is significant participation of intellectual voices from all areas concerned providing a real contribution to the academic exchange between the Muslim and the Euro American worlds Movement, Power and Place in Central Asia and Beyond Madeleine Reeves, 2013-09-13 Central Asia is a region singularly marked by attempts to transform social life by transforming place Drawing together established scholars and a new generation of historians geographers and anthropologists this volume brings empirical specificity and theoretical depth to debates about the politics of place making in this diverse region making an important contribution to Central Asian studies and a distinctive regional comparison to the spatial turn in social analysis Case studies draw on archival research and oral history to explore the workings and unintended consequences of policies aimed at sedentarizing collectivizing and resettling populations as a means to fix and territorialize space The book also examines ethnographic studies attuned to the role of movement in sustaining social life from Soviet era trade networks that linked rural Central Asia and the Russian metropolis to pilgrimage routes through which kazakhness is articulated to the contemporary moralization of migration abroad in search of work Rather than analysing flows as abstract processes the book enquires about effortful activity material infrastructures political relations and social habits through which people ideas knowledge skills and material objects move or are prevented from moving As such it offers new insights into the complex intersections of movement power and place in this important region over the last two centuries This book was originally published as a special issue of Central Asian Survey Central Asia and the Covid-19 Pandemic Jean-François Caron, Hélène Thibault, 2022-01-19 This book aims at shedding light on the reasons why the death rates during the pandemic were so high in Central Asia More specifically this book proposes analysis on why individuals did not follow the sanitary rules imposed by their respective government and on the role played by misinformation Secondly it also examines the impact of Sinophobia in Central Asia and the future challenges this feeling may pose on the authorities in the near future Lastly this book also proposes analysis of how the pandemic has contributed to show the inherent vulnerabilities of Kazakhstan and Kyrgyzstan by focusing on their immediate and future political consequences
