T Cell Regulation by the Environment Anne L. Astier, David A. Hafler, 2015 Na ve T cells get activated upon encounter with their cognate antigen and differentiate into a specific subset of effector cells These T cells are themselves plastic and are able to re differentiate into another subset changing both phenotype and function Differentiation into a specific subset depends on the nature of the antigen and of the environmental milieu Notably certain nutrients such as vitamins A and D sodium chloride have been shown to modulate T cell responses and influence T cell differentiation Parasite infection can also skew Th differentiation Similarly the gut microbiota regulates the development of immune responses Lastly the key role of metabolism on T cells has also been demonstrated This series of articles highlights some of the multiple links existing between environmental factors and T cell responses Issues for Debate in Environmental Management CQ
