King, 2011-03-29 A Companion to Cultural Resource Management is an essential guide to those wishing to gain a deeper understanding of CRM and heritage management Expert contributors share their knowledge and illustrate CRM's practice and scope as well as the core issues and realities in preserving cultural heritages worldwide Edited by one of the world's leading experts in the field of cultural resource management with contributions by a wide range of experts including archaeologists architectural historians museum curators historians and representatives of affected groups Offers a broad view of cultural resource management that includes archaeological sites cultural landscapes historic structures shipwrecks scientific and technological sites and objects as well as intangible resources such as language religion and cultural values Highlights the realities that face CRM practitioners on the ground The Hebrew Bible Frederick E. Greenspahn, 2007-12-01 In April of 2001 the headline in the Los Angeles Times read Doubting the Story of the Exodus It covered a sermon that had been delivered by the rabbi of a prominent local congregation over the holiday of Passover In it he said The truth is that virtually every modern archeologist who has investigated the story of the exodus with very few exceptions agrees that the way the Bible describes the exodus is not the way it happened if it happened at all This seeming challenge to the biblical story captivated the local public Yet as the rabbi himself acknowledged his sermon contained nothing new The theories that he described had been common knowledge among biblical scholars for over thirty years though few people outside of the profession know their relevance New understandings concerning the Bible have not filtered down beyond specialists in university settings There is a need to communicate this research to a wider public of students and educated readers outside of the academy This volume seeks to meet this need with accessible and engaging chapters describing how archeology theology ancient studies literary studies feminist studies and other disciplines now understand the Bible Energy and Water Development Appropriations for 2004 United States.
