Cases on Institutional Research Systems Burley, Hansel,2011-10-31 Institutional research IR is a growing applied and interdisciplinary area that attracts people from a variety of fields including computer programmers statisticians and administrators and faculty from every discipline to work in archiving analyzing and reporting on all aspects of higher education information systems Cases on Institutional Research Systems is a reference book for institutional research appealing to novice and expert IR professionals and the administrators and policymakers that rely on their data By presenting a variety of institutional perspectives the book depicts the challenges and solutions to those in higher education administration and state federal and even international accreditation

Multilevel Modeling Techniques and Applications in Institutional Research Joe L. Lott,James S. Antony,2013-02-22 Multilevel modeling is an increasingly popular multivariate technique that is widely applied in the social sciences Increasingly practitioners are making instructional decisions based on results from their multivariate analyses which often come from nested data that lend themselves to multilevel modeling techniques As data driven decision making becomes more critical to colleges and universities multilevel modeling is a tool that will lead to more efficient estimates and enhance understanding of complex relationships This volume illustrates both the theoretical underpinnings and practical applications of multilevel modeling in IR It introduces the fundamental concepts of multilevel modeling techniques in a conceptual and technical manner Providing a range of examples of nested models that are based on linear and categorical outcomes it then offers important suggestions about presenting results of multilevel models through charts and graphs This is the 154th volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Always timely and comprehensive New Directions for Institutional Research provides planners and administrators in all types of academic institutions with guidelines in such areas as resource coordination information analysis program evaluation and institutional management Global Issues in Institutional Research Angel Calderone, Karen L. Webber, 2013-05-17 All around the world postsecondary institutions are facing competitive environments declining resources and changing societal needs Institutions are affected by globalization state and local government needs economic restructuring information technology and student and staff mobility Institutional researchers have a critical role to play in addressing these issues In this volume we have embedded the practice of IR as experienced globally We brought together a discussion that is delivered from multiple perspectives but fundamentally one that draws from the collaborative efforts of practitioners across borders By embedding notions of globalization that affect IR we can engage readers in broad discussions on where we are coming from and where we are heading This is the 157th volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Always timely and comprehensive New Directions for Institutional Research provides planners and administrators in all types of academic institutions with guidelines in such areas as resource coordination information analysis program evaluation and institutional management Starting and Sustaining Meaningful Institutional Research at Small Colleges and Universities Narren J. Brown, Wei-Fang Lin, Gordon J. Hewitt, Ruth Vater, 2017-08-14 The focus of this volume is on the work of Institutional Researchers in a small college or university SCUs setting At an SCU the goal of the IR office is to balance the bureaucratic tendencies of data driven decision making with the need for collegiality and collaboration Drawing on numerous examples it illustrates how IR professionals can leverage their positionality within the institution to design data flows to answer questions by serving as convergent thinkers connecting disjointed systems and requests This volume identifies the challenges that small IR offices face reinforces the idea of collegiality as a defining feature of small IR offices discusses several principles for using data about teaching and learning explores the effects of low response rates in survey data and the effects of nonresponse bias demonstrates the importance of collaborative efforts in enacting change proposes a model of policy development focused on student success presents an effective model of SCU IR office development This is the 173rd volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Timely and comprehensive New Directions for Institutional Research provides planners and administrators in all types of academic institutions with guidelines in such areas as resource coordination information analysis program evaluation and institutional management Institutional Research in South African Higher Education Jan Botha, Nicole J Muller, 2016-11-01 The book provides a thorough overview of Institutional Research IR i e applied higher education research undertaken within universities in South Africa It is a collection of essays focusing on the character and institutional setting of IR how IR is embedded into the mechanisms of steering shaping and reforming higher education and what the major results were of IR in select thematic areas The book is a valuable resource for higher education researchers and social researchers in South Africa interested in higher education It also deserves to be read by practitioners and policymakers in the field of higher education in South Africa It serves as an interesting case study for higher education researchers all over the world Building Capacity in Institutional Research and Decision Support in Higher Education Karen L. Webber, 2018-01-31 This book examines the relevant roles skills and knowledge needed to build the institutional research capacity across the higher education sector globally The information contained herein will inform IR practitioners senior level institution officials and higher education scholars With a focus on building the capacity of the IR profession this book s primary audiences include senior leaders who wish to introduce or strengthen their understanding for effective decision support and staff members who are currently in decision support units and those who wish to serve in this capacity However this book also offers detail on the decision support function to higher education scholars who seek to better address how data can inform policy and planning in higher education Through a broad discussion about the roles and skills of the practitioners this book will also enumerate the ways in which decision support practitioners can be valued contributors in shaping the future decisions and direction of specific institutions and higher education broadly Assessing for Learning Peggy L. Maki, 2023-07-03 While there is consensus that institutions need to represent their educational effectiveness through documentation of student learning the higher education community is divided between those who support national standardized tests to compare institutions educational effectiveness and those who believe that valid assessment of student achievement is based on assessing the work that students produce along and at the end of their educational journeys This book espouses the latter philosophy what Peggy Maki sees as an integrated and authentic approach to providing evidence of student learning based on the work that students produce along the chronology of their learning She believes that assessment needs to be humanized as opposed to standardized to take into account the demographics of institutions as students do not all start at the same place in their learning Students also need the tools to assess their own progress In addition to updating and expanding the contents of her first edition to reflect changes in assessment practices and developments over the last seven years such as the development of technology enabled assessment methods and the national need for institutions to demonstrate that they are using results to improve student learning Maki focuses on ways to deepen program and institution level assessment within the context of collective inquiry about student learning Recognizing that assessment is not initially a linear start up process or even necessarily sequential and recognizing that institutions develop processes appropriate for their mission and culture this book does not take a prescriptive or formulaic approach to building this commitment What it does present is a framework with examples of processes and strategies to assist faculty staff administrators and campus leaders to develop a sustainable and shared core institutional process that deepens inquiry into what and how students learn to identify and improve patterns of weakness that inhibit learning This book is designed to assist colleges and universities build a sustainable commitment to assessing student learning at both the institution and program levels It provides the tools for collective inquiry among faculty staff administrators and students to develop evidence of students abilities to integrate apply and transfer learning as well as to construct their own meaning Each chapter also concludes with 1 an Additional Resources section that includes references to meta sites with further resources so users can pursue particular issues in greater depth and detail and 2 worksheets guides and exercises designed to build collaborative ownership of assessment The second edition now covers Strategies to connect students to an institution s or a program s assessment commitment Description of the components of a comprehensive institutional commitment that engages the institution educators and students all as learners Expanded coverage of direct and indirect assessment methods including technology enabled methods that engage students in the process New case studies and campus examples covering undergraduate graduate education and the co curriculum New chapter with case studies that presents a framework for a backward designed problem based assessment process anchored in answering open ended research or study questions that lead to improving pedagogy and educational practices Integration of developments across professional scholarly and accrediting bodies and disciplinary organizations Descriptions and illustrations of assessment management systems Additional examples exercises guides and worksheets that align with new content
