Henderson,2006-06-07 A rich vein of economics writings which runs through the nineteenth century and beyond is now largely ignored because its authors were women or because they favoured literary over scientific forms Economics as Literature re examines some of the most interesting texts from within this tradition The works considered include stories eg by Maria Edgeworth and Harriet Martineau dialogues eg by Jane Marcet and Thomas de Quincey imaginative writing eg from Ruskin and Francis Edgeworth Keynes General Theory which is locked within a nineteenth century tradition of uniting science and art      Social and Psychological Foundations of Economic Analysis J. L. Baxter,1988      Principles of

Environmental Economics and Sustainability Ahmed Hussen,2012-11-12 Recent years have witnessed considerable consolidation between the disciplines of environmental and ecological economics at research level but until now textbooks in the area have done little to reflect this Ahmed Hussen s book is to date the only one to reconcile the two standpoints The central focus of the book will continue to be on this systematic integration of both mainstream and ecological approaches to environmental economics and an acknowledgement that enduring solutions to major contemporary environmental challenges can be obtained through studies based on a well conceived and balanced interdisciplinary approach However this third edition also contains much that is new Chiefly brand new chapters appear covering the following topics The economics of climate change The economics of biodiversity and ecosystem services Green accounting and alternative economic and social indicators of sustainability The business case for environmental sustainability An Appendix that provides a brief historical account of the development of ecological economics The result is a comprehensive introduction to the main facets of environmental and ecological economics a text that boldly refuses to put up barriers between disciplines and takes a holistic approach to vital issues This student friendly textbook contains a variety of study tools including learning points boxed features case studies revision questions and discussion questions and an Appendix that provides students with a review of basic economic principles relevant to the study of the environment and its management Written in a clear and accessible style this book will prove an excellent choice for introducing both students and academics to the world of environmental economics      Economic Theory in Retrospect Mark Blaug,1997-03-27 This book first published in 1997 is a history of economic thought from Adam Smith to John Maynard Keynes      Economic Methodology Deborah A. Redman,1989 A comprehensive bibliography of economic methodological works since 1860 this volume includes 2 244 entries divided into two primary sections The first section covers works on economic methodology while Part Two deals with works on the philosophy of science The inclusion of works by philosophers of science reflects the prevalence of references to their works both in contemporary economic literature and throughout the period covered Many of the entries are annotated including the classics in economic methodology almost all of the books and general works in the philosophy of science section All other sections include an introduction to the topic and the articles listed under that heading By collecting these works together in one source for the first time compiler Deborah Redman has performed a major service for students researchers and scholars of economics as well as interested philosophers and other social scientists Part One on methodology is divided into twenty five sections devoted to such issues as the Friedman controversy the is ought dichotomy the role of ethics and values in economics the Cambridge controversy and more Individual economists like Samuelson and Friedman who have had a major influence on the discipline are treated in separate categories In addition individual sections address quantification theory econometrics rationality and the positions of the Austrians the new group of rhetoricians the institutionalists and others Part Two begins by providing introductory texts and background sources for those with little prior exposure to works in the philosophy of science The remaining eleven sections are organized around the philosophies of science that economists have incorporated into their economic philosophies Hence works by and on Karl Popper Thomas Kuhn Imre Lakatos Paul Feyerabend and the German structuralists appear as categories Additional sections cover holism and the Duhem thesis the relationship between the history and philosophy of science and miscellaneous works Author and subject indexes complete the volume
