Brabandere,2014-09-15 This book demonstrates how the public international law character of investment treaty arbitration has impacted on the dispute settlement procedure The Aims and Methods of Postcolonial International Law Chin Leng Lim,2024-10-28 Criticism of colonial justifications has been familiar since the age of Sep lveda and Las Casas Yet today it is said that international law is and always was an instrument of colonialism It is true that the ius gentium and the Law of Nations failed to prevent colonialism and were used in fact to justify colonialism Still such failures which occurred over the successive periods of European colonization of non European peoples did not implicate the whole of international law thought That is just a modern exaggeration but rather than repair the international law that we have for example in our discussions about colonial reparation some now wish us to reject international law altogether In seeking to cast present day criticisms in a proper light these lectures at the Hague Academy had discussed the more notable literature including in judgments and arbitral awards from the time of the classic works that are connected to the history of the subject to the present day Now presented in pocketbook form the objective is the same which is to explain the aims and methods of post colonial criticism and to reject the view that it is too late for international law Recueil Des Cours/Collected Courses of the
