With Early Islam Emmanouela Grypeou, Mark (Mark N.) The Armenian History Attributed to Sebeos: Historical commentary Sebēos (Bishop of Bagratunik'), 1999 This the first English translation of the 1979 critical edition of the classical Armenian text is of interest to all those studying the Middle East in late antiquity since Sebeos not only sets the scene for the coming of Islam but provides the only substantial non Muslim account of the initial period of expansion The notes are specifically aimed at the reader unfamiliar with Armenian The historical commentary makes an original contribution to modern scholarship on the period and assesses the accuracy and value of the text The Legend of Mar Qardagh Joel Walker, 2006-04-24 This pioneering study uses an early seventh century Christian martyr legend to elucidate the culture and society of late antique Iraq Translated from Syriac into English here for the first time the legend of Mar Qardagh introduces a hero of epic proportions whose characteristics confound simple classification During the several stages of his career Mar Qardagh hunts like a Persian King argues like a Greek philosopher and renounces his Zoroastrian family to live with monks high in the mountains of Iraqi Kurdistan Drawing on both literary and artistic sources Joel Walker explores the convergence of these diverse themes in the Christian culture of the Sasanian Empire 224 642 Taking the Qardagh legend as its foundation his study guides readers through the rich and complex world of late antique Iraq The Armenians in the Medieval Islamic World Seta B. Dadoyan, 2017-07-28 In the third volume of the trilogy Seta B Dadoyan focuses on social and cultural aspects rather than the core political focus exhibited in her first two volumes Her objective is to suggest political readings of these themes and related texts by revealing hitherto unstudied and novel interactions in the cities of Asia Minor during the Mongol Period Dadoyan focuses on the Armenian condition and role in the medieval Islamic world She argues that if the entire region was the habitat of most of the Armenians their history too is part of these locations and peoples Dadoyan draws the outlines of a new philosophy of Armenian history based on hitherto obscured patterns of interaction The first three chapters of this volume are dedicated to the images of Prophet Muhammad in Armenian literature Dadoyan shows that direct interactions and borrowings happened regularly from Islamic sciences reform projects poetry and arts Dadoyan argues that the cosmopolitan urban environments were radically different from rural areas and close interactions took different and unexpected patterns In the last part of the volume she presents the first and only polemical apologetic Armenian texts addressed to Islam at the end of the fourteenth century This book is essential for all historians and Middle East scholars and is the latest volume in Transaction's Armenian Studies series

Redefining Christian Identity Jan J. Ginkel, Hendrika Lena Murre-van den Berg, Theo Maarten van Lint, 2005 Cultural interaction in the Middle East since the Rise of Islam such was the title of a combined research project of the Universities of Leiden and Groningen aimed at describing the various ways in which the Christian communities of the Middle East expressed their distinct cultural identity in Muslim societies As part of the project the symposium Redefining Christian Identity Christian cultural strategies since the rise of Islam took place at Groningen University on April 7 10 1999 This book contains the proceedings of this conference From the articles it becomes clear that a number of distinct cultural strategies can be identified some of which were used very frequently others only in certain groups or at particular periods of time The three main strategies that are represented in the papers of this volume are i reinterpretation of the pre Islamic Christian heritage ii inculturation of elements from the new Islamic context iii isolation from the Islamic context Viewed in time it is clear that the reinterpretation of older Christian heritage was particularly important in the first two centuries after the rise of Islam the seventh and eighth centuries that inculturation was the dominant theme of the Abbasid period in the ninth to twelfth centuries whereas from the Mongol period onwards from the thirteenth to the eighteenth centuries isolation more and more often occurs although inculturation of elements from the predominantly Muslim environment never came to a complete standstill
