Fashion, Gender and Agency in Latin American and Spanish Literature Stephanie N. Saunders, 2021 In the last two decades the glorification of sewing whether involving needlework tailoring or fashion design has thrived in Latin American and Iberian cultural works particularly literature In the last two decades the glorification of sewing whether involving needlework tailoring or fashion design has thrived in Latin American and Iberian cultural works particularly literature While fast fashion has relegated the handicraft to maquiladoras in the Global South Spanish and Latin American authors have created protagonists whose skill with needle and thread allows them to break out of culturally confining roles and spaces In this fictional realm seamstresses and tailors enter exciting adventures as spies peacemakers or explorers all facilitated by their artistry and expertise This book examines the depiction of women and the textile arts in contemporary Hispanic and Brazilian literature Employing space and gender theories the book explores how sewing traditionally viewed as respectable only if practiced at home gives agency and encourages self reflection and mobility allowing protagonists to transgress physical and socially prescribed limits Texts analyzed include Mar a Due as s El tiempo entre costuras 2009 C sar Aira s La costurera y el viento 1994 Pedro Lemebel s Tengo miedo torero 2001 Francesc Ponte de Peebles s The Seamstress 2009 and children's literature Encouraging readers to look behind garments to the agents of production the book shows how contemporary authors through their celebrations of an age old skill help to renew interest in sewing tailoring upcycling and embroidery The Encyclopaedic Dictionary Robert Hunter, Charles Morris, 1896 Scripts of Blackness Noémie Ndiaye, 2022-09-20 Scripts of Blackness shows how the early modern mass media of theatre and performance culture at large helped turn blackness into a racial category that is into a type of difference justifying emerging social hierarchies and power relations in a new world order driven by colonialism and capitalism In this book Noémie Ndiaye explores the techniques of impersonation used by white performers to represent Afro diasporic people in England France and Spain in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries using a comparative and transnational framework She reconstructs three specific performance techniques black up cosmetic blackness blackspeak acoustic blackness and black dances kinetic blackness in order to map out the poetics of those techniques and track a number of metaphorical strains that early modern playtexts regularly associated with them Those metaphorical strains the titular scripts of blackness of this book operated across national borders and constituted resources as they provided spectators and participants with new ways of thinking about the Afro diasporic people who lived or could would ultimately live in their midst Those scripts were often gendered and hinged on notions of demonization exclusion exploitation animalization commodification sexualization consensual enslavement misogynoir infantilization and evocative association with other racialized minorities Scripts of Blackness attempts to grasp the stories that Western Europeans told themselves through performative blackness and the effects of those fictions on early modern Afro diasporic subjects

The Gendering of Men, 1600-1750 Thomas Alan King, 2004 Taking on nothing less than the formation of modern genders and sexualities Thomas A King develops a history of the political and performative struggles that produced both normative and queer masculinities in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries The result is a major contribution to gender studies gay studies and theater and performance history The Gendering of Men 1600 1750 traces the transition from a society based on alliance which had subordinated all men women and boys to higher ranked males to one founded in sexuality through which men have embodied their claims to personal and political privacy King proposes that the male body is a performative production marking men s resistance to their subjection within patriarchy and sovereignty Emphasizing that categories of gender must come under historical analysis The Gendering of Men explores men s participation in an ongoing struggle for access to a universal manliness transcending other biological and social differentials
