Sartorial Japonisme and the Experience of Kimonos in Britain, 1865-1914 Arisa Yamaguchi, 2023-10-13 Using interdisciplinary research and critical analysis this book examines experiences through or with kimonos in Britain during the late Victorian and Edwardian periods Bringing new perspectives to challenge the existing model of Japonisme in fashion and introducing overlooked contacts between kimonos and people this book explores not only fine arts and department stores but also a variety of theatres and cheap postcards Putting a particular focus on the responses and reactions elicited by kimonos in visual textual and material forms this book initiates an entirely new discussion on the British adoption of Japanese kimonos beyond the monolithic view of the relationship between the East and West This book will be of interest to scholars working in fashion studies British studies Japanese studies design history and art history

Official Master Register of Bicentennial Activities. Jan. 1975 American Revolution Bicentennial Administration, 1975 The Inventor of Stereo Robert Alexander, 2013-04-11 This book is the definitive study of the life and works of one of Britain's most important inventors who due to a cruel set of circumstances has all but been overlooked by history Alan Dower Blumlein led an extraordinary life in which his inventive output rate easily surpassed that of Edison but whose early death during the darkest days of World War Two led to a shroud of secrecy which has covered his life and achievements ever since His 1931 Patent for a Binaural Recording system was so revolutionary that most of his contemporaries regarded it as more than 20 years ahead of its time Even years after his death the full magnitude of its detail had not been fully utilized Among his 128 Patents are the principle electronic circuits critical to the development of the world's first electronic television system During his short working life Blumlein produced patent after patent breaking entirely new ground in electronic and audio engineering During the Second World War Alan Blumlein was deeply engaged in the very secret work of radar development and contributed enormously to the system eventually to become H2S blind bombing radar Tragically during an experimental H2S flight in June 1942 the Halifax bomber in which Blumlein and several colleagues were flying crashed and all aboard were killed He was just days short of his 39th birthday For many years there have been rumours about a biography of Alan Blumlein yet none has been forthcoming This is the world's first study of a man whose achievements should rank among those of the greatest Britain has produced This book provides detailed knowledge of every one of his patents and the process behind them while giving an in depth study of the life and times of this quite extraordinary man Old-House Journal

Cowley,Robin A. Standring,Matthew J. Abicht,2010-11-11 This volume presents the rich but under utilised and in parts inaccessible archival historic aerial imagery traditional photographs and those captured from satellites for the exploration and management of cultural heritage An unparalleled resource for archaeologists and all with an interest in landscapes images spanning the second half of the 20th century provide an unrivalled means of documenting and understanding change and informing the study of the past Case studies written by leading experts in their fields illustrate the applications of this imagery across a wide range of heritage issues from prehistoric cultivation and settlement patterns to the impact of recent landscape change Contemporary environmental and land use issues are also dealt with in a volume that will be of interest to archaeologists historians geographers and those in related disciplines 203rd Pennsylvania Volunteers Valgene Dunham,2021-12-13 203rd Pennsylvania Volunteers Southeastern Pennsylvania at War 1864 65 By Valgene Dunham 203rd Pennsylvania Volunteers is the history of a reserve Civil War regiment that was enlisted from Southeastern Pennsylvania in September 1864 Originally intended to be a special regiment of Sharpshooters the unit was altered when their commander General David Birney died before the regiment was completely formed The author a retired biologist introduces the book as a newcomer to Southeastern Pennsylvania who wishes to understand the natural societal and cultural characteristics of the region that led young men to enlist so late in a war that was not going well for the Union Consequently the book presents the history of the area that involves the influence of early geological formations Native Americans various religious movements and the importance of farming and related industry In addition the book includes past military heroes from the area during the Revolutionary and Mexican Wars The regiment is traced through its training at Camp Cadwalader near the present Philadelphia airport and its journey to the front in Virginia This first book written about this regiment serves to emphasize the importance and flexibility of reserve regiments in the last year of the Civil War and how men from the farm and the city came together in a fighting force The regiment paid a tremendous price in the Battle of Fort Fisher on the North Carolina coast so far away The involvement of local groups of men enlisting together is presented in a chapter about the music of the Civil War in which eleven members of the New Holland Band Lancaster County joined the 203rd together to make up one half of the regiment s band This is the third book the author has written about the Civil War all started by his receiving his great great grandfather s letters home before he was killed in the Battle of Hatcher s Run II in the afternoon of February 6

1865 The author trusts that this book about the men of Southeastern Pennsylvania will stimulate interest about the war and an understanding of how the region prepared those Men in Blue for their heroic efforts in saving the Union Journal of the Photographic Society of London ,1942 Vols for 1853 include the transactions of the Royal Photographic Society of Great Britain Reanimating Regions James Riding, Martin Jones, 2017-05-12 Writing regions undertaking a regional study was once a standard form of geographic communication and critique This was until the quantitative revolution in the middle of the previous century and more definitively the critical turn in human geography towards the end of the twentieth century From then on writing regions as they were experienced phenomenologically or arguing culturally historically and politically with regions was deemed to be old fashioned Yet the region is and always will be a central geographical concept and thinking about regions can tell us a lot about the history of the discipline called geography Despite taking up an identifiable place within the geographical imagination in scholarship and beyond region remains a relatively forgotten under used and in part under theorised term Reanimating Regions marks the continued reinvigoration of a set of disciplinary debates surrounding regions the regional and regional geography Across 18 chapters from international interdisciplinary scholars this book writes and performs region as a temporary permanence something held stable not fixed and absolute at different points in time for different purposes There is as this expansive volume outlines no single reading of a region Reanimating Regions collectively rebalances the region within geography and geographical thought In renewing the geography of regions as not only a site of investigation but also as an analytical framework through which to write the world what emerges is a powerful reworking of the geographic imagination Read against one another the chapters weave together timely commentaries on region and regions across the globe with a particular emphasis upon the regional as played out in the United Kingdom and regional worlds both within and beyond Europe offering chapters from Africa and South America Addressing both the political and the cultural this volume responds to the need for a consolidated and considered reflection on region the regional and regional geography speaking directly to broader intellectual concerns with performance aesthetics identity mobilities the environment and the body Guide to the Hoover Institution Archives Charles G. Palm, Dale Reed, Arkansas Archeological Survey Research Series ,1992 Wrecks on Welsh Beaches TOM Bennett , At Low Tide especially after winter storms historic shipwrecks are to be seen on many UK beaches All can be visited on foot most seen without getting your feet wet This book describes the stories and details of some 35 that can be seen around the Welsh coast Two of them have not been positively identified but the author using his expertise as a wreck detective has suggested a name for the shipwreck All these shipwrecks are part of our cultural heritage Please respect them as historical monuments to our bygone maritime heritage They are like museum pieces that can be visited freely for us to ponder and learn from Some of these wrecks have lain in the sand for more than 200 years and if respected now should still be there in another 200 years
