Art And Archaeology In Israel And Neighbouring Countries:

Art and Archaeology in Israel and Neighbouring Countries Asher Ovadiah, 2002-12-31 Asher Ovadiah is Professor of Art History at Tel Aviv University and an authority on the Classical and Byzantine monuments of Israel This selection of articles published over the last twenty five years falls into four groups and is gathered around a number of common themes A first group is concerned with the architecture of pagan temples early churches synagogues and a Roman theatre A second deals with sculpture and reliefs with the emphasis on iconography style and symbolism while a third group is concerned with mosaics in secular and religious contexts with reference to the Classical heritage and anti Classical trends philosophical concepts and links with artistic centres Finally a fourth group treats the symbolic and allegorical significance of various works of art and Greek laudatory inscriptions Greco-Roman Culture and the Galilee of Jesus Mark A. Chancey, 2005-12-15 Greco Roman Culture and the Galilee of Jesus a book length investigation of this topic challenges the conventional scholarly view that first century Galilee was thoroughly Hellenised Examining architecture inscriptions coins and art from Alexander the Great's conquest until the early fourth century CE Chancey argues that the extent of Greco Roman culture in the time of Jesus has often been greatly exaggerated Antipas s reign in the early first century was indeed a time of transition but the more dramatic shifts in Galilee's cultural climate happened in the second century after the arrival of a large Roman garrison Much of Galilee's Hellenisation should thus be understood within the context of its Romanisation Any attempt to understand the Galilean setting of Jesus must recognise the significance of the region s historical development as well as how Galilee fits into the larger context of the Roman East Galilaea and Northern Regions: 5876-6924 Walter Ameling, Hannah M. Cotton, Werner Eck, Avner Ecker, Benjamin Isaac, Alla Kushnir-Stein, Jonathan Price, Peter Weiß, Ada Yardeni, 2023-03-20 Volume V of the CIIP contains inscriptions from Galilee during the time of Alexander the Great until the end of the Byzantian rule in the 7th century in all the languages used during that period including Greek Latin Hebrew Aramaic Samaritan Palmyrene Aramaic and Christian Aramaic The volume encompasses more than 2 000 texts grouped by their find sites from the Northwest to the Southeast Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Nina Nikki, Kirsi M.J. Valkama, 2020-12-14 Magic in the Ancient Eastern Mediterranean Cognitive Historical and Material Perspectives brings together articles with the shared conviction that the category of magic remains useful in religious studies and provides new insights to biblical and related texts and artifacts Historically magic has been considered in both scholarly and popular discourse to be questionable obscure and potentially subversive 19th century scholars of religion viewed magical beliefs and practices as primitive and inferior compared to Judeo Christian forms of worship which were considered true religion More recently the category has been defended especially by scholars of the cognitive science of religion who find it useful for delineating a set of beliefs and practices fundamental to all forms of religion The volume joins current scholarship in refraining from using the concept as an othering device and in arguing that it can still serve as a helpful analytical tool In addition to analyzing the discourse on magic in both ancient literature and modern scholarship the articles provide individual examples of how literary and material culture attest to the existence of magical beliefs and practices in sources from the Ancient Near East to the Byzantine Period The book is divided into three parts The contributions in the first part approach magic from the theoretical perspective of cognitive studies ritual studies and cultural evolution while the rest of the book focuses on how magic and magicians are understood in ancient sources The second part discusses a specific set of textual material dealing with blessings and curses The third part of the volume discusses the world of various destructive celestial beings from which one and one s loved ones had to be defended as well as the multitude of protective beings such as angels

Hispanojewish Archaeology (2 vols.) Alexander Bar-Magen Numhauser, 2021-05-25 In Hispanojewish Archaeology Alexander Bar Magen Numhauser provides the first book length archaeological exploration of the Jewish presence in late antique and early medieval Hispania Using epigraphic numismatic architectural and other archaeological remains this volume describes the multiple cultural expressions of a vibrant Jewish community that emerged as part of the Mediterranean Diaspora becoming part of the wider Hispanian society Part of this review includes a detailed examination of the Ilici Elche Spain basilical building interpreted by previous scholars as both a church and a synagogue using published and hitherto unpublished material of its decades long excavation From the archaeological remains of this Hispanojewish presence a new picture emerges challenging the traditional premises of the archaeological research on the late antique western Jews in Byzantium Robert Bonfil, 2011-10-14 Byzantine Jews Dialectics of Minority and Majority Cultures Mediterranean is the collective product of a three year research group convened under the auspices of Scholion Interdisciplinary Research Center in Jewish Studies at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem The volume provides both a survey and an analysis of the social and cultural history of Byzantine Jewry from its inception until the fifteenth century within the wider context of the Damgatum - Number 19 (2023) Jorge Cano Moreno, 2023-12-31 Damgatum is a journal dedicated to Byzantine world the history and archaeology of the Near East oriented to the general public Christian Archaeology in the Negev Desert Pau Figueras, 2014-04-24T00:00:00+02:00 Negev the southern desert that covers more than two thirds of the Holy Land is terra incognita to most Christian pilgrims who visit Israel Some journey as far south as Eilat to visit the traditional site of Mt Sinai but even these travellers usually have no idea that the Negev desert is also worthy of their interest They are unaware that that desert is rich in history and archaeological remains from its Christian period that is from the mid fourth century to the end of the seventh century The book is divided into eleven chapters In Chapter One the author discuss the Nabataean history of the Negev and the Roman annexation of the region The final chapter reviews the Muslim invasion of the southern desert in the seventh century C E and how this impacted the Christian population there finally causing its disappearance Chapters Two to Ten deal with each of the major Byzantine settlements that have been excavated offering a full record of the discoveries concerning Christian archaeology together with pertinent references to ancient texts and local inscriptions A
