McMillan, Cyrus Hamlin, 1987-01 Approaches to Teaching World Literature 14 El-Hi Textbooks in Print, 1979 Books in Print, 1977 The Cambridge Paperback Guide to Theatre Sarah Stanton, Martin Banham, 1996-03-07 Derived from The Cambridge guide to theatre_ Paperbound Books in Print, 1975 Elgar Encyclopedia of Political Anthropology Arpad Szakolczai, Paul O'Connor, 2025-09-10 This Encyclopedia explores the anthropological underpinnings of politics Featuring biographical entries that reconstruct the life works of key theorists from across the globe alongside topical entries on a range of issues in political anthropology it poses the question what does it mean to be human in contemporary times Steward of a Living Tradition John Sullivan, 2025-05-05 This book explores what is entailed in serving as a steward of the living tradition of the Christian faith in the world of education It examines tradition as a resource leadership education as a spiritual endeavor curriculum and Christian learning and the task of connecting tradition to culture John Sullivan engages with historical perspectives and contemporary professional and cultural realities in addressing intellectual and spiritual dimensions of Christian education and the endeavor to make tradition both accessible and meaningful to those for whom it is unfamiliar Themes pervading the book include fostering a critical appreciation for and a creative appropriation of the living tradition of Christianity fluency and flexibility in sharing that tradition vocation and vulnerability and a striving for interconnectedness and integration in teaching and learning at school and university Introducing a New Economics Jack Reardon, Maria Alejandra Caporale Madi, Molly Scott Cato, 2017-11-20 Introducing a New Economics is a groundbreaking textbook that heralds a revolution in the teaching of economics Students and lecturers alike are rejecting the narrow curricula and lack of intellectual diversity that characterise the mainstream They demand that the real world should be brought back into the classroom insisting that this is the only way to confront the current crisis With a firm commitment to theoretical methodological and disciplinary pluralism the renowned authors of this book challenge the current hegemony head on This unique textbook reflects a new ethos of economics education highlighting sustainability and justice in its discussion of work employment power capital markets money and debt This volume is a work of progressive heterodox economics that will set the standard for years to come Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature Vol 2 R. Reginald, Mary A. Burgess, Douglas Menville, 2010-09-01 Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature A Checklist 1700 1974 Volume Two of Two contains Contemporary Science Fiction Authors II The Guide to Catholic Literature Walter Romig, 1965 Human Movement and Motor Control in the Natural Environment Peter A Federolf, Maurice Mohr, Thorsten Stein, Gert-Jan Pepping, Steven van Andel, Gillian Weir, 2023-06-08 The basic understanding of human movement and control of human movement stems largely from laboratory measurements where human movement can be quantified with high precision and accuracy but where the artificial environment compromises ecological validity A good example for this issue was demonstrated in a recent investigation specifically that the walking gait pattern of healthy individuals in a laboratory changed as a function of how many researchers were present during the experiment. Observations like these underscore that study volunteers adapt their behavior to the specific laboratory environment and warrant the question of how well we can transfer our lab based understanding of gait patterns and the underlying neuromuscular control system to walking during daily living. Another research area where lab based movement assessments have led to conflicting findings is the field of sports injury prevention. Many neuromuscular training programs have been shown to be effective in reducing the sport injury rate in athletes by 30-50% or more in a variety of different multi directional sports. Nevertheless, lab based assessments of the same athletes who completed those training programs were often not able to detect improvements in motor control of sport specific movements or a reduction in joint loading, two factors thought to be closely linked with sport injury risk. This disconnect suggests that lab based assessments of movement and motor control are often poor indicators of player behavior during real game scenarios and may limit our ability to screen athletes for injury risk or monitor their progress in rehabilitation. These examples highlight that we should strive for the assessment and investigation of human movement and motor control in natural environments, i.e. where individuals, patients, athletes, or other groups of interest perform, explore, and interact under real world conditions.

Terrains of Imagination in Contemporary Finnish

Literature Sarianna Kankkunen, 2024-12-24. This study examines experienced space in Maarit Verronen's works of prose fiction. The study aligns itself with the contemporary approach often referred to as spatial literary studies, a movement connected to the spatial turn within the humanities. Theoretically, the study draws on multiple fields of spatial studies, from semiotics of space to critical theory and poststructuralism. By providing a categorization of different approaches within spatial literary studies, the study promotes literary studies that utilize spatial theory and explores how spatial concepts can be effectively used as tools for close reading. Since the study aims to provide a longitudinal section of Verronen's oeuvre, the selected material spans the author's early works from the 1990s to the late 2000s. The corpus involves six novels and two short stories. The analysis begins with the fantastic realms of Verronen's early career, proceeds to consider wilderness and wild spaces, turns to visions of dystopic futures, and concludes in the narratives of homecoming and homesteading. The study shows that Verronen's fantasy draws its allegorical potential from the juxtaposition of spatialized binary semantic oppositions. By analyzing Verronen's dystopian novels, the study unravels the spatial nature of the genre and the critical potential it encompasses. Verronen's narratives on wilderness are approached through the notion of spatial practices and in the context of alienation and postpastoralism. Finally, the analysis on the literary homes and the acts of homesteading in Verronen's novels foregrounds the open, connected, and inclusive nature of the contemporary notion of home and new forms of attachment to place, both of which are under an active debate in spatial literary studies. By bringing together spatial literary studies and Verronen's works, this research adds to the study of Finnish literature and contemporary literature's emphasis on space, spatiality, and environmental issues. Moreover, the study contributes to the knowledge on the genres of fantasy and dystopia as well as to the study of classic literary tropes and their contemporary manifestations As the study contextualizes Verronen s works within Nordic and European literatures it draws attention to the thematic and stylistic connections that link her writing to broader literary trends and traditions Books in Print Supplement ,1988 The Oxford Companion to the Book: Essays ; A-C Michael F.
