Aquaculture Development:

Aquaculture Development and Economics Ann Townsend Young, 1993 Aquaculture development Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, These guidelines aim to support current and prospective entrepreneurs and investors by outlining essential steps to help them determine whether to invest or continue investing in aquaculture In addition the guidelines provide prospective entrepreneurs and investors a list of actions they could take to secure the funding necessary to establish maintain and operate sustainable aquaculture farms as successful businesses Additionally the guidelines also provide examples of measures that governments banks and other financial institutions could take to enable or enhance private entrepreneurship and investment flow in sustainable aquaculture Aquaculture Development and Research in Sub-Saharan Africa A. G. Coche, Boyd A. Haight, Michel M. J. Vincke, 1994-01-01 Aquaculture Development and Economics, January 1979 - January 1990 Deborah T. Hanfman, 1990 Regional Review on Status and Trends in Aquaculture Development in Europe - 2015 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-05-31 FAO Fisheries and Aquaculture Circulars Aquaculture is recognized as having the potential to boost growth and jobs in coastal and inland areas in Europe Policies such as the Blue Growth strategy the reformed Common Fisheries Policy CFP and the Baltic Sea Region Strategy highlight aquaculture as a key component in achieving economic growth However challenges remain including the lack of a coherent national aquaculture policy Regional review on status and trends in aquaculture development in Latin America and the Caribbean - 2020 Wurmman, C. Soto, D., Norambuena, R., 2022-01-06 This document reviews the development of the aquaculture industry in the Latin America and the Caribbean region over the past decade In 2018 aquaculture production in the region amounted to an estimated 3.1 million tonnes of aquatic products excluding seaweeds worth USD 17.2 billion at first sale This food sector is vastly concentrated in a few countries with the combined output from Brazil Chile Colombia Ecuador and Mexico representing over 85 percent of the total regional production Atlantic salmon rainbow trout tilapia whiteleg shrimp and the Chilean mussel collectively contributed 80.4 percent and 85.9 percent of the regional production by volume and value respectively Marine aquaculture has been the dominant production environment in the region for the past two decades accounting for 70.1 percent of the farmed output in 2018 Production models vary widely with a concentration of large scale companies in Chile while primarily small and or medium size operations in Brazil Peru and several other countries Introduced species remain top on the list among those farmed such as tilapia and the different salmonids both of which have contributed to local livelihoods and employment Tilapia farming has contributed significantly to food security in many countries of the region while the largest proportion of farmed salmon have been destined to the export markets Production prospects remain promising however the industry requires in general better governance the adoption at all levels of appropriate technologies and best practices and renewed efforts to guarantee environmental sustainability and social acceptance as well as competitiveness and foresight to deal with climate and market changes The small island developing states SIDS face additional challenges including limited expertise high production costs poor seed supplies as well as extreme and destructive weather events The report discusses issues that require wider regional attention for the aquaculture sector to grow Key recommendations focus on governance related improvements highlighting the need for solid sectoral development plans support policies and effective rules and regulations The promotion of a stronger cooperation among the countries in the region as well as further afield on technical matters species diversification and equal support to small and large scale farming operation are identified as key elements to foster investment and help the region gain a solid position among world aquatic food producers

Aquaculture Development in China Nathanaël

Hishamunda, Rohana P. Subasinghe, 2003-01-01 This report was prepared within the framework of the FAO Fisheries Department's continued efforts to contribute to poverty alleviation and hunger reduction in developing countries through aquaculture development It seeks to analyse the reasons and factors especially the role of public sector policies which were behind aquaculture development in China The aim is to make the Chinese experience available to other parts of the world especially developing countries to enable these countries to evaluate ways whereby they could benefit from this experience of sustainable and lucrative aquaculture practices The report discusses valuable lessons that can be learned from the Chinese experience
