NONFICTION BOOK OF THE YEAR 2018 The islands off the coast of Ireland have long been a source of fascination Seen as repositories of an ancient Irish culture and the epitome of Irish romanticism they have attracted generations of scholars artists and filmmakers from James Joyce to Robert O Flaherty looking for a way of life uncontaminated by modernity or materialism But the reality for islanders has been a lot more complex They faced poverty hardship and official hostility even while being expected to preserve an ancient culture and way of life Writing in her 1936 autobiography Peig Sayers resident of Blaskets island described it as this dreadful rock In 1841 there were 211 inhabited islands with a combined population of 38 000 by 2011 only 64 islands were inhabited with a total population of 8 500 And younger generations continue to leave By documenting the island experiences and the social cultural and political reaction to them over the last 100 years On the Edge examines why this exodus has happened and the gulf between the rhetoric that elevated island life and the reality of the political hostility towards them It uncovers through state and private archives personal memoirs newspaper coverage and the author's personal travels the realities behind the dreadful rocks and the significance of the experiences of and reactions to those who were and remain literally on the very edge of European civilisation A Song for Mary Dennis Smith,1999-06-12 year correspondence from Wilson Tong of the New Zealand Expeditionary Force to Edith Harris at Phillip Island inspired the author to create this rich and unusual memoir written as she came to terms with a diagnosis of cancer As the author replies to the long dead soldier's letters links and parallels emerge between the young man living with the fear of death and the woman 80 years later facing her own death in middle age She reflects on her life particularly her childhood on Phillip Island her work and her own confrontation with mortality Collecting Music in the Aran Islands Deirdre Ní Chonghaile,2021-07-27 Collecting Music in the Aran Islands a critical historiographical study of the practice of documenting
