Aranmen All:

Aranmen All Tom O'Flaherty,1991 Stories bringing to life the Aran Islands of Ireland Dominated by the sea with all of its treasures and dangers Farming in Modern Irish Literature Nicholas Grene,2021 Explores the various ways in which the farm and farming have been represented in Irish writing in the period of Independence and Partition after 1922 Five Irish Writers John Hildebidle,1989 Liam O Flaherty Kate O'Brien Elizabeth Bowen Sean O Faolain and Frank O'Connor as Hildebidle demonstrates all five authors saw in the Ireland that grew out of the events of 1916 1923 a nation that stifled the creative energies and bright hopes of its youth and their fiction can be seen as responding in diverse ways to that reality

New Perspectives on the Irish Diaspora Charles Fanning,2000 In New Perspectives on the Irish Diaspora Charles Fanning incorporates eighteen fresh perspectives on the Irish diaspora over three centuries and around the globe He enlists scholarly tools from the disciplines of history sociology literary criticism folklore and culture studies to present a collection of writings about the Irish diaspora of great variety and depth Gaelic Prose in the Irish Free State Philip O'Leary,2010-07-01 This is an authoritative account of the a major but neglected aspect of the Irish cultural renaissance prose literature of the Gaelic Revival The period following the War of Independence and Civil War saw an outpouring of book length works in Irish from the state publishing agency An Gúm The frequency and production of new plays both original and translated have never been approached since This book investigates all of these works as well as journalism and manuscript material and discusses them in a lively and often humorous manner Publisher description A Companion to the British and Irish Short Story David Malcolm,Cheryl Alexander Malcolm,2009-01-30 A Companion to the British and Irish Short Story provides a comprehensive treatment of short fiction writing and chronicles its development in Britain and Ireland from 1880 to the present Provides a comprehensive treatment of the short story in Britain and Ireland as it developed over the period 1880 to the present Includes essays on topics and genres as well as on individual texts and authors Comprises chapters on women's writing Irish fiction gay and lesbian writing and short fiction by immigrants to Britain Coastal Works Nicholas Allen,Nick Groom,Jos Smith,2017 In all the complex cultural history of the islands of Britain and Ireland the idea of the coast as a significant representative space is critical For many important artists coastal space has figured as a site from which to braid ideas of empire nation region and archipelago They have been drawn to the coast as a zone of geographical uncertainty in which the self definitions of the nation founder they have been drawn to it as a peripheral space of vestigial wildness of island retreats and experimental living as a network of diverse localities richly endowed with distinctive forms of cultural heritage and as a dynamically interconnected ecosystem which is at the same time the historic site of significant developments in fieldwork and natural science This collection situates these cultures of the Atlantic edge in a series of essays that create new contexts for coastal study in literary history and criticism The contributors frame their research in response to emerging conversations in archipelagic criticism the blue humanities and island studies the essays challenging the reader to reconsider ideas of margin periphery and exchange These twelve case studies establish the coast as a crucial location in the imaginative history of Britain Ireland and the north Atlantic edge Coastal Works will appeal to readers of literature and history with an interest in the sea the environment and the archipelago from the 18th century to the present Accessible innovative and provocative Coastal Works establishes the important role that the coast plays in our cultural imaginary and suggests a range of methodologies to represent relationships between land sea and cultural work The Oxford History of the Irish Book, Volume V Clare Hutton,Patrick Walsh,2011-06-23 Part of a series providing an authoritative history of the book in Ireland this volume comprehensively outlines the history of 20th century Irish book culture This book embraces all the written and printed traditions and heritages of Ireland and places them in the global context of a worldwide interest in book histories

Classics and Irish Politics, 1916-2016 Isabelle Torrance,Donncha O'Rourke,2020 This interdisciplinary collection written by experts in their fields addresses how models from ancient Greece and Rome have permeated Irish political discourse in the century since 1916 Topics covered include the reception and rejection of classical culture in Ireland and the politics of Irish language engagement with Greek and Roman models History's Erratics David M. Emmons,2024-10-22 As Ice Age glaciers left behind erratics so the external forces of history tumbled the Irish into America Existing both out of time and out of space a diverse range of these Roman Catholic immigrants saw their new country in a much different way than did the Protestants who settled and claimed it These erratics chose backward looking tradition and independence over assimilation and embraced a quintessentially Irish form of subversiveness that arose from their culture faith and working class outlook David M Emmons draws on decades of research and thought to plumb the mismatch of values between Protestant Americans hostile to Roman Catholicism and the Catholic Irish strangers among them Joining ethnicity and faith to social class Emmons explores the unique form of dissidence that arose when Catholic Irish workers and their sympathizers rejected the beliefs and symbols of American capitalism A vibrant and original tour de force History's Erratics explores the ancestral roots of Irish nonconformity and defiance in America Alfred Cort Haddon Ciarán Walsh,2023-09-15 An innovative account of one of the least understood characters in the history of anthropology Using previously overlooked primary sources Ciarán Walsh argues that Haddon the grandson of anti slavery activists set out to revolutionize anthropology in the 1890s in association with a network of anarcho utopian activists and philosophers He regards most of what has been written about Haddon in the past as a form of disciplinary folklore shaped by a theory of scientific revolutions The main action takes place in Ireland where Haddon adopted the persona of a very English savage in a new form of performed photo ethnography that constituted a singularly modernist achievement in anthropology From the Introduction Alfred Cort Haddon was written out of the story of anthropology for the same reasons that make him interesting today He was passionately committed to the protection of simpler societies and their civilisations from colonists and their supporters in parliament and the armed forces Hotel Lux Maurice J Casey,2024-08-29 Shortlisted for the Irish Book Awards 2024 History Book of the

Year Hotel Lux is an unforgettable book bringing to life not only its protagonists but an entire world and offering a new glimpse of a vanished past Sally Rooney If affection is the first ground of memory the archive is its late flowering and Hotel Lux its conservatory Casey s history a tender nurture of pasts we overlook but which whisper to us all the same Irish Times Hotel Lux follows Irish radical May O Callaghan and her friends three revolutionary families brought together by their vision for a communist future and their time spent in the Comintern s Moscow living quarters the Hotel Lux Historian Maurice Casey reveals the connections and disconnections of a group of forgotten communist activists whose lives collided in 1920s Moscow a brilliant Irish translator a maverick author the rebel daughters of an East London Jewish family and a family of determined German anti fascists The dramatic and interlocking histories of the O Flahertys Cohens and Leonhards offer an intimate insight into the legacies of the Russian Revolution from its earliest idealism through to the brutal Stalinist purges and beyond Hotel Lux uncovers a world of forgotten radicals who saw their hopes and dreams crash against reality yet retained their faith in a beautiful future for all Culminating in a queer love story that saw the daughters of the Cohens and Leonhards create an enduring partnership even as their parents political visions crumbled this is a multi generational rebel odyssey and a history of international communism one which looks as much to the future as it does to the past Liam

O'Flaherty James Howard O'Brien,1973 Environmental Archaeology in Ireland Eileen M. Murphy,Nicki J. Whitehouse,2007-10-10 This edited volume of 16 papers provides an introduction to the techniques and methodologies approaches and potential of environmental archaeology within Ireland Each of the 16 invited contributions focuses on a particular aspect of environmental archaeology and include such specialist areas as radiocarbon dating dendrochronology palaeoentomology human osteoarchaeology palynology and geoarchaeology thereby providing a comprehensive overview of environmental archaeology within an Irish context The inclusion of pertinent case studies within each chapter will heighten awareness of the profusion of high standard environmental archaeological research that is currently being undertaken on Irish material The book will provide a key text for students and practitioners of archaeology archaeological science and palaeoecology Framing the Environmental Humanities ,2018-07-17 The concept of framing has long intrigued and troubled scholars in fields including philosophy rhetoric media studies and literary criticism But framing also has rich implications for environmental debate urging us to reconsider how we understand the relationship between humans and their ecological environment culture and nature The contributors to this wide ranging volume use the concept of framing to engage with key questions in environmental literature history politics film TV and pedagogy In so doing they show that framing can serve as a valuable analytical tool connecting different academic discourses within the emergent interdisciplinary field of the environmental humanities No less importantly they demonstrate how increased awareness of framing strategies and framing effects can help us move society in a more sustainable direction Synge and Edwardian Ireland Brian Cliff,Nicholas Grene,2012 This book uses J M Synge s plays prose and photography to explore the cultural life of Edwardian Ireland By emphasizing less familiar contexts including the rise of a local celebrity culture the arts and crafts movement and Irish classical music it shows how Irish folk culture intersected with the new networks of mass communication

Aran of the Saints Patrick Power,1935 Stones of Aran Tom Robbins,2016-08-08 Stones of Aran Pilgrimage is as Robert Macfarlane says in his introduction one of the most sustained intensive and imaginative studies of a place that has ever been carried out That place is one of the most mysterious and oldest inhabited landscapes in the world the islands of Aran off the west coast of Ireland Tim Robinson s epic exploration of the desolate storm lashed limestone rocks which have already haunted generations of Irish writers takes the form of a clockwise journey around the coast Every cliff inlet and headland reveals layers of myth and historical memory and Robinson makes beautifully crafted observations about the habits of birds plants and the humans who lived there and endured leaving records in stone on the walls cairns and ancient forts in story and in oral tradition Synge Nicholas Grene,1985-06-18 Modern Irish Poetry: A New Alhambra Frank Sewell,2001-01-25 Recently chapters on individual Irish language authors have formed part of publications regarding modern Irish art and culture in general Such chapters are welcome but they have excited the curiosity of readers to the degree that longer more detailed works are now required to put writing in Irish into perspective In this study of four modern poets two each from two generations Sewell attempts to illustrate not only the accumulative but the transformative nature of tradition Chapters 1 and 2 turn from the mid 20th century master Se n Riord in to the contemporary poet Cathal Searcaigh because the comparison and contrast highlights significant aspects of the amazing development of Irish poetry and indeed society in the period Here importantly the word development is meant in a neutral way the image used is that of a zig zag movement in the pattern of the continuing Irish tradition Chapter 3 returns to the slightly earlier major Irish language poet M irt n Dire in In doing so it returns home from the internationalism of the previous chapter on Searcaigh to Ireland a major focus and concern for the more solely traditionalist Dire in This switch back in time geography social mores or outlook fits and illustrates Sewell s concept of the zig zag movement of a country s culture as it proceeds from generation to generation The positioning therefore has a thematic purpose The fourth and final chapter focuses on the contemporary poet Nuala N Dhomhnaill who has managed to synthesise tradition and modernity central concerns of this book and who in doing so has become the current trail blazer of Irish poetry in either language
