Archaeologies Of The Contemporary Past:

Archaeologies of the Contemporary Past Victor Buchli, Gavin Lucas, 2001 The Contributors to this volume represent the most recent research in this exciting new field This new archaeology gives a crucial understanding of the experience of modernity and the communities it continues to affect

Archaeologies of the Contemporary Past Victor Buchli, Gavin Lucas, 2002-01-04 Archaeologies of the Contemporary Past turns what is usually seen as a method for investigating the distant past onto the present In doing so it reveals fresh ways of looking both at ourselves and modern society as well as the discipline of archaeology This volume represents the most recent research in this area and examines a variety of contexts including Art Deco landfills miner strikes college fraternities an abandoned council house

An Archaeology of the Contemporary Era Alfredo Gonzalez-Ruibal, 2024-09-04 The second edition of An Archaeology of the Contemporary Era explores the period between the late nineteenth and twenty first centuries and reflects on the archaeological theory and practice of the recent past This book argues that the materiality of our times and particularly its ruins and rubbish reveals something profound and disturbing about modern societies It examines the political ethical aesthetic and epistemological foundations of contemporary archaeology and characterizes the excess of the contemporary period through its material traces This book remains the first attempt at describing the contemporary era from an archaeological point of view Global in scope the book brings together case studies from every continent and considers sources from peripheral and rarely considered traditions meanwhile engaging in interdisciplinary dialogue with philosophy anthropology history and geography This new edition includes the latest developments in the field both methodological and theoretical and adds new and exciting case studies to engage students It also covers some of the most pressing issues of the present as they are being addressed by archaeologists such as pandemics the antiracist movement the global rise of reactionary populism the ecological crisis and climate change An Archaeology of the Contemporary Era is essential reading for students and practitioners of the contemporary past historical archaeology and archaeological theory It will also be of interest to anybody concerned with globalization modernity and the Anthropocene

After Modernity Rodney Harrison, John Schofield, 2010-07-22 This book summarizes archaeological approaches to the contemporary past and suggests a new agenda for the archaeology of late modern societies The principal focus is the archaeology of developed de industrialized societies during the second half of the twentieth century and the beginning of the twenty first This period encompasses the end of the Cold War and the beginning of the internet age a period which sits firmly within what we would recognize to be a period of lived and living memory Rodney Harrison and John Schofield explore how archaeology can inform the study of this time period and the study of our own society through detailed case studies and an in depth summary of the existing literature Their book draws together cross disciplinary perspectives on contemporary material culture studies and develops a new agenda for the study of the materiality of late modern societies

The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of the Contemporary World Paul

Graves-Brown, Rodney Harrison, Angela Piccini, 2013-10 This Handbook is the first comprehensive survey of a rapidly expanding sub field in archaeology the study of the present and recent past It seeks to explore the boundaries of this emerging area to develop a tool kit of concepts and methods which are applicable to this new sub field and to suggest important future trajectories for research An Archaeology of the Contemporary Era Alfredo González Ruibal, 2019 An archaeology of the contemporary era Ruins Politics Ethics Aesthetics Time Space Materiality Conclusion Archaeology Matters Jeremy A Sabloff, 2016-06-16 Senior archaeologist Jeremy Sabloff points students to ways in which archaeology is can be relevant to the understanding and amelioration of modern problems Archaeology, History, Philosophy and Heritage Christine Williamson, Penny Crook, 2025-04-15 This festschrift volume celebrates Tim Murray s significant and wide ranging contribution to archaeological thought and practice It includes 27 papers by Tim Murray s colleagues research collaborators and students former and current Together these comprise a substantive and reflective contribution to Archaeology History Philosophy and Cultural Heritage in Australia Oceania China India the United Kingdom Northern Europe and North America The collected papers in this volume tie together Murray s research into the history or historiography of archaeological thought and his commitment to understanding the material culture of the past to write history They provide a cross section of philosophical enquiries and substantive research from epistemological studies of shared lexicons and important debates in the history of archaeological thought to the minutiae of material culture studies Several papers explicitly and implicitly explore one of Murray s great interests the role of heritage preservation in our exploration of the past including dedicated tertiary training programs for Indigenous Australians to manage research and protect their own Country The book is divided into four parts History Archaeology Philosophy and Heritage offering an interdisciplinary approach to the study of the past This volume would be of interest to archaeologists historians philosophers of archaeology and heritage scholars Archaeologies of Internment Adrian Myers, Gabriel Moshenska, 2011-05-24 The internment of civilian and military prisoners became an increasingly common feature of conflicts in the twentieth century and into the twenty first Prison camps though often hastily constructed and just as quickly destroyed have left their marks in the archaeological record Due to both their temporary nature and their often sensitive political contexts places of internment present a unique challenge to archaeologists and heritage managers As archaeologists have begun to explore the material remains of internment using a range of methods these interdisciplinary studies have demonstrated the potential to connect individual memories and historical debates to the fragmentary material remains Archaeologies of Internment brings together in one volume a range of methodological and theoretical approaches to this developing field The contributions are geographically and temporally diverse ranging from Second World War internment in Europe and the USA to prison islands of the Greek Civil War South African labor camps and the secret detention centers of the Argentinean Junta and the East German Stasi These studies have powerful social cultural political and emotive implications particularly in societies in which historical narratives of oppression and genocide have themselves been suppressed By repopulating the historical narratives with individuals and grounding them in the material remains it is hoped that they might become at least in some cases archaeologies of liberation The Oxford Handbook of Material Culture Studies Dan Hicks,Mary C. Beaudry,2010-09-02 Written by an international team of experts the Handbook makes accessible a full range of theoretical and applied approaches to the study of material culture and the place of materiality in social theory presenting current thinking about material culture from the fields of archaeology anthropology geography and science and technology studies The Archaeology of Burning Man Carolyn L. White,2020-04-15 Each August staff and volunteers begin to construct Black Rock City a temporary city located in the hostile and haunting Black Rock Desert of northwestern Nevada Every September nearly seventy thousand people occupy the city for Burning Man an event that creates the sixth largest population center in Nevada By mid September the infrastructure that supported the community is fully dismantled and by October the land on which the city lay is scrubbed of evidence of its existence The Archaeology of Burning Man examines this process of building occupation and destruction For nearly a decade Carolyn L White has employed archaeological methods to analyze the various aspects of life and community in and around Burning Man and Black Rock City With a syncretic approach this work in active site archaeology provides both a theoretical basis and a practical demonstration of the potential of this new field to reexamine the most fundamental conceptions in the social sciences After Modernity Rodney Harrison,Arthur John Schofield,2010 The authors explore how archaeology can inform the study of our own society and other late modern societies through detailed case studies and a summary of the existing literature They draw together cross disciplinary perspectives and develop a new agenda for the study of the materiality of contemporary societies The Archaeology of the Cold War Todd A. Hanson,2019-10-14 Although the United States and the Soviet Union never met in combat the Cold War and its looming threat of a nuclear apocalypse left a profound and permanent mark on North America s built environment Hanson uses cases studies from Bikini Atoll the Nevada Test Site and the NIKE Hercules Missile Battery Site in Alaska among others to synthesize the major methodological theoretical and substantive contributions to the field of Cold War archaeology and to consider the numerous economic political and cultural issues related to the preservation of Cold War heritage sites Provided by publisher Archaeologies of Totalitarianism, Authoritarianism, and Repression James Symonds,Pavel Vařeka,2020-08-19 This book offers new insights into the mechanisms of state control systematic repression and mass violence focused on ethnic political class and religious minorities in the recent past The geographical and temporal scope of the volume breaks new ground as international scholars foreground how contemporary archaeology can be used to enhance the documentation and interpretation of totalitarian and authoritarian regimes to advance theoretical approaches to atrocities and to broaden public understandings of how such regimes use violence and repression to hold on to power Archaeologies of Mobility and Movement Mary C Beaudry,Travis G. Parno,2013-02-06 This collection of essays in

Archaeologies of Mobility and Movement draws inspiration from current archaeological interest in the movement of individuals things and ideas in the recent past Movement is fundamentally concerned with the relationships among time object person and space The volume argues that understanding movement in the past requires a shift away from traditional fieldwork based archaeological ontologies towards fluid trajectory based studies Archaeology by its very nature locates objects frozen in space literally in their three dimensional matrices at sites that are often stripped of people An archaeology of movement must break away from this stasis and cut new pathways that trace the boundary crossing contextuality inherent in object person mobility Essays in this volume build on these new approaches confronting issues of movement from a variety of perspectives They are divided into four sections based on how the act of moving is framed The groups into which these chapters are placed are not meant to be unyielding or definitive The first section Objects in Motion includes case studies that follow the paths of material culture and its interactions with groups of people The second section of this volume People in Motion features chapters that explore the shifting material traces of human mobility Chapters in the third section of this book Movement through Spaces illustrate the effects that particular spaces have on the people and objects who pass through them Finally there is an afterward that cohesively addresses the issue of studying movement in the recent past At the heart of Archaeologies of Mobility and Movement is a concern with the hybridity of people and things affordances of objects and spaces contemporary heritage issues and the effects of movement on archaeological subjects in the recent and contemporary past

Shadow Archaeologies Assaf Nativ, Gavin Lucas, 2025-07-31 Shadow Archaeologies explores the modes of knowledge production which operate where the light of mainstream historically oriented archaeology does not reach It exposes the field's underbelly and dwells on issues that standard practice ignores or glosses over questioning what archaeology and the archaeological are or could be The volume brings together scholars working at the discipline's theoretical cutting edge to challenge mainstream archaeology in various ways They engage with the political dimensions of the discipline's mode of production develop alternate practices and conceive of other manifestations of the archaeological object thus illuminating various ways in which the concept of shadow archaeology can be articulated After an introduction by the editors the volume is organised into three parts which address from different angles the politics practices and objects of an archaeology that resides in the shadow of antiquity While the book will appeal to any archaeologist with an interest in theory it is also a challenge to all archaeologists to reflect on their discipline and their own working practices and an invitation to join in the discussion about what archaeology might become

Contemporary Archaeologies Cornelius Holtorf, Angela Piccini, 2011 This book is about the archaeology of the present and the very recent past Archaeology's repertoire of questions procedures methodologies and terminologies its material manifestations protected sites public museums archives and its popular appeals are rooted in modernity Contemporary archaeologies marry archaeology in the modern world with the archaeology of the modern world Their strengths lie in a stimulating mix of interdisciplinary practices across academic public sector and professional contexts This book brings together a wide variety of original case studies from contemporary theme parks to the bases of Antarctica expeditions from a rocket engine test site in Australia to Swedish automobile history from tiger enclosures to the privatisation of experience and from a Nevada peace camp to a stretch of gutter in Bristol

Interpreting the Early Modern World Mary C. Beaudry, James Symonds, 2010-10-20 Interpretive archaeology meaning the interpretation social science as opposed to hard science of archaeology and archaeological artifacts has predominantly been the realm of prehistoric archaeologists Many historical archaeologists are participating in this disciplinary shift from processualism to post processualism and interpretation but to date few have called their work interpretive archaeology This volume is based on a session at the Society for Historical Archaeology meeting in 2005 The organizers now editors brought together historical archaeologists from both the UK and the US working in the same areas industrial landscape monuments etc but because of their country based training their work arises out of differing intellectual traditions The chapters in each section do not stand in isolation rather the authors exchange ideas about what each other has written They construct dialogues about theories and practices that inform interpretive archaeology on either side of the Atlantic ends with commentary by two well known names in interpretive archaeology in the UK and in the States

Homeless Heritage Rachael Kiddey, 2017 Homeless Heritage describes the process of using archaeological methodologies to collaboratively document how contemporary homeless people use and experience the city Drawing on fieldwork undertaken in Bristol and York the book first describes the way in which archaeological methods and theory have come to be usefully applied to the contemporary world before exploring the historical development of the concept of homelessness Working with homeless people the author undertook surveys and two excavations of contemporary homeless sites and the team co curated two public heritage exhibitions with surprising results Complementing a growing body of literature that details how collaborative and participatory heritage projects can give voice to marginalised groups Homeless Heritage details what it means to be homeless in twenty

Sentient Archaeologies Courtney Nimura, Rebecca O'Sullivan, Richard Bradley, 2023-07-15 Archaeology in the past century has seen a major shift from theoretical frameworks that treat the remains of past societies as static snapshots of particular moments in time to interpretations that prioritize change and variability Though established analytical concepts such as typology remain key parts of the archaeologist's investigative toolkit data gathering strategies and interpretative frameworks have become infused progressively with the concept that archaeology is living in the sense of both the objects of study and the discipline as a whole The significance for the field is that researchers across the world are integrating ideas informed by relational epistemologies and mutually constructive ontologies into their work from the initial stage of project design all the way down to post excavation interpretation This volume showcases examples of such work highlighting the utility of these ideas to exploring material both old and new The illuminating research and novel explanations presented contribute to resolving long standing problems in regional archaeologies across Africa Asia Australia Europe and Oceania In this way this volume reinvigorates approaches taken towards older material but also acts as a springboard for future innovative discussions of theory in archaeology and related disciplines
