Archaeology And Text:

Archaeology and Text John Moreland, 2001-07-12 Drawing upon recent work in theoretical archaeology and on case studies from the prehistoric Near East medieval Europe early modern North America and Mesoamerica John Moreland challenges many of the assumptions which have hitherto underpinned archaeological research in historic periods arguing that we will only fully understand these pasts when we begin to appreciate the historically specific ways in which both documents and artefacts were activated in the reproduction and transformation of power and identity A concluding chapter warns that any contribution these arguments may make to the better understanding of the historical past will be negated if we fail to appreciate the very real dangers posed to all the peoples of the past by the recent linguistic turn in both disciplines

Archaeology and Text John Moreland, 2001 Re-constructing Archaeology Michael Shanks, Christopher Tilley, 2016-09-17 In Re Constructing Archaeology Shanks and Tilley aim to challenge the disciplinary practices of both traditional and the new archaeology and to present a radical alternative a critically self conscious archaeology aware of itself as practice in the present and equally a social archaeology that appreciates artefacts not merely as objects of analysis but as part of a social world of past and present that is charged with meaning It is a fresh and invigorating contribution to the emergence of a philosophically and politically informed archaeology

Archaeologies of Text Matthew T. Rutz, Morag Kersel, 2014-12-30 Scholars working in a number of disciplines archaeologists classicists epigraphers papyrologists Assyriologists Egyptologists Mayanists philologists and ancient historians of all stripes routinely engage with ancient textual sources that are either material remains from the archaeological record or historical products of other connections between the ancient world and our own Examining the archaeology text nexus from multiple perspectives contributors to this volume discuss current theoretical and practical problems that have grown out of their work at the boundary of the division between archaeology and the study of early inscriptions In 12 representative case studies drawn from research in Asia Africa the Mediterranean and Mesoamerica scholars use various lenses to critically examine the interface between archaeology and the study of ancient texts rethink the fragmentation of their various specialized disciplines and illustrate the best in current approaches to contextual analysis The collection of essays also highlights recent trends in the development of documentation and dissemination technologies engages with the ethical and intellectual quandaries presented by ancient inscriptions that lack archaeological context and sets out to find profitable future directions for interdisciplinary research

E-Learning Methodologies and Computer Applications in Archaeology Politis, Dionysios, 2008-04-30 Tools of data comparison and analysis are critical in the field of archaeology and the integration of technological advancements such as geographic information systems intelligent systems and virtual reality reconstructions with the teaching of archaeology is crucial to the effective utilization of resources in the field E Learning Methodologies and Computer Applications in Archaeology presents innovative instructional approaches for archaeological e learning based on networked technologies providing researchers scholars and professionals a comprehensive global perspective on the resources development application and implications of information communication technology in multimedia based educational products and services in archaeology Interpretive Archaeology Julian Thomas,2001-01-01 New forms of archaeology are emerging which position the discipline firmly within the social and cultural sciences These approaches have been described as post processual or interpretive archaeology and draw on a range of traditions of enquiry in the humanities from Marxism and critical theory to hermeneutics feminism queer theory phenomenology and post colonial thinking This volume gathers together a series of the canonical statements which have defined an interpretive archaeology Many of these have been unavailable for some while and others are drawn from inaccessible publications In addition a number of key articles are included which are drawn from other disciplines but which have been influential and widely cited within archaeology The collection is put into context by an editorial introduction and thematic notes for each section

Archaeology After Structuralism Ian Bapty,Tim Yates,2014-10-24 Most practising archaeologists have preferred to leave the deep theories of what lies behind their methods and perceptions on one side Now archaeologists have faced up to the difficult task of making or not making the connections between the past interpretation and the present The writers of this volumes address the problems of archaeology sometimes warily and sometimes with enthusiasm The connections are not easy to accomplish a great deal of theory seems of little relevance to the everyday practice of archaeology and much of post structuralism refers exclusively back to itself rather than to the more specific concerns of a historical discipline But where the junction between post structuralism and archaeology can be made the results are innovative and enriching Originally published in 1990 A Dictionary of Archaeology Ian Shaw,Robert Jameson,2008-04-15 This dictionary provides those studying or working in archaeology with a complete reference to the field Sharing Archaeology Peter Stone,Zhao Hui,2014-08-13 As a discipline Archaeology has developed rapidly over the last half century The increase in so called public archaeology with its wide range of television programming community projects newspaper articles and enhanced site based interpretation has taken archaeology from a closed academic discipline of interest to a tiny minority to a topic of increasing interest to the general public This book explores how archaeologists share information with specialists from other disciplines working within archaeology other archaeologists and a range of non specialist groups It emphasises that to adequately address contemporary levels of interest in their subject archaeologists must work alongside and trust experts with an array of different skills and specializations Drawing on case studies from eleven countries Sharing Archaeology explores a wide range of issues raised as the result of archaeologists communication both within and outside the discipline Examining best practice with wider implications and uses beyond the specified case studies the chapters in this book raise questions as well as answers provoking a critical evaluation of how best to interact with varied audiences and enhance sharing of archaeology

Discourse and Argumentation in Archaeology: Conceptual and Computational Approaches Cesar Gonzalez-Perez,Patricia

Martin-Rodilla, Martín Pereira-Fariña, 2023-11-03 This book covers the topic of discourse and argumentation in archaeology with an aim to serve the archaeology community The book presents discourse and argument analysis approaches and techniques in an affordable manner and applied to archaeological situations It focuses on techniques and approaches that can be applicable to multiple situations periods and cultures The book begins with an introduction to discourse and argumentation analysis as a general field and also as an auxiliary technique to archaeology The work includes conceptual applications ranging from causality ontological connections vagueness social production of discourse and public debates The work also devotes a section to computational approaches and describes the specifics of some well known families of algorithms such as lexical processing information extraction or sentiment analysis The conclusion comments on the future and which reflects on the previous chapters and discusses how the presented techniques and approaches should be adapted or improved for easier and more powerful application to archaeology Contributing authors bring perspectives from archaeology linguistics and computer science Methods in the Mediterranean David Small, 2018-07-17 This collection of essays treats the fundamental issue of the correlation of archaeology and texts in recreating the ancient Mediterranean world Contributions from Classical and Near Eastern archaeologists and historians address specific points of correlation and their potential for future productive research in the Mediterranean After an introduction to the issue of texts and archaeology the essays treat concepts such as site as text artifactual contingency of meaning correlating survey with documents contextual independence of evidence textual bases for archaeological approaches and correlating faunal evidence with texts This book will be of important use to archaeologists and historians of the Mediterranean and scholars of archaeological research in historical archaeology in general Israel in Transition: The Texts Lester L. Grabbe, 2008-06 For more than a decade the European Seminar in Historical Methodology has debated the history of ancient Israel The really seminal period one of great debates over a number of different topics is the four centuries between the Late Bronze II and Iron IIA This book covers the Seminar session devoted entirely to archaeology Between Artifacts and Texts Anders Andrén, 2013-06-29 This is the first truly global survey of the relationship between artifacts and texts from historiographical methodological and analytical perspectives It analyzes the crucial relationship between material culture and writing in ancient societies employing examples from twelve major disciplines in historical archaeology and summarizing their role in five global methodological approaches It is valuable reading for advanced undergraduate students and instructors in any historical archaeological subject Interpretative Archaeology Christopher Tilley, 2020-05-26 This fascinating volume integrates recent developments in anthropological and sociological theory with a series of detailed studies of prehistoric material culture The authors explore the manner in which semiotic hermeneutic Marxist and post structuralist approaches radically alter our understanding of the past and provide a series of innovative studies of key areas of interest to archaeologists and anthropologists The "God of Israel" in History and Tradition Michael J. Stahl, 2021-03-22 In The God of Israel in History and Tradition Michael Stahl provides a foundational study of the formulaic title god of Israel elohe yisra el in the Hebrew Bible Employing critical theory on social power and identity and through close literary and historical analysis Dr Stahl shows how the epithet god of Israel evolved to serve different social and political agendas throughout the course of ancient Israel and Judah s histories Reaching beyond the field of Biblical Studies Dr Stahl s treatment of the historical and ideological significances of the title god of Israel in the Hebrew Bible offers a fruitful case study into the larger issue of the ways in which religion may shape and be shaped by social and political structures “And in Length of Days Understanding”

(Job 12:12) Erez Ben-Yosef,Ian W. N. Jones,2023-08-01 This two volume book presents cutting edge archaeological research primarily as practiced in the Eastern Mediterranean region These volumes key foci are inspired by the work of Thomas E Levy Volume 1 provides an in depth look at new archaeological research in the southern Levant primarily in modern Israel and Jordan inspired by Levy s commitment to understanding social political and economic processes in a long term or deep time perspective Volume 2 focuses on new research in several key areas of 21st century anthropological archaeology and archaeological science Volume 1 is organized around two major themes 1 the later prehistory of the southern Levant or the Neolithic Chalcolithic and Bronze Age and 2 new research in biblical archaeology or the historical archaeology of the Iron Age Each section contains a combination of new perspectives on key debates and studies introducing new research questions and directions Volume 2 is organized around five major themes 1 the archaeology of the Faynan copper ore district of southern Jordan a key region for archaeometallurgical research in West Asia where Levy conducted field research for over a decade 2 new research in archaeometallurgy beyond the Faynan region 3 marine and maritime archaeology focusing on issues of trade and environmental change 4 cyber archaeology an important 21st century field Levy conceived as the marriage of archaeology engineering computer science and the natural sciences and 5 key issues in anthropological archaeological theory In addition to presenting the reader with an up to date view of research in each of these areas the volume also has chapters exploring the connections between these themes e g the maritime trade of metals and cyber digital archaeological approaches to metallurgy The work contains contributions from both up and coming early career researchers and key established figures in their fields This book is an essential reference for archaeologists and scholars in related disciplines working in the southern Levant and the Eastern Mediterranean Practicing Archaeology Thomas W.

Neumann,Robert M. Sanford,2009-10-16 This book is an excellent reference tool for consulting firms contractors graduate students and others who need to know the nuts and bolts of professional archaeology Anthony Giddens Christopher G. A. Bryant,David Jary,1997 Anthony Giddens has made original contributions to the fields of social theory political sociology the sociology of stratifications suicide This set includes carefully selected secondary articles which bring out the scope of his work Re-Presenting the Past Sheila Bonde,Stephen Houston,2013-07-01 The archaeological past exists for us through intermediaries Some are written works descriptions narratives and field notes while others are visual the drawings paintings photographs powerpoints or computer visualizations that allow us to re present past forms of human existence This volume brings together nine papers six of which were presented at a symposium hosted at Brown University Two papers explore the classical past and medieval visualizations Three treat the Maya and one considers the imaging by eighteenth century antiquarians of British history yet another ranges broadly in its historical considerations Several consider the trajectory over time of visualization and self imaging Others engage with issues of recording by looking for example at the ways in which nineteenth century excavation photographs can aid in the reconstruction of an inscription or by evaluating the process of mapping a site with ArcGIS and computer animation software All essays raise key questions about the function of re presentations of the past in current archaeological practice Archaeology of Northwestern Venezuela Alfred Kidder, 1944
