Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy Timothy D. Hoyt,2017-07-05 Military Industry and Regional Defense Policy re examines military industrialization in the developing world focusing on policy making in producer states and the impact of security perceptions on such policy making Timothy D Hoyt reassesses the role of regional state sub systems in international relations and recent historical studies of international technology and arms transfers Looking at Israel Iraq and India the three most powerful regional powers in the Cold War era he presents an expert analysis of the three sided phenomena of the regional hegemony the regional competitor and the small over achiever This new book breaks away from existing literature on military industries in the developing world which has focused on their economic and development costs and benefits

These past studies have used primitive methodologies that focus on the production of complete weapons systems a misleading gauge in a world of growing international defense cooperation They have also ignored empirical evidence of the impact of local military industrial production on Cold War regional conflict and of the defence planning and concerns that drove development of indigenous military industries in key regional powers This new text delivers an incisive new perspective Towards a Brave New Arms Industry? Richard Bitzinger,2014-08-27 In the post Cold War era most countries have been forced to radically reduce their arms industries and abandoned self sufficiency in favour of a subordinate role in an increasingly globalized worldwide defence industry This has significant implications for the future of armaments production for proliferation and for arms control Weapons Proliferation and World Order Brad Roberts,2023-09-29

With the end of the Cold War the subject of weapons proliferation has acquired new interest and prominence So too have questions about the nature of the world order that will succeed the structure of the last fifty years This study explores the connections among these topics It describes the prevailing conceptual model of nuclear proliferation evaluates proliferation s changing technical features considers economic and political factors bearing on its future rate and character and speculates about proliferation s implications on the post cold war world order It also considers the role of international public policy in meeting proliferation s challenges Arguing that updated approaches are needed the analysis emphasizes cooperative over coercive approaches to order It concludes with an assessment of progress to date in meeting these new challenges arguing that the new agenda is only slowly coming into focus The Economics of the Global Defence Industry Keith Hartley,Jean

Belin,2019-11-08 This book makes an original contribution to our knowledge of the world s major defence industries Experts from a wide range of different countries from the major economies of North America and Western Europe to developing economies and some unique cases such as China India Singapore South Africa and North Korea describe and analyse the structure conduct and performance of the defence industry in that country Each chapter opens with statistics on a key nation s defence spending its spending on defence R D and on procurement over the period 1980 to 2017 allowing for an analysis of industry changes following the end of the Cold War After the facts of each industry the authors describe and analyse the structure conduct and performance of the industry The analysis of structure includes discussions of entry conditions domestic monopoly oligopoly structures and opportunities for competition The section on conduct analyses price non price competition including private and state funded R D and performance incorporates profitability imports and exports together with spin offs and technical progress The conclusion explores the future prospects for each nation s defence industry Do defence industries have a future What might the future defence firm and industry look like in 50 years time This volume is a vital resource and reference for anyone interested in defence economics industrial economics international relations strategic studies and public procurement Trade in Conventional Weapons United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Governmental Affairs. Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations,1991 Arming Asia Richard Bitzinger,2016-12-19 Bitzinger examines the phenomenon of attempted self reliance in arms production within Asia and assesses the extent of success in balancing this independence with the growing requirements of next generation weapons systems He analyzes China India Japan South Korea and Southeast Asia The overarching question in the book is whether self reliance is a strategically viable solution for development and manufacturing of arms Given the ever changing dynamics and increasing demand for sophisticated next generation weaponry will these countries be able to individually sustain their domestic defense industries and constantly update their technologies This is the first book to analyze arms production from a regional perspective Books from National Defense University Press National Defense University Press, American Alliance Policy in the Middle East, 1945-1992 John P. Miglietta,2002-01-01 American Alliance Policy in the Middle East provides a stimulating new look at a U S Cold War foreign policy gripped by anticommunist paranoia Through case studies of America s relationships with Iran Israel and Saudi Arabia John P Miglietta reveals how an overriding fear of global communism led to the overcommitment of U S security resources to the region The perceived need to preserve Middle East stability rendered U S policy ineffectual and unresponsive to changing local conditions drastically altering the patron client paradigm to the detriment of American strategic interests This superb analysis of American foreign policymaking illustrates how Cold War anticommunist ideology prevented the evolution of traditional military alliances into broader based relationships and perpetuated authoritarian regimes that mired the Middle East in a cycle of poverty and despotism National Defense and Security United States. Superintendent of Documents,1990 Rethinking National Security Frances Scott,1990 U.S. Government Books ,1987 The Global Spread Of Arms Frederic S Pearson,2018-02-19 This book surveys the broad terrain covered by the concept of the security dilemma and points out landmarks along the route proceeding from proliferation to economic interests showing that the arms trade is built into development of both industrial technology and political competition Special Bibliography Series ,1957 Arms Transfer Limitations and Third World Security

Thomas Ohlson, 1988 Is the arms trade totally uncontrolled? What are the main obstacles to limitations on arms transfers? What can be learned from past attempts at arms transfer control? This book which completes SIPRI's trilogy on the facts and implications of Third World build up of major conventional weapons assesses past efforts, current proposals and future possibilities to limit the transfer of weapons and military technology to Third World countries. It is a companion to the two SIPRI volumes Arms Production in the Third World 1986 and Arms Transfers to the Third World 1971-85 OUP 1987 Arms Unbound David Musington, 1994 Special Bibliography Series United States Air Force Academy Library, 1990

The special topic chapter this year will examine defence industrial partnerships involving regional and extra-regional powers in the Asia Pacific as well as their aims and challenges. The other five chapters cover the following topics: The second Trump administration's redrawing of the international security landscape; Japan's concerns over the growing ties between China, North Korea and Russia; Emerging underwater security trends in the Asia Pacific; Military cyber maturity in the Asia Pacific; Southeast Asia's uninhabited aerial vehicle capability developments Landmines Physicians for Human Rights (U.S.), 1993 10 The future of Landmines
