Art And Film:

The Art of Film Terry Ackland-Snow, 2022-03-24 Tim Burton came in and commented Great but how do they get in the car There aren't any doors Sadly I hadn't thought of that What do On Her Majesty's Secret Service 2001 A Space Odyssey and The Great Muppet Caper have in common Terry Ackland Snow worked on them that's what In The Art of Film Terry lifts the lid on his extraordinary career from being held hostage by a wannabe film crew in Jamaica to forgetting to add doors to the Batmobile It is an insight into a lifetime of working in the film industry mixing the amusing anecdotes with revelations about just how the magic in these movies was created With over 200 images including set sketches and design plans this is a book no film aficionado should be without

Film Art David Bordwell, Kristin Thompson, 1993 This introduction to film art explains the techniques specific to film as a medium discusses the principles by which entire films are constructed and explores how these techniques and formal principles have changed over the history of moviemaking Frame enlargements are used to illuminate concepts and there is information on the latest film technology such as the computer and special effects used in shooting Jurassic Park This edition includes a new chapter dealing with types of films and the concept of genre and there is also a new section on The New Hollywood and independent film making In addition there is a new appendix on selected Internet reference sites in film from the World Wide Web

Film as Art Rudolf Arnheim, 1957 More than half a century since its initial publication this deceptively compact book remains among the most incisive analyses of the formal and perceptual dynamics of cinema No one who cares about film can afford to remain ignorant of its insights and wisdom As digital technology fundamentally alters motion pictures the lessons of Film as Art commend themselves as excellent insurance against reinventing the wheel in the new media landscape and hailing it as progress Edward Dimendberg author of Film Noir and the Spaces of Modernity After more than eight decades Rudolph Arnheim's small book of film theory remains one of the essential works in defining film art understanding film less as reproducing the world than as opening up new possibilities for formal play and unexpected imagery Anyone serious about film whether scholar filmmaker or simply a lover of cinema must take Arnheim seriously Tom Gunning author of The Films of Fritz Lang and D W Griffith and the Origins of American Narrative Film An aesthetic theory based on the formal limitations of the medium Arnheim's Film as Art always provokes students in an age of few limits and less formality and they argue and engage this classic text with unparalleled passion Written in the wake of sound's transformation of the cinema Arnheim's essays are not only central to understanding a major historical moment in theoretical debates about what constitutes the essence of film but also are a must read for anyone seeking a lucid detailed and rigorous argument about how works of art emerge from expressive constraint as much as expressive freedom Vivian Sobchack author of Carnal Thoughts

Extreme Cinema Mattias Frey,2016-03-15 Received an Honorable Mention for the 2017 British Association of Film Television and Screen Studies BAFTSS Best Monograph Award From Shortbus to Shame and from Oldboy to Irreversible film festival premieres regularly make international headlines for their shockingly graphic depictions of sex and violence Film critics and scholars alike often regard these movies as the work of visionary auteurs hailing directors like Michael Haneke and Lars von Trier as heirs to a tradition of transgressive art In this provocative new book Mattias Frey offers a very different perspective on these films exposing how they are also calculated products designed to achieve global notoriety in a competitive marketplace Paying close attention to the discourses employed by film critics distributors and filmmakers themselves Extreme Cinema examines the various tightropes that must be walked when selling transgressive art films to discerning audiences distinguishing them from generic horror pornography and Hollywood product while simultaneously hyping their salacious content Deftly tracing the links between the local and the global Frey also shows how the directors and distributors of extreme art house fare from both Europe and East Asia have significant incentives to exaggerate the exotic elements that would differentiate them from Anglo American product Extreme Cinema also includes original interviews with the programmers of several leading international film festivals and with niche distributors and exhibitors giving readers a revealing look at how these institutions enjoy a symbiotic relationship with the taboo breakers of art house cinema Frey also demonstrates how these apparently transgressive films actually operate within a strict set of codes and conventions carefully calibrated to perpetuate a media industry that fuels itself on provocation

Adaptation and the New Art Film William H. Mooney,2021-04-21 Since the 1990s the expropriation of canonical works of cinema has been a fundamental dimension of art film exploration Rainer Werner Fassbinder provides an early model of open adaptation of film classics followed ever more boldly by the Coen Brothers Chantal Akerman Alex Carax Todd Haynes Florian Henckel von Donnersmarck Baz Luhrmann and Olivier Assayas This book devotes chapters to each of these directors to examine how their films redeploy landmark precursors such as City Lights 1931 Citizen Kane 1941 Rome Open City 1945 All About Eve 1950 and Vertigo 1958 in order to probe our psychological philosophical and historical situations in a postmodern soci t du spectacle In broadly diverse ways each of these directors complicates received notions of the past and its representation while probing the transformative media evolution and dislocation of the present in film art and in society
