Alan Partridge Every Ruddy Word:

Alan Partridge Steve Coogan, Peter Baynham, Patrick Marber, Armando Iannucci, 2004-11 Alan Partridge is Britain's most remarkable broadcaster. He's scaled the giddy heights of a short-lived TV chat show and the crashing lows of twenty-six weeks in a motel equidistant between Norwich and London. He's survived the death of a guest on air, his wife leaving him for a fitness instructor, an encounter with a mentalist fan being crushed beneath a dead cow, and incomplete sex with a woman he was supposed to be sacking. He's suffered a breakdown, Toblerone addiction, weight gain, and his autobiography Bouncing Back being withdrawn and pulped. But Alan continues to bounce back. Resilience and Gordon are his middle names. He's still playing his eclectic mix of music and hosting phone-ins on subjects as controversial as 'Should the police learn Kung Fu' and 'How long could you survive on just crisps'. Alan Partridge Every Ruddy Word charts Alan's incredible journey from his first unforgettable radio chat show to the recent construction of a house to his own specifications. Why don't you join him? Join him!

Alan Partridge Steve Coogan, 2003 Through a combination of naked ambition, selfishness, and insensitivity, Alan Partridge made himself the man he is. But it wasn't always easy. Clinically fed up, but he bounced back to somewhere close to where he was before, but less high profile. He's enjoyed everything a life in broadcasting has to offer and encountered mentalists, scary Irishmen, lady boys, Scotch eggs, Mick Hucknall, and rejection along the way. Life On Air, 2008-09-25 Radio Four has been described as the greatest broadcasting channel in the world, the heartbeat of the BBC, a cultural icon of Britishness, and the voice of Middle England. Defined by its rich mix encompassing everything from journalism and drama to comedy, quizzes, and short stories, its programmes such as Today, The Archers, Woman's Hour, The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy, Gardeners' Question Time, and The Shipping Forecast have been part of British life for decades. Others, less successful, have caused offence and prompted derision. Born as it was in the Swinging Sixties, Radio Four's central challenge has been to change with the times while trying not to lose faith with those who see it as a standard bearer for quality, authoritativeness, or simply old-fashioned BBC values. In this first major behind-the-scenes account of the station's history, David Hendy, a former producer for Radio Four, draws on privileged access to the BBC's own archives and new interviews with key personnel to illuminate the arguments and controversies behind the creation of some of its most popular programmes. He reveals the station's struggle to justify itself in a television age favouring clear branding and tightly targeted audiences, with bitter disputes between the BBC and its fiercely loyal listeners. The story of these struggles is about more than the survival of one radio network; Radio Four has been a lightning rod for all sorts of wider social anxieties over the past forty years. A kaleidoscopic view of the changing nature of the BBC, the book provides a gripping insight into the very nature of British life and culture in the last decades of the twentieth century. Afterlives of Abandoned Work Matthew Harle, 2018-12-27 Afterlives of Abandoned Work considers the relevance of unfinished projects to literary history and criticism, looking beyond famous posthumous work to investigate the abandoned everyday, from scrapped plans and rejected ideas to half-written novels or unfinished artistic works It traces how the reading of abandoned creative endeavor whether arriving in the form of a rejection letter a disagreement with a collaborator or the simple act of walking away from one's desk can change the way we think about cultural production the creative process and the intellectual construction of everyday life Over five distinct journeys through a variety of archives from major research libraries to the unique collections of individual enthusiasts Matthew Harle draws surprising connections between literary studies media studies and visual arts exploring unfinished projects from Thomas Pynchon Muriel Spark B S Johnson Harold Pinter and others Rooted in literary criticism Afterlives of Abandoned Work reads unbuilt buildings unfilmed screenplays and unpublished novels and radio sketches as forms of text that can help us consider the enduring fragmentation and anecdotal construction of cultural form as well as expand literary criticism's approach to the archive
