Alchemy the Golden Art Andrea De Pascalis,1995      Sexual Culture in the Literature of Medieval Britain Amanda Hopkins,Robert Allen Rouse,Cory Rushton,2014 An examination into aspects of the sexual as depicted in a variety of medieval texts from Chaucer and Malory to romance and alchemical treatises      The Black Sun Stanton Marlan,2008-05-08 Also available in an open access full text edition at <http://oaktrust.library.tamu.edu/handle/1969.1/86080> The black sun an ages old image of the darkness in individual lives and in life itself has not been treated hospitably in the modern world Modern psychology has seen darkness primarily as a negative force something to move through and beyond but it actually has an intrinsic importance to the human psyche In this book Jungian analyst Stanton Marlan reexamines the paradoxical image of the black sun and the meaning of darkness in Western culture In the image of the black sun Marlan finds the hint of a darkness that shines He draws upon his clinical experiences and on a wide range of literature and art including Goethe s Faust Dante s Inferno the black art of Rothko and Reinhardt to explore the influence of light and shadow on the fundamental structures of modern thought as well as the contemporary practice of analysis He shows that the black sun accompanies not only the most negative of psychic experiences but also the most sublime resonating with the mystical experience of negative theology the Kabbalah the Buddhist notions of the void and the black light of the Sufi Mystics An important contribution to the understanding of alchemical psychology this book draws on a postmodern sensibility to develop an original understanding of the black sun It offers insight into modernity the act of imagination and the work of analysis in understanding depression trauma and transformation of the soul Marlan s original reflections help us to explore the unknown darkness conventionally called the Self The image of Kali appearing in the color insert following page 44 is Maitreya Bowen reproduced with her permission maitreyabowen@yahoo.com      Chemical History Gerrylyn K Roberts,Colin A Russell,2007-10-31 This book provides an historical overview of the recent developments in the history of diverse fields within chemistry It follows on from Recent Developments in the History of Chemistry a volume published in 1985 Covering chiefly the last 20 years the primary aim of Chemical History Reviews of the Recent Literature is to familiarise newcomers to the history of chemistry with some of the more important developments in the field Starting with a general introduction and look at the early history of chemistry subsequent chapters go on to investigate the traditional areas of chemistry physical organic inorganic alongside analytical chemistry physical organic chemistry medical chemistry and biochemistry and instruments and apparatus Topics such as industrial chemistry and chemistry in national contexts whilst not featuring as separate chapters are woven throughout the content Each chapter is written by experts and is extensively referenced to the international chemical literature Chemical History Reviews of the Recent Literature is also ideal for chemists who wish to become familiar with historical aspects of their work In addition it will appeal to a wider audience interested in the history of chemistry as it draws together historical materials that are widely scattered throughout the chemical literature

Pataphysica 2 Faustroll,2004 In the great tradition of Nicolas Flamel and Fulcanelli the immortal Dr Faustroll returns to introduce this collection of writings on alchemy that secret science no less mystifying and marvelous than our own art and science pataphysics Opening this anthology is Part 1 of Alfred Jarry's delightful last novel La Dragonne 1907 translated from the French as The She Dragon and annotated to highlight some of Jarry's many alchemical allusions Jarry's comic genius brings to life the inhabitants of a little town in the mountains of Savoy focusing on gaming activities at and around the local tavern and an oddly militaristic expectant father Seven additional writers present their research or reflections on subjects as diverse as Chaucer's Canon's Yeoman's Tale the bizarre Voynich Manuscript Gustave Kahn's Tale of Gold and Silence turn of the 20th century South African statesman Paul Kruger whose portrait bust appears on the Kruggerand and symbolic dismemberment two of these contributors present their work in poetic form one of them seemingly cursed by alchemy however benevolently the other positing seven easy steps to completion of the Great Work Perhaps you will find yourself entwined somewhere in between like Mercury's caduceus For all pataphysicians alchemists and symbolists welcome to the other world

Sense-Making Sheryl Boyle, Genevieve Collins, David Howes, 2025-08-22 In this highly innovative work the senses are liberated from the confines of the present to serve as vehicles for accessing other historical periods and imagined futures Sense Making builds on the burgeoning field of sensory ethnography by introducing a pair of methodologies sensory reconstruction and sensorial extrapolation expressly devised to facilitate time travel The first part offers a survey and critique of extant work in sensory archeology and sensory futures The second part presents a case study of sensory reconstruction in action focusing on Thornbury Castle 1508-1521 in the UK The third part probes the life of the senses on the final frontier the next habitat of humanity namely outer space These sensory case studies are not purely architectural or purely futuristic They are at the same time exercises in arts based practice or research creation where the authors do not just carry out bibliographic research and write about pasts and futures they make them Sense Making is necessary reading for the international community of sensory studies scholars as well as those with interests spanning material culture museum and heritage studies visual and auditory culture experimental psychology design and digital technology

Prophecy and Public Affairs in Later Medieval England Lesley Ann Coote, 2000 The nature of political prophecy in the middle ages analysed confirming its importance in the discussion of public affairs In this first general survey of political prophecy in medieval England for almost a hundred years Lesley Coote examines the nature of political prophecy its audience and its reception She compares the discourse of prophecy with other related discourses and demonstrates how it functioned as a political language A study of extant manuscripts produces an account of the importance of political prophecy in later medieval England from its emergence in the twelfth century to the end of the middle ages What emerges from this study is a political language which was neither peripheral to English political consciousness nor merely a game for intellectuals but a major language for the discussion of public affairs In this language were presented ideas of Englishness and the aspirations of a national community which included the imminent revelation of a great crusading hero ruler a second Arthur who would lead his people into the Last Days The book is completed with a handlist of manuscripts containing political prophecies Dr LESLEY A COOTE is a Research Fellow in the Department of English at the University of Hull Valuable research tool Handlist of manuscripts containing political prophecies Florilegium ,2000 Intersections of Sexuality and the Divine in Medieval Culture Susannah Chewning,2017-03-02 As distinct from the many recent collections and studies of medieval literature and culture that have focused on gender and sexuality as their major themes this collection considers and serves to re think and re situate religion and sexuality together Including traditional works such as Chaucer and the Pearl poet as well as less well known and studied texts such as alchemical texts and the Wohunge group the contributors here focus on the meeting point of these two often examined concepts They seek an understanding of where sex and religion distinguish themselves from one another and where they do not This volume locates the Divine and the Erotic within the continuum of experience and devotion that characterize the paradox of the medieval world Not merely original in their approaches these authors seek a new vision of how these two inter connected themes sexuality and the Divine meet connect distinguish themselves and merge within medieval life language and literature A Manual of the Writings in Middle English, 1050-1500 ,1998
