A Fine Tuning Mary A. Maleski, 1989      Poetic Priesthood in the Seventeenth Century Tessie Prakas, 2022-07-28 Poetic Priesthood reads seventeenth century devotional verse as staging a surprising competition between poetry and the established church The work of John Donne George Herbert Richard Crashaw John Milton and Thomas Traherne suggests that the demands of faith are better understood by poets than by priests even while four of these authors were also ordained While recent scholarship has tended to emphasize the shaping influence of the liturgy on the poetry of this period this book argues that verse instead presents readers with a mode of articulating piety that relies on formal experimentation and that varies from the forms of the church rather than straightforwardly reproducing them In crafting this poetic aid to devotion these authors practiced an alternative and even more ample form of ministry than in their ecclesiastical activities In the wake of the Reformation the liturgy of the English church centered on rituals of communal prayer and praise but the poetry considered in this study suggests that such rituals in fact risk distracting worshippers from the pleasures and challenges of navigating an individual relationship with God Yet these poets do not make this suggestion by rejecting communal rituals outright Their verse invokes ecclesiastical practice as a basis for formal innovation that suggests how intimacy with the divine might look feel and sound connecting humans with their God more precisely and more individually than the liturgy can As they shift between explicit comment on the liturgy and more subtle departures from it in the interplay of verse form and denotation these authors claim the work of priesthood for poetry      Doctrine and Devotion in Seventeenth-century Poetry R. V. Young, 2000 English devotional poets of 17c set in a wider European and Catholic context      Ceremony and Community from Herbert to Milton Achsah Guibbory, 2006-11-23 This book examines the relationship between literature and religious conflict in seventeenth century England showing how literary texts grew out of and addressed the contemporary controversy over ceremonial worship Examining the meaning and function of religion in seventeenth century England Achsah Guibbory shows that the conflicts over religious ceremony that were central to the English Revolution had broad cultural significance She offers new and original readings of Herbert Herrick Browne and Milton in this context      The Variorum Edition of the Poetry of John Donne, Volume 7, Part 1 John Donne, Gary A. Stringer, Paul A. Parrish, 2005-12-01 Praise for previous volumes This variorum edition will be the basis of all future Donne scholarship Chronicle This is the 4th volume of The Variorum Edition of the Poetry of John Donne to appear This volume presents a newly edited critical text of the Holy Sonnets and a comprehensive digest of the critical scholarly commentary on them from Donne's time through 1995 The editors identify and print both an earlier and a revised authorial sequence of sonnets as well as presenting the scribal collection which contains unique authorial versions of several of the sonnets inscribed by Donne's friend Rowland Woodward in the Westmoreland manuscript      Poetry and Music in Seventeenth-Century England Diane Kelsey McColley, 1997-12-11 This study explores the relationship between the poetic language of Donne Herbert Milton and other British poets and the choral music and part songs of composers including Tallis Byrd Gibbons Weelkes and Tomkins The seventeenth century was the time in English literary history when music was most consciously linked to words and when the mingling of Renaissance and new philosophy opened new discovery routes for the interpretation of art McColley offers close readings of poems and the musical settings of analogous texts and discusses the philosophy performance and disputed political and ecclesiastical implications of polyphony She also enters into the discourse about the nature of language relating poets use of language and composers use of music to larger questions concerning the arts politics and theology A George Herbert Companion

Aesthetics of the Passion Erin Henriksen, 2009-11-23 Scholarship on Milton's view of God the Father and the Son has focused on the author's theological beliefs For Milton these are equally artistic questions and to address them this study considers the precedents in Christian art that provide models for portraying the divine within a reformed context Milton's revision of the passion tradition in his short poems of 1645 and his later epic poems substitutes a living obedient and subservient Son in place of late medieval representations of the crucifixion His alternative passion unfolds through a poetic vocabulary of fragmentation omission and restoration drawing on iconoclasm as an artistic strategy This study addresses the long standing question about Milton's avoidance of the crucifixion and contributes to the broader study of his reformed poetics The Pulse of Praise Julia Carolyn Guernsey, 1999 Guernsey draws on D W Winnicott's object relations model which focuses on self development in a relational context to illuminate various senses of self and Other that Herbert's poems express discursively and formally The book will appeal not only to Herbert scholars and other Renaissance critics but also to audiences interested in psychoanalysis and how it relates to literature religion culture and poetics BOOK JACKET

Classical Myths and Legends in the Middle Ages and Renaissance H. David Brumble, 1998-02 While numerous classical dictionaries identify the figures and tales of Greek and Roman mythology this reference book explains the allegorical significance attached to the myths by Medieval and Renaissance authors Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries for the gods goddesses heroes heroines and places of classical myth and legend Each entry includes a brief account of the myth with reference to the Greek and Latin sources The entry then discusses how Medieval and Renaissance commentators interpreted the myth and how poets dramatists and artists employed the allegory in their art Each entry includes a bibliography and the volume concludes with appendices and an extensive bibliography of primary and secondary sources      Generosity and the Limits of Authority William Flesch, 2018-10-18 Generosity is an ambiguous quality William Flesch observes while receiving gifts is pleasant gift giving both displays the wealth and strength of the giver and places the receiver under an obligation In provocative new readings of Shakespeare Herbert and Milton Flesch illuminates the personal authority that is bound inextricably with acts of generosity Drawing on the work of such theorists as Mauss Blanchot Bourdieu Wittgenstein Bloom Cavell and Greenblatt Flesch maintains that the literary power of Shakespeare Herbert and Milton is at its most intense when they are exploring the limits of generosity He considers how in Herbert's Temple divine assurance of the possibility of redemption is put into question and how the poet approaches such a gift with the ambivalence of a beneficiary In his readings of Shakespeare's Richard II Henry IV King Lear Antony and Cleopatra and the sonnets Flesch examines the perspective of the benefactor including Shakespeare himself who confronts the decline of his capacity to give Turning to Milton's Paradise Lost Flesch identifies two opposing ways of understanding generosity Satan's on the one hand and Adam and Eve's on the other and elaborates the different conceptions of poetry to which these understandings give rise Scholars of Shakespeare and of Renaissance culture Miltonists literary theorists and others interested in the relationship between philosophy and literature will want to read this insightful and challenging book

Shakespeare and his Contemporaries Eric Langley, 2009-11-12 The subjects of this book are the subjects whose subjects are themselves Narcissus so himself himself forsook And died to kiss his shadow in the brook In accusing the introspective Adonis of narcissistic self absorption Shakespeare's Venus employs a generative construction himself himself that provides a keynote for this study of Renaissance reflexive subjectivity Through close analysis of a number of Shakespearean texts including Venus and Adonis Romeo and Juliet Julius Caesar Hamlet and Othello his book illustrates how radical self reflection is expressed on the Renaissance page and stage and how representations of the two seemingly extreme figures of the narcissist and self slaughterer are indicative of early modern attitudes to introspection Encompassing a broad range of philosophical theological poetic and dramatic texts this study examines period descriptions of the early modern subject characterised by the rhetoric of reciprocation and reflection The narcissist and the self slaughter provide models of dialogic but self destructive identity where private interiority is articulated in terms of self response but where this generative isolation is understood as self defeating both selfish and suicidal The study includes work on Renaissance revisions of Ovid classical attitudes to suicide the rhetoric of friendship literature discussion of early modern optic theory and an extended discussion of narcissism in the epyllia tradition Sustained textual analysis offers new readings of major Shakespearean texts allowing familiar works of literature to be seen from the unusual and anti social perspectives of their narcissistic and suicidal protagonists The Poetics of Conversion in Early Modern English Literature Molly Murray,2009-10-15 This book considers the poetry written by converts between Catholic and Protestant churches within post Reformation England Dreams of the Burning Child David Lee Miller,2018-07-05 In Dreams of the Burning Child David Lee Miller explores the uncanny persistence of filial sacrifice as a motif in English literature and its classical and biblical antecedents He combines strikingly original reinterpretations of the Aeneid Hamlet The Winter s Tale and Dombey and Son with perceptive accounts of dreams found in memoirs poems and psychoanalytic texts Miller looks closely at the grisly fantasy of the sacrifice of sons as it is depicted in classical epic early modern drama the nineteenth century novel the postcolonial novel the lyric the funeral elegy sacred scriptures and psychoanalytic theory He also draws examples from painting sculpture photography and architecture into a witty and engaging discussion that ranges from the binding of Isaac to Chinua Achebe s Things Fall Apart and from questions of literary history to the dilemmas of patriarchal masculinity Form and Reform in Renaissance England Barbara Kiefer Lewalski,2000 Written by scholars on both sides of the Atlantic they reexamine the categories which have shaped recent studies of early modern culture and literature such as what constitutes the category of author or reader what demarcates a particular literary form and how its discursive shape might influence and in turn be influenced by contemporary political practices BOOK JACKET Renaissance Papers 2019 Rachel M. De Smith Roberts,2020-11-20 Sixty sixth annual volume taking in a range of topics relating to the literature of the period from the power of naming to Shakespeare and Spenser Herbert Margaret Tyler and Margaret Cavendish and Ben Jonson Conflicts of Devotion Daniel R. Gibbons,2017-03-30 Who will mourn with me Who will break bread with me Who is my neighbor In the wake of the religious reformations of the sixteenth century such questions called for a new approach to the communal religious rituals and verses that shaped and commemorated many of the brightest and darkest moments of English life In England new forms of religious writing emerged out of a deeply fractured spiritual community Conflicts of Devotion reshapes our understanding of the role that poetry played in the re formation of English community and shows us that understanding both the poetics of liturgy and the liturgical character of poetry is essential to comprehending the deep shifts in English spiritual attitudes and practices that occurred during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries The liturgical communitarian perspective of Conflicts of Devotion sheds new light on neglected texts and deepens our understanding of how major writers such as Edmund Spenser Robert Southwell and John Donne struggled to write their way out of the spiritual and social crises of the age of the Reformation It also sheds new light on the roles that poetry may play in negotiating and even overcoming religious conflict Attention to liturgical poetics allows us to see the broad spectrum of ways in which English poets forged new forms of spiritual community out of the very language of theological division This book will be of great interest to teachers and students of early modern poetry and of the various fields related to Reformation studies history politics and theology
