A Framework Of Portfolios For Freshman Composition And Beyond:

A Framework of Portfolios for Freshman Composition and Beyond D. J. Henry, 1999-07-01 Portfolios Across the Curriculum and Beyond Donna J. Cole, 2000 A valuable resource of the types and uses of portfolios for teachers and teacher educators Great examples and guidelines Robert J Drummond University of North Florida Make portfolios work without all the work Learn how to use portfolios to increase your level of performance in the classroom and improve student assessment This updated easy to read step by step guide to using portfolios incorporates current teaching practices and cutting edge technology Here is an alternative method of evaluating student work that is painless and effective Teachers want to spend more time teaching and less time assessing Traditional assessment practices are time consuming and too often don't reflect the total progress of a student Standardized testing tells us how well a student tests rather than how much a student has learned Portfolio assessment offers a more complete picture of your students progress and frees you to be more creative with your students It offers Clear objectives to guide you through each chapter Rationale for an alternative to traditional assessment practices Portfolio guidelines by grade and subject Up to the minute technology for enhancing portfolio implementation This new jam packed version of Portfolios Across the Curriculum and Beyond should be the definitive portfolio book on the market A valuable resource for teachers administrators and teacher educators Beyond the Beginnings Angela Carrasquillo, Stephen B. Kucer, Ruth Abrams, 2004-01-01 The book addresses the curricular instructional and assessment needs of upper grade elementary teachers who are struggling to promote literacy development in their English language learners These students have already been transitioned yet struggle with the increased literacy demands in the upper grades Beyond the Frontier Jill Dahlman, Piper Selden, 2015-10-05 Beyond the Frontier Innovations in First Year Composition is a compilation of the latest research in first year composition presented at and inspired by the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association's Beyond the Frontier panels The book is divided similarly into panels with the editors having collected a sampling of the composition practices that will stand the test of time The purpose of the book is to present the reader with innovative methods and techniques for incorporation into the first year composition classroom or simply to provide food for thought passing the torch as it were so that new research can be conducted and new findings disseminated The division of the book mimics the panels one would typically find on a particular day during the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association Conference providing the reader with a taste of what it's like to be in the room with first year composition scholars Writing Portfolios in the Classroom Robert Calfee, Pamela Perfumo, 2012-10-12 This volume presents chapters by researchers practitioners and policymakers who study the impact of classroom portfolios in the assessment of writing achievement by elementary and middle grade students The focus throughout the volume is on the tension between classroom assessment and externally mandated testing It presents the efforts of researchers practitioners and policymakers to understand the impact of classroom portfolios for the assessment of writing achievement by elementary and middle grade students Under the auspices of the Center for the Study of Writing the editors conducted a national survey of exemplary portfolio projects arranged for a series of video visits and held several working conferences The result of this work is a broad ranging tale the aspirations of teachers and administrators to move the machinery of schooling in the direction of more authentic and engaging tasks the puzzlement of students when they realize that the assignments are real and that the teacher may not have a right answer in mind and the tensions between ivory tower ideas and everyday classroom practice Divided into four sections this research volume provides a historical perspective develops the conceptual framework that serves as a background for many activities described throughout and discusses numerous practical issues that confront today s researchers and practitioners views the phenomenon of writing portfolios through a variety of broadview lenses such as teacher enthusiasm student reflection assessment tension the portfolio as metaphor and the locus of control conveys important conceptual issues with a balance toward pragmatics and offers unique insights from the perspective of one individual who serves as scholar researcher and teacher Beyond the Frontier, Volume II Jill Dahlman,Tammy Winner,2018-11-08 This collection of essays is a compilation of the latest research in first year composition including pedagogy praxis debate and assessment Originally begun as a collection of panel presentations from the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association annual conference it has since evolved to include innovative pedagogy regardless of presentation status The book is divided into presentation panels in order to present the reader with innovative pedagogy and thought provoking conversations concerning the first year classroom assessment and pedagogy It will benefit anyone who studies or engages with first year composition including graduate students instructors and administration Handbook of Adolescent Literacy Research Leila Christenbury,Randy Bomer,Peter Smagorinsky,2010-07-01 The first comprehensive research handbook of its kind this volume showcases innovative approaches to understanding adolescent literacy learning in a variety of settings Distinguished contributors examine how well adolescents are served by current instructional practices and highlight ways to translate research findings more effectively into sound teaching and policymaking The book explores social and cultural factors in adolescents approach to communication and response to instruction and sections address literacy both in and out of schools including literacy expectations in the contemporary workplace Detailed attention is given to issues of diversity and individual differences among learners Teaching L2 Composition Dana R. Ferris,John Hedgcock,2014 This popular comprehensive theory to practice text is designed to help teachers understand the task of writing L2 writers the different pedagogical models used in current composition teaching and reading writing connections Moving from general themes to specific pedagogical concerns it includes practice oriented chapters on the role of genre task construction course and lesson design writing assessment feedback error treatment and classroom language grammar vocabulary style instruction Although all topics are firmly grounded in relevant research a distinguishing feature of the text is the array of hands on practical examples materials and tasks that pre and in service teachers can use to develop the complex skills involved in teaching second language writing Each chapter includes Questions for Reflection Further Reading and Resources Reflection and Review and Application Activities An ideal text for L2 teacher preparation courses courses that include both L1 and L2 students and workshops for instructors of L2 writers in academic secondary and postsecondary settings the accessible synthesis of theory and research enables readers to see the relevance of the field's knowledge base to their own present or future classroom settings and student writers

Assessing Writing to Support Learning Sandra Murphy, Peggy O'Neill, 2022-11-08 In this book authors Murphy and O'Neill propose a new way forward moving away from high stakes test based writing assessment and the curriculum it generates and toward an approach to assessment that centers on student learning and success Reviewing the landscape of writing assessment and existing research based theories on writing the authors demonstrate how a test based approach to accountability and current practices have undermined effective teaching and learning of writing This book bridges the gap between real world writing that takes place in schools college and careers and the writing that students are asked to do in standardized writing assessments to offer a new ecological approach to writing assessment Murphy and O'Neill's new way forward turns accountability inside out to help teachers understand the role of formative assessments and assessment as inquiry It also brings the outside in by bridging the gap between authentic writing and writing assessment Through these two strands readers learn how assessment systems can be restructured to become better aligned with contemporary understandings of writing and with best practices in teaching With examples of assessments from elementary school through college chapters include guidance on designing assessments to address multiple kinds of writing integrate reading with writing and incorporate digital technology and multimodality Emphasizing the central role that teachers play in systemic reform the authors offer sample assessments developed with intensive teacher involvement that support learning and provide information for the evaluation of programs and schools This book is an essential resource for graduate students instructors scholars and policymakers in writing assessment composition and English education

Construction Versus Choice in Cognitive Measurement William C. Ward, Randy Elliot Bennett, 2012-10-12 This book brings together psychometric cognitive science policy and content domain perspectives on new approaches to educational assessment in particular constructed response performance testing and portfolio assessment These new assessment approaches a full range of alternatives to traditional multiple choice tests are useful in all types of large scale testing programs including educational admissions school accountability and placement This book's multidisciplinary perspective identifies the potential advantages and pitfalls of these new assessment forms as well as the critical research questions that must be addressed if these assessment methods are to benefit education

Pedagogic Innovation Beyond Disruption Laura Dison, Maria Prozesky, Ana Ferreira, Anthony A. Essien, Theresa Giorza, 2024-05-10 This collection which centres on the academic as teacher grew out of the moment of unprecedented change that COVID 19 brought to the world in 2020 when our daily routine of teaching and learning was disrupted Many of the chapters have a strongly narrative core recounting the iterative emergent and imperfect process of designing online courses for Emergency Remote Teaching ERT Told to and for other teachers these stories matter because they transform experience through reflection into learning This work thus contributes to emerging scholarship on pedagogy and disruption in higher education with a specific focus on the Global South and the ongoing need for contextually relevant transformative teaching at universities Animating the collection is the question that preoccupied us during the pandemic When all this is over how do you want your teaching to be different The authors take stock of what as lecturers we want to take with us from ERT and what we might want to leave behind and work to collectively imagine new possibilities for teaching and learning along the continuum from face to face to blended to fully online This volume is an opportunity for us to keep sharing our innovations and reflecting on the shifts in teaching learning course design and assessment practices that occurred during COVID 19 and continue to reverberate beyond Read together the studies collected in this volume shed light on the broad and complex ecologies of pedagogic agency frailty and resilience within which lecturers function as teachers in higher education in the South African context They offer ideas born out of disruption that aim to support lecturers in similar contexts in developing a more just and equitable higher education Of the hundreds of new publications on pedagogy politics and pandemics this is easily one of the best available on innovation in higher education inside and since the disruption of those times The power of reflection and the wisdom of practice combine to ensure the longevity of this remarkable text for university students teachers and researchers alike Simply outstanding work Prof Jonathan Jansen Distinguished Professor Stellenbosch University Pedagogic Innovation Beyond Disruption provides a fascinating reflective perspective by educators in higher education on adapting their practices to manage teaching and learning online during the pandemic The chapters in the book offer a rich tapestry of strategies and approaches that showcase how educators moved beyond a mere transfer of traditional teaching methods to an online format to ensure that their students remained engaged in their learning and felt cared for and supported online As such this book provides a thought provoking and comprehensive exploration of innovative teaching and learning possibilities in higher education during the unprecedented disruption of the pandemic conditions Dr Jennifer Feldman Faculty of Education Stellenbosch University

Information and Beyond: Part II Eli Cohen, Theoretical Foundations of Macroeconomic Policy Giovanni Di Bartolomeo, Enrico Saltari, 2016-07-15 The recent economic events driven by the great financial crisis of 2007 08 has challenged some dogma highlighting various limits and drawbacks of current paradigms The crisis showed the limitations of monetary policy and led to a revaluation of what levels of public debt can be considered safe This volume aims to refresh the debate on some important long run macroeconomic issues from new and fresh perspectives Theoretical Foundations of Macroeconomic Policy raises a number of questions relating to the challenges faced by macroeconomic theory and policies The common line is the long run and policy perspective The first part of the book is devoted to the theory of growth and productivity The second part concentrates on long run effects of fiscal and monetary policy Specifically topics investigated by the international range of authors are the theory of optimal growth the productivity policies and production function estimations demand vs supply driven growth optimal debt default and the incompleteness of financial markets the long run optimal inflation target and its relationship with public finance the long term effects of government budget constraints on growth and effect on optimal policies in non market clearing environment The book will be of interest to postgraduates researchers and academics studying macroeconomics and fiscal policies

Guide to College Writing Assessment Peggy O'Neill, Cindy Moore, Brian Huot, 2009-04-15 While most English professionals feel comfortable with language and literacy theories assessment theories seem more alien English professionals often don't have a clear understanding of the key concepts in educational measurement such as validity and reliability nor do they understand the statistical formulas associated with psychometrics But understanding assessment theory and applying it by those who are not psychometricians is critical in developing useful ethical assessments in college writing programs and in interpreting and using assessment results A Guide to College Writing Assessment is designed as an introduction and source book for WPAs department chairs teachers and administrators Always cognizant of the critical components of particular teaching contexts O'Neill Moore and Huot have written sophisticated but accessible chapters on the history theory application and background of writing assessment and they offer a dozen appendices of practical samples and models for a range of common assessment needs

Because there are numerous resources available to assist faculty in assessing the writing of individual students in particular classrooms A Guide to College Writing Assessment focuses on approaches to the kinds of assessment that typically happen outside of individual classrooms placement evaluation exit examination programmatic assessment and faculty evaluation Most of all the argument of this book is that creating the conditions for meaningful college writing assessment hinges not only on understanding the history and theories informing assessment practice but also on composition programs availing themselves of the full range of available assessment practices
