Walker, 2012-04-30 Byzantine imperial imagery is commonly perceived as a static system In contrast to this common portrayal this book draws attention to its openness and responsiveness to other artistic traditions Through a close examination of significant objects and monuments created over a 350 year period from the ninth to the thirteenth century Alicia Walker shows how the visual articulation of Byzantine imperial power not only maintained a visual vocabulary inherited from Greco Roman antiquity and the Judeo Christian tradition but also innovated on these artistic precedents by incorporating styles and forms from contemporary foreign cultures specifically the Sasanian Chinese and Islamic worlds In addition to art and architecture this book explores historical accounts and literary works as well as records of ceremonial practices thereby demonstrating how texts ritual and images operated as integrated agents of imperial power Walker offers new ways to think about cross cultural interaction in the Middle Ages and explores the diverse ways in which imperial images employed foreign elements in order to express particularly Byzantine meanings Mediated by Gifts, 2016-11-21 Mediated by Gifts is a collection of essays by top scholars on gifts giving and the social and political forces that shaped these practices in medieval and early modern Japan The international assemblage of authors provides new insights into these deeply ingrained practices The essays focus on topics such as shogunal visits to shrines and temples exchanges between the imperial house and the shogun a physician and his patients the shogun his vassals his and his ladies the merchant class and the shogunal government and between scholars and their cosmopolitan circle of contacts This virtually unexplored view of Japanese history provides new tools to better elucidate both historical and modern Japan Contributors are Lee Butler Andrew Goble Kaneko Hiraku Laura Nenzi Ozawa Emiko Cecilia Segawa Siegle and Margarita Winkel Copper Coins and the

Emperor's Wallet: The Role of Currency in Ming China Sui-Wai Cheung, 2023-10-20 Sui Wai Cheung s study of the institutional history of copper coins in the Ming dynasty reveals how emperors and statesmen perceived and used the copper coins at their disposal In this process he uncovers the reality of the Sons of Heaven showing that although Ming emperors seemed to have unlimited power they could not afford the upkeep on their palace In this revealing history of Ming China Cheung argues that especially after the breakdown of the household registration system the aim of the Ming coinage system was to create a new source of income in order to maintain the emperor's domain in Beijing The 36 Strategies of the Martial Arts Hiroshi Moriya, 2013-05-14 In the spirit of The Art of War and The Book of Five Rings this fascinating strategy guide is full of ancient Chinese wisdom that can be applied to all areas of modern life The 36 Strategies of the Martial Arts is a classical collection of Chinese maxims on understanding, engaging and defeating your enemy The origin of the collection is unknown however the text is a synthesis of various military maxims, political expressions and even folk sayings some of which are from sources that date back 1 500 years Professor Hiroshi Moriya a Tokyo based authority on Chinese culture and philosophy supplies clear and succinct explanations of each maxim and illustrates them with examples not only from Chinese literature and history but also from events in Europe and modern business affairs This book will resonate with anyone interested in a classic approach to psyching out an opponent and emerging victorious in martial arts, business, sports or politics The Emperor's Four Treasuries R. Kent Guy, 2020-03-17 The compilation of the Complete Library of the Four Treasuries Siku Quanshu was one of the most ambitious intellectual projects of the Qing dynasty Initiated by imperial command in 1772 the project sought to evaluate, edit and reproduce the finest Chinese writings in the four traditional categories: Confucian classics, histories, philosophy and belles lettres The final products created over a twenty-two year period were an annotated catalog of some ten thousand titles and seven new manuscript libraries of nearly thirty-six hundred titles The project had its darker side as well for together with the evaluation of books there developed a campaign of censorship and proscription Guy's study gives a balanced account of the project and its significance Dozens of celebrated Chinese scholars willingly participated in the project though it was sponsored by the Manchu emperor and Guy explains their reasons for doing so He also reconsiders the issue of censorship arguing that it grew as much from tensions and jealousies within the intellectual elite as from imperial command Guy's work will be useful to all those interested in the relationship between intellectuals and the state in late imperial China Demonizing the Other Robert S. Wistrich, 2013-03-07 At the close of the twentieth century the stereotyping and demonization of others whether on religious, nationalist, racist or political grounds has become a burning issue Yet comparatively little attention has been paid to how and why we fabricate images of the other as an enemy or demon to be destroyed This innovative book fills that gap through an interdisciplinary, cross-cultural approach that brings together a distinguished array of historians, anthropologists, psychologists, literary critics and feminists The historical sweep covers Greco-Roman Antiquity, the Middle Ages and the Modern Era Antisemitism receives special attention because of its longevity and centrality to the Holocaust but it is analyzed here within the much broader framework of racism and xenophobia The plurality of viewpoints expressed in this volume provide fascinating insights into what is common and what is unique to the many varieties of prejudice, stereotyping, demonization and hatred The Emperor's Due - Volume One (Hardcover) Chase, 2016-03-26 Once a generation when the emperor's heir comes of age each realm must offer their most powerful, gifted youth for a ritual known as The Emperor's Due These selectees born with incredible abilities become training partners for the prince and are taught to one day help him rule the Empire Quickly after the ritual is completed and their training begins turmoil erupts in the Empire Pirates command the sea and dragons rule the skies while assassinations and betrayal threaten to break the emperor's hold over the individual realms With no one to trust except each other the selectees find themselves fighting for their lives while trying to keep the Empire from being engulfed in war

Statius' Silvae and the Poetics of Empire Carole E. Newlands, 2002-03-14 Statius Silvae written late in the reign of Domitian AD 81-96 are a new kind of poetry that confronts the challenge of imperial majesty or private wealth by new poetic strategies and forms As poems of praise they delight in poetic excess whether they honour the emperor or the poet's friends Yet extravagant speech is also capacious speech It functions as a strategy for conveying the wealth and grandeur of villas statues and precious works of art as well as the complex emotions aroused by the material and political culture of empire The Silvae are the product of a divided self-fashioning voice Statius was born in Naples of non-aristocratic parents His position as outsider to the culture he celebrates gives him a unique perspective on it The Silvae are poems of anxiety as well as praise expressive of the tensions within the later period of Domitian's reign

The Emperor's Ride Tom Anderson, 2013-02 This is the story of a man who saves the life of a Galactic Emperor only to have the Galactic Media put him on a pedestal he knows he does not deserve This is only an annoyance compared to the trouble he gets into when the Emperor's two beautiful daughters begin to take a sexual interest in him The Emperor is grateful to the man for saving his life but not grateful enough to let him fool around with his daughters

The diplomatic reminiscences of Lord Augustus Loftus ... 1837-1862 Lord Loftus, 1892

Rome and China Walter Scheidel, 2009-02-05 Transcending ethnic linguistic and religious boundaries early empires shaped thousands of years of world history Yet despite the global prominence of empire individual cases are often studied in isolation This series seeks to change the terms of the debate by promoting cross-cultural comparative and transdisciplinary perspectives on imperial state formation prior to the European colonial expansion Two thousand years ago up to one half of the human species was contained within two political systems the Roman empire in western Eurasia centered on the Mediterranean Sea and the Han empire in eastern Eurasia centered on the great North China Plain Both empires were broadly comparable in terms of size and population and even largely coextensive in chronological terms 221 BCE to 220 CE for the Qin Han empire c 200 BCE to 395 CE for the unified Roman empire At the most basic level of resolution the circumstances of their creation are not very different In the East the Shang and Western Zhou periods created a shared cultural framework for the Warring States with the gradual consolidation of numerous small polities into a handful of large kingdoms which were finally united by the westernmost marcher state of Qin In the Mediterranean we can observe comparable political fragmentation and gradual expansion of a unifying civilization Greek in this case followed by the gradual formation of a handful of major warring states the Hellenistic kingdoms in the east Rome Italy Syracuse and Carthage in the west and likewise eventual unification by the westernmost marcher state the Roman led Italian confederation Subsequent destabilization occurred again in strikingly similar ways both empires came to be divided into two halves one that contained the original core but was more exposed to the main barbarian periphery the west in the Roman case the north in China and a traditionalist half in the east Rome and south China These processes of initial convergence and subsequent divergence in Eurasian state formation have never been the object of systematic comparative analysis This volume which brings together experts in the history of the ancient Mediterranean and early China makes a first step in this direction by presenting a series of comparative case studies on clearly defined aspects of state formation in early eastern and western Eurasia focusing on the process of initial developmental convergence It includes a general introduction that makes the case for a comparative approach a broad sketch of the character of state formation in western and eastern Eurasia during the final millennium of antiquity and six thematically connected case studies of particularly salient aspects of this process
