Privately Owned Public Space Jerold S. Kayden, The New York City Department of City Planning, The Municipal Art Society of New York, 2000-11-10 Hailed by the Wall Street Journal as a juicy little time bomb of a book Privately Owned Public Space: The New York City Experience examines for the first time New York City's 39 year mixed experience with the production of more than 500 plazas parks and atriums located on private property yet by law accessible to and usable by the public Until now comprehensive systematic knowledge about this vast collection of public spaces has not existed either for experts or members of the public To remedy this gap Harvard University professor Jerold S Kayden The New York City Department of City Planning and The Municipal Art Society of New York have joined forces to research and write Privately Owned Public Space: The New York City Experience Through words photographs scaled site plans maps and analysis of newly assembled data they examine history law design and use of the city's privately owned public spaces Each of the more than 500 spaces is individually discussed to provide far reaching comparative information about this unique category of public space In reading this book designers planners lawyers and academics will gain greater understanding about the possibilities and problems inherent in the design management and enforcement of privately owned public space Public officials private owners and civic group representatives will learn more about their roles in ensuring public access and vitality of such spaces Individuals will discover where New York City's public spaces are located and what amenities they offer Everyone will comprehend more completely the contribution that privately owned public space can make toward open and attractive cities in which all individuals have access to a diversity of public places

Complex Artificial

Environments Juval Portugali, 2006-01-19 Juval Portugali The notion of complex artificial environments CAE refers to theories of complexity and self organization as well as to artifacts in general and to artificial environments such as cities in particular The link between the two however is not trivial For one thing the theories of complexity and self organization originated in the hard science and by reference to natural phenomena in physics and biology The study of artifacts per contra has traditionally been the business of the soft disciplines in the humanities and social sciences The notion of complex artificial environments thus implies the supposition that the theories of complexity and self organization together with the mathematical formalisms and methodologies developed for their study apply beyond the domain of nature Such a supposition raises a whole set of questions relating to the nature of 21 century cities and urbanism to philosophical issues regarding the natural versus the artificial to the methodological legitimacy of interdisciplinary transfer of theories and methodologies and to the implications that entail the use of sophisticated state of the art artifacts such as virtual reality VR cities and environments The three day workshop on the study of complex artificial environments that took place on the island of San Servolo Venice

during April 13 2004 was a gathering of scholars engaged in the study of the various aspects of CAE Community Social Work Practice in an Urban Context Melvin Delgado, 1999-09-16 Community social work practice based on a capacity enhancement model offers tremendous potential for unifying communities consisting of groups from very different cultural backgrounds and in the process of doing so make physical changes in the community Community Social Work Practice in An Urban Context aims to teach graduate students with an emphasis on community and urban social work how to create positive community environments in marginalized urban based communities The use of murals gardens playgrounds and sculptures for example provide social workers with an opportunity to identify engage and plan services with communities These projects in turn are based upon a community's strengths and represent an effort at developing a community's capacity to help itself with assistance from professionals Public Places - Urban Spaces Matthew Carmona, Tim Heath, Taner Oc, Steve Tiesdell, 2012-09-10 Public Places Urban Spaces is a holistic guide to the many complex and interacting dimensions of urban design The discussion moves systematically through ideas theories research and the practice of urban design from an unrivalled range of sources It aids the reader by gradually building the concepts one upon the other towards a total view of the subject The author team explain the catalysts of change and renewal and explore the global and local contexts and processes within which urban design operates The book presents six key dimensions of urban design theory and practice the social visual functional temporal morphological and perceptual allowing it to be dipped into for specific information or read from cover to cover This is a clear and accessible text that provides a comprehensive discussion of this complex subject planning strategies and the role of civil society progress towards attainment of the Millennium Development Goals targets for sanitation and housing The report highlights the need for a new culture of planning to establish multicultural and inclusive cities involving civil society as well as public authorities New Urbanism and Traditional Neighborhood Development

,2000 The New Urbanism calls for a different approach to just about every aspect of land planning and real estate blocks and street networks building design financing transportation retail employment centers civic institutions zoning and codes inner city revitalization and even the marketing of homes Rhetorical Landscapes in America Gregory Clark,2021-11-24 A

panoramic explanation of civic tourism and the shaping of a national identity At the same time a reading of Kenneth Burke and of tourist landscapes in America Gregory Clark s new study explores the rhetorical power connected with American tourism Looking specifically at a time when citizens of the United States first took to rail and then highway to become sightseers in their own country Clark traces the rhetorical function of a wide ranging set of tourist experiences He explores how the symbolic experiences Americans share as tourists have helped residents of a vast and diverse nation adopt a national identity In doing so he suggests that the rhetorical power of a national culture is wielded not only by public discourse but also by public experiences Clark examines places in the American landscape that have facilitated such experiences including New York City Shaker villages Yellowstone National Park the Lincoln Highway San Francisco s 1915 Panama Pacific International Exposition and the Grand Canyon He examines the rhetorical power of these sites to transform private individuals into public citizens and he evaluates a national culture that teaches Americans to experience certain places as potent symbols of national community Invoking Burke s concept of identification to explain such rhetorical encounters Clark considers Burke s lifelong study of symbols linguistic and otherwise and their place in the construction and transformation of individual identity Clark turns to Burke s work to expand our awareness of the rhetorical resources that lead individuals within a community to adopt a collective identity and he considers the implications of nineteenth and twentieth century tourism for both visual rhetoric and the rhetoric of display Bibliotheca Americana ,1886 Responsive Environments

Sue McGlynn,Graham Smith,Alan Alcock,Paul Murrain,2013-05-13 Clearly demonstrates the specific characteristics that make for comprehensible friendly and controllable places Responsive Environments as opposed to the alienating environments often imposed today By means of sketches and diagrams it shows how they may be designed in to places or buildings This is a practical book about architecture and urban design It is most concerned with the areas of design which most frequently go wrong and impresses the idea that ideals alone are not enough Ideals must be linked through appropriate design ideas to the fabric of the built environment itself This book is a practical attempt to show how this can be done
