Authentication of Halal Products using FTIR Spectroscopy

Sarfaraz Ahmed Mahesar, Syed Tufail Hussain Shah, Mohamed Fawzy Ramadan, Waris Nawab Panhwar, 2025-09-30 For Muslims Halal food is crucial and regulations are in place to protect quality and authenticity including methods for keeping out forbidden elements. The identification and elimination of non Halal contents is the basis of the Halal analyses promoting the development of analytical techniques for Halal product authentications. Gas chromatography mass spectroscopy GC MS electronic nose e nose Fourier transform infrared FTIR high pressure liquid chromatography HPLC and real time polymerase chain reaction RT PCR are some of the most popular techniques used in Halal food analysis. Due to its satisfactory results straightforward approach and lack of damaging preparation FTIR spectroscopy combined with chemometrics is an excellent technique for analyzing halal food. Authentication of Halal Products using FTIR Spectroscopy aims to widen the concept of Halal food by covering FTIR in conjunction with chemometrics for Halal authentication. This combination has never been discussed before in such detail providing the latest connection between Halal analysis and authentication plus providing comprehensive coverage on FTIR and chemometrics for Halal authentication. Halal authentication of meat fat oil consumer products and pharmaceuticals are covered plus Halal production processing ingredients storage logistics methods and global perspective.

The New Cultures of Food Martin K. Hingley, 2016-03-03 Food is an extraordinary expression of culture the assortment of flavours smells colours and appearance match the diversity of the cultures from which they come and provide very visible evidence of the migration of populations and of the growing multiculturalism of many countries. Adam Lindgreen and Martin K Hingley draw on research into European Latin American and Near and Far Eastern markets to provide a comprehensive collection of original cutting edge research on the opportunities that the changing landscapes of ethnic religious and cultural populations present for businesses and marketers. The New Cultures of Food uses the perspective of food culture to explore the role of food as a social agent and attitudes to new foodstuffs amongst indigenous populations and to indigenous food amongst immigrant communities. Opportunities and routes to market for exploiting growing demand for ethnic food are also investigated. This is an important book for food and consumer businesses policy makers and researchers seeking to understand changing global markets and the significance of food as an indicator of social and religious attitude diet and ethnic identity.
