The History of Architecture in Scotland John G. Dunbar, 1966 The Conservation Movement: A History of Architectural Preservation Miles Glendinning, 2013-01-17 Winner of the 2016 Antoinette Forrester Downing Award presented by the Society of Architectural Historians In many cities across the world particularly in Europe old buildings form a prominent part of the built environment and we often take it for granted that their contribution is intrinsically positive How has that widely shared belief come about and is its continued general acceptance inevitable Certainly ancient structures have long been treated with care and reverence in many societies including classical Rome and Greece But only in modern Europe and America in the last two centuries has this care been elaborated and energised into a forceful dynamic ideology a Conservation Movement infused with a sense of historical destiny and loss that paradoxically shared many of the characteristics of Enlightenment modernity The close inter relationship between conservation and modern civilisation was most dramatically heightened in periods of war or social upheaval beginning with the French Revolution and rising to a tragic climax in the 20th century age of totalitarian extremism more recently the troubled relationship of heritage and global commercialism has become dominant Miles Glendinning s new book authoritatively presents for the first time the entire history of this architectural Conservation Movement and traces its dramatic fluctuations in ideas and popularity ending by questioning whether its recent international ascendancy can last indefinitely Tolbooths and Town-houses Royal Commission on the Ancient and Historical Monuments of Scotland, 1996 Illustrated throughout this book includes detailed architectural and historical articles on over 90 surviving examples and brief entries on about 100 demolished or altered buildings The Architecture of Scottish Government Miles Glendinning, 2004 This extensively illustrated book provides a historical overview of Scottish buildings of government and assembly from the Middle Ages to the present day setting Scotland s new parliament in the broader context of the nation s architectural and social history The Castellated and Domestic Architecture of Scotland from the Twelfth to the Eighteenth Century David MacGibbon, Thomas Ross, 1887 The Castellated and Domestic Architecture of Scotland From the Twelfth to the Eighteenth Century by Thomas Ross first published in 1887 is a rare manuscript the original residing in one of the great libraries of the world This book is a
