Chalkley J. Hambleton, 2017-06-22 A Gold Hunter's Experience Early in the summer of 1860 I had a bad attack of gold fever In Chicago the conditions for such a malady were all favorable Since the panic of 1857 there had been three years of general depression money was scarce there was little activity in business the outlook was discouraging and I like hundreds of others felt blue Gold had been discovered in the fall of 1858 in the vicinity of Pike's Peak by a party of Georgian prospectors and for several years afterward the whole gold region for seventy miles to the north was called Pike's Peak Others in the East heard of the gold discoveries and went West the next spring so that during the summer of 1859 a great deal of prospecting was done in the mountains as far north as Denver and Boulder Creek Those who returned in the autumn of that year having perhaps claims and mines to sell told large stories of their rich finds which grew larger as they were repeated amplified and circulated by those who dealt in mining outfits and mills Then these accounts were fed out to the public daily in an appetizing way by the newspapers The result was that by the next spring the epidemic became as prevalent in Chicago as cholera was a few years later Four of the fever stricken ones Enos Ayres T R Stubbs John Sollitt and myself formed a partnership raised about 9 000 and went to work to purchase the necessary outfit for gold mining Mr Ayres furnished a larger share of the capital than any of the others and was not to go with the expedition but might join us the following year Mr Stubbs and I were both to go while Mr Sollitt was to be represented by a substitute a relative whose name was also John Sollitt and who had been a farmer and butcher and was supposed to know all about oxen Mr Stubbs was a good mechanic an intelligent well read man and ten years before had been to California in search of gold Our outfit consisted of a 12 stamp quartz mill with engine and boiler and all the equipments understood to be necessary for extracting gold from the rock including mining tools powder quicksilver copper plate and chemicals also a supply of provisions for a year The staple articles of the latter were flour beans salt pork coffee and sugar Then we had rice cornmeal dried fruit tea bacon and a barrel of syrup besides a good supply of hardtack crackers and cheese for use while crossing the plains when a fire for cooking might not be found practicable These things were all purchased in Chicago together with the fourteen wagons necessary to carry them across the plains Then all were shipped by rail to St Joseph Mo where the oxen were to be purchased The entire outfit when loaded on the cars weighed twenty four tons I stayed in Chicago till the last to help purchase and forward the outfit and supplies while Stubbs and Sollitt the substitute went to St Joe to receive and load them on the wagons and to purchase the oxen On the 1st day of August all was ready and we ferried our loaded wagons and teams across the Missouri River into Kansas to make a final start next morning into regions to us unknown Stubbs started the same day by stage for the mountains to prospect and look out for a favorable location and then to meet the train when it arrived at Denver Sollitt was to be trainmaster which involved the oversight and direction of the teams and drivers and the duty of frequently going ahead to

Authorizing Experience James Egan,1999-04-05 The emphasis on practical experience over ideology is viewed by many historians as a profoundly American characteristic one that provides a model for exploring the colonial challenge to European belief systems and the creation of a unique culture Here Jim Egan offers an unprecedented look at how early modern American writers helped make this notion of experience so powerful that we now take it as a given rather than as the product of hard fought rhetorical battles waged over ways of imagining one s relationship to a larger social community In order to show how our modern notion of experience emerges from a historical change that experience itself could not have brought about he turns to works by seventeenth century writers in New England and reveals the ways in which they authorized experience ultimately producing a rhetoric distinctive to the colonies and supportive of colonialism Writers such as John Smith William Wood John Winthrop Anne Bradstreet Benjamin Thompson and William Hubbard were sensitive to the challenge experiential authority posed to established social hierarchies Egan argues that they used experience to authorize a supplementary status system that would at once enhance England s economic political and spiritual status and provide a new basis for regulating English and native populations These writers were assuaging fears over how exposure to alien environments threatened actual English bodies and also the imaginary body that authorized English monarchy and allowed English subjects to think of themselves as a nation By reimagining the English nation these supporters of English colonialism helped create a modern way of imagining national identity and individual subject formation
