A Guadalcanal Society The Kaoka Speakers:

A Guadalcanal Society Herbert Ian Hogbin, 1964 A Guadalcanal Society Ian Hogbin, 1965 The A Guadalcanal Society Earl Dorchester Hanson, 1964 Plantation Workers Brij V. Lal, Doug Munro, Edward D. Beechert, 1993-11-01 Ten essays fill in some gaps in the study of plantations by exploring the experience of the workers themselves focusing on their reaction and adaptation to their situation which ranged from acquiescence to rebellion Colonialism, Maasina Rule, and the Origins of Malaitan Kastom David W. Akin, 2013-10-31 This book is a political history of the island of Malaita in the British Solomon Islands Protectorate from 1927 when the last violent resistance to colonial rule was crushed to 1953 and the inauguration of the island's first representative political body the Malaita Council At the book's heart is a political movement known as Maasina Rule which dominated political affairs in the southeastern Solomons for many years after World War II The movement's ideology kastom was grounded in the determination that only Malaitans themselves could properly chart their future through application of Malaitan sensibilities and methods free from British interference Kastom promoted a radical transformation of Malaitan lives by sweeping social engineering projects and alternative governing and legal structures When the government tried to suppress Maasina Rule through force its followers brought colonial administration on the island to a halt for several years through a labor strike and massive civil resistance actions that overflowed government prison camps David Akin draws on extensive archival and field research to present a practice based analysis of colonial officers' interactions with Malaitans in the years leading up to and during Maasina Rule A primary focus is the place of knowledge in the colonial administration Many scholars have explored how various regimes deployed colonial knowledge of subject populations in Asia and Africa to reorder and rule them The British imported to the Solomons models for native administration based on such an approach particularly schemes of indirect rule developed in Africa The concept of custom was basic to these schemes and to European understandings of Melanesians and it was made the lynchpin of government policies that granted limited political roles to local ideas and practices Officers knew very little about Malaitan cultures however and Malaitans seized the opportunity to transform custom into kastom as the foundation for a new society The book's overarching topic is the dangerous road that colonial ignorance paved for policy makers from young cadets in the field to high officials in distant Fiji and London Today kastom remains a powerful concept on Malaita but continued confusion regarding its origins history and meanings hampers understandings of contemporary Malaitan politics and of Malaitan people's ongoing problematic relations with the state Work in Market and Industrial Societies Herbert A. Applebaum, 1984-01-01 It's a living That fact no one can deny Yet the significance of work productive activity which alters the physical environment to meet human needs goes far beyond the paycheck Work involves among other things embracing a set of roles and beliefs mastering skills and knowledge and behaving in ways considered appropriate for the achievement of a desired level of productivity and quality This book is an informative and highly readable global survey of the various aspects of work in market and industrial societies Its extensive general introduction and the seven section introductions discuss the role of work in society and the problems and satisfactions associated with working The book s eighteen chapters written by well known specialists spotlight characteristics which give each occupation its distinctive cultural identification Featured in this compendium of work and working are factory workers white collar employees construction personnel farmers and migrant workers miners railroaders longshoremen sanitation workers firefighters and fishermen World Military History Annotated Bibliography Barton Hacker,2004-12-01 Military institutions and methods of warfare in the non Western world from antiquity through the early 20th century provide the chief subjects of this annotated bibliography of works published before 1967 Especially rich in references to periodical literature it emphasizes military organization and relationships between military and other social institutions rather than wars and battles The bibliography comprises seven parts 1 general and comparative topics including works on the social cultural and biological causes of war 2 the ancient world 3 western Eurasia since antiquity 4 eastern Eurasia since antiquity 5 sub Saharan Africa and Oceania 6 pre Columbian America and 7 Indians in post contact America The Anthropology of Childhood David F. Lancy,2015 Enriched with anecdotes from ethnography and the daily media this revised edition examines family structure reproduction profiles of children s caretakers their treatment at different ages their play work schooling and transition to adulthood The result is a nuanced and credible picture of childhood in different cultures past and present Atlas of World Cultures George Peter Murdock,1981-05-15 The publication of Murdock s Ethnographic Atlas in 1967 marked the first time that descriptive information on the peoples of the world primitive historical and contemporary had been systematically organized for the purposes of comparative research In this volume Murdock has completely revised this work selecting 563 societies that are most fully and accurately described in ethnographic literature The identification of each society gives its geographical coordinates and date its identifying number in the Ethnographic Atlas and an indication of whether it is included in the Human Relations Area Files or the Standard Cross Cultural Sample In addition bibliographical references are offered for each society The information and suggested research techniques will be of value to comparativists in anthropology history political science psychology and sociology Most importantly it offers a simple method for choosing a valid sample of the world s known societies for cross cultural research The Ethnographic Experiment Edvard Hviding,Cato Berg,2014-06-01 In 1908 Arthur Maurice Hocart and William Halse Rivers Rivers conducted fieldwork in the Solomon Islands and elsewhere in Island Melanesia that served as the turning point in the development of modern anthropology The work of these two anthropological pioneers on the small island of Simbo brought about the development of participant observation as a methodological hallmark of social anthropology This would have implications for Rivers later work in psychiatry and psychology and Hocart s work as a comparativist for which both would largely be remembered despite the novelty of that independent fieldwork on remote Pacific islands in the early years of the 20th Century Contributors to this volume who have all carried out fieldwork in those Melanesian locations where Hocart and Rivers worked give a critical examination of the research that took place in 1908 situating those efforts in the broadest possible contexts of colonial history imperialism the history of ideas and scholarly practice within and beyond anthropology Footprints in the Tasimauri Sea Tarcisius Tara Kabutaulaka, 2002 Dominiko Alebua spread Christianity as well as built important alliances with European missionaries and he was Headman for the British colonial administration for 16 years His story shows the extensive interaction between Solomon Islands peoples and outsiders Native Cultures of the Pacific Islands Douglas L. Oliver, 2021-05-25 Even before Western contact the Pacific Islanders inhabited nearly every island north and east of Australia a thousand distinctive peoples This overview of the cultures of the Pacific Islands treats their physical setting prehistory activities and social relations before European influences subjected them to radical changes It is intended mainly for college level students in courses dealing with the region but Native Cultures of the Pacific Islands will also be enjoyed by those interested in the Pacific Islands and by visitors to the Pacific The book is an abridgement of the author's larger two volume work Oceania The Native Cultures of Australia and the Pacific Islands Native Cultures of the Pacific Islands contains a number of maps and illustrations from the larger work The Changing Family David A. Schulz, 1972 Introduction to the Study of Religion Kathleen S. Nash, Mary N. MacDonald, Fred Glennon, 2013 This introductory text helps students think through the basic questions that arise in the study of religion What is the nature of religious experience How does religion shape the actions of individuals and communities How does religion promote or inhibit human development and well being This 2nd edition has been updated throughout including new examples new themes such as religious fundamentalism and violence and a new emphasis on environmental issues Identity Through History Geoffrey M. White, 1991 For people who live in small communities transformed by powerful outside forces narrative accounts of culture contact and change create images of collective identity through the idiom of shared history How may we understand the processes that make such accounts compelling for those who tell them Why do some narratives acquire a kind of mythic status as they are told and retold in a variety of contexts and genres Identity Through History attempts to explain how identity formation developed among the people of Santa Isabel in the Solomon Islands who were victimised by raiding headhunters in the nineteenth century and then embraced Christianity around the turn of the century Making innovative use of work in psychological and historical anthropology Geoffrey White shows how these significant events were crucial to the community's view of itself in shifting social and political circumstances Languages, Linguistics and Development Practices Deborah Hill, Felix K. Ameka, 2022-05-06 This edited book presents case studies and reflections on the role of languages and their analytic study in development practices across four regions Africa Asia Australia and the Pacific The authors highlight the importance of conceptual studies of languages and cultures as well as language choice for enhancing development practices demonstrating the value that language analysis and the humanities can add to the already multi disciplinary field of Development Studies

The chapters draw on the fields of linguistics human geography education diverse economies community learning sociology and anthropology and topics covered include some significant areas of interest to sustainable human development education work finances age gender as well as a key approach to development asset based community development Chapters on informal adult learning provide opportunities to explore how and why language and linguistic analysis is relevant to development projects The volume aims to promote collaboration and interdisciplinary dialogue and should be of interest to academics practitioners and students of language and development and to those working in the field of development globally

To Dance is Human Judith Lynne Hanna, 1987-09-15 Exploring dance from the rural villages of Africa to the stages of Lincoln Center Judith Lynne Hanna shows that it is as human to dance as it is to learn to build or to fight Dance is human thought and feeling expressed through the body it is at once organized physical movement language and a system of rules appropriate in different social situations Hanna offers a theory of dance drawing on work in anthropology semiotics sociology communications folklore political science religion and psychology as well as the visual and performing arts A new preface provides commentary on recent developments in dance research and an updated bibliography

Mothers' Darlings of the South Pacific Judith A. Bennett, Angela Wanhalla, 2016-03-31 Over the course of World War II two million American military personnel occupied bases throughout the South Pacific leaving behind a human legacy of at least 4 000 children born to indigenous mothers Based on interviews conducted with many of these American indigenous children and several of the surviving mothers Mothers Darlings of the South Pacific explores the intimate relationships that existed between untold numbers of U S servicemen and indigenous women during the war and considers the fate of their mixed race children These relationships developed in the major U S bases of the South Pacific Command from Bora Bora in the east across to Solomon Islands in the west and from the Gilbert Islands in the north to New Zealand in the southernmost region of the Pacific The American military command carefully managed interpersonal encounters between the sexes applying race based U S immigration law on Pacific peoples to prevent marriage across the color line For indigenous women and their American servicemen sweethearts legal marriage was impossible giving rise to a generation of fatherless children most of whom grew up wanting to know more about their American lineage Mothers Darlings of the South Pacific traces these children s stories of loss emotion longing and identity and of lives lived in the shadow of global war Each chapter discusses the context of the particular island societies and shows how this often determined the ways intimate relationships developed and were accommodated during the war years and beyond Oral histories reveal what the records of colonial governments and the military have largely ignored providing a perspective on the effects of the U S occupation that until now has been disregarded by Pacific war historians The richness of this book will appeal to those interested the Pacific World War II as well as intimacy family race relations colonialism identity and the legal structures of U S immigration

Land Solutions for Climate Displacement Scott Leckie, 2014-05-23 The threat of climate displacement looms large over a growing number of countries Based on the more than six years of work by Displacement Solutions in ten climate affected countries academic work on displacement and climate adaptation and the country level efforts of civil society groups in several frontline countries this report explores the key contention that land will be at the core of any major strategy aimed at preventing and resolving climate displacement This innovative and timely volume coordinated and edited by the Founder of Displacement Solutions Scott Leckie examines a range of legal policy and practical issues relating to the role of land in actively addressing the displacement consequences of climate change It reveals the inevitable truth that climate displacement is already underway and being tackled in countries such as Bangladesh Kiribati Papua New Guinea Solomon Islands Tuvalu and the United States and proposes a series of possible land solution tools that can be employed to protect the rights of people and communities everywhere should they be forced to flee the places they call home

Culture and History in the Pacific

Jukka Siikala, 2021-09-29 Culture and History in the Pacific is a collection of essays originally published in 1990 The texts explore from different perspectives the question of culture as a repository of historical information They also address broader questions of anthropological writing at the time such as the relationship between anthropologists representations and local conceptions This republication aims to make the book accessible to a wider audience and in the region it discusses Oceania A new introductory essay has been included to contextualize the volume in relation to its historical setting the end of the Cold War era and to the present study of the Pacific and indigenous scholarship The authors of Culture and History in the Pacific include prominent anthropologists of the Pacific some of whom Roger Keesing and Marilyn Strathern to name but two have also been influential in the anthropology of the late 20th and early 21st century in general
