A Hawaiian Reader:

A Hawaiian Reader Arthur Grove Day, Carl Stroven, 1984 This anthology contains thirty seven selections from the work of thirty authors who have written about Hawaii The selections have been arranged in chronological order by date of incident or setting starting with the discovery of the islands by Captain Cook Five pieces representing ancient Hawaiian literature and lore have been placed at the end of the book Each selection is preceded by a brief introduction concerning the author and the particular offering The texts written by many hands over almost two hundred years have not been changed except to modernize the spelling and punctuation A Hawaiian Reader A. Grove Day, 1959 A Hawaiian Reader Arthur Grove Day, Carl Stroven, 1968 And the View from the Shore Stephen H. Sumida, 2013-05-01 This groundbreaking study of a little explored branch of American literature both chronicles and reinterprets the variety of patterns found within Hawaii's pastoral and heroic literary traditions and is unprecedented in its scope and theme As a literary history it covers two centuries of Hawaii's culture since the arrival of Captain James Cook in 1778 Its approach is multicultural representing the spectrum of native Hawaiian colonial tourist and polyethnic local literatures Explicit historical social political and linguistic context of Hawaii as well as literary theory inform Stephen Sumida's analyses and explications of texts which in turn reinterpret the nonfictional contexts themselves These texts include poems song lyrics novels and short fiction drama and oral traditions that epitomize cultural milieus and sensibilities Hawaii's rich literary tradition begins with ancient Polynesian chant and encompasses the compelling novels of O A Bushnell Shelley Ota Kazuo Miyamoto Milton Marayama and John Dominis Holt the stories of Patsy Saiki and Darrell Lum the dramas of Aldyth Morris the poetry of Cathy Song Erick Chock Jody Manabe Wing Tek Lum and others of the contemporary Bamboo Ridge group Hawaiian songs and poetry or mele and works written by visitors from outside the islands such as the journals of Captain Cook and the prose fiction of Herman Melville James Fenimore Cooper Mark Twain and James Michener Sumida discusses the renewed enthusiasm for native Hawaiian culture and the controversies over Hawaii's vernacular pidgins and creoles His achievement in developing a functional and accessible critical and intellectual framework for analyzing this diverse material is remarkable and his engaging and perceptive analysis of these works invites the reader to explore further in the literature itself and to reconsider the present and future direction of Hawaii's writers Updating the Literary West, 1997 Western writers says Thomas J Lyon in his epilogue to Updating the Literary West have grown up with the frontier myth but now find themselves in the early stages of creating a new western myth The editors of the Literary History of the American West TCU Press 1987 hoped that the first volume would begin not conclude their exploration of the West's literary heritage Out of this hope comes Updating the Literary West a comprehensive reference anthology including essays by over one hundred scholars A selected bibliography is included with each piece In the ten years since publication of LHAW western writing has developed a significantly larger presence in the national literary stream A variety of cultural viewpoints have developed along with new tactics for literary study New authors have risen to prominence and the range of subjects has changed and widened Updating the Literary West looks at topics ranging from western classics to cowboys and Cadillacs and considers children s literature ethnicity environmental writing gender issues and other topics in which change has been rapid since publication of LHAW This volume again affirms the West s literary legitimacy status hard earned by the Western Literary Association and the lasting place of popular western writing as part of the growing and changing literary and American experience An excellent reference for a wide range of readers and an invaluable resource for scholars and libraries Selected list of contributors James Maguire Fred Erisman Susan J Rosowski Gerald Haslam Tom Pilkington A Carl Bredahl Richard Slotkin John G Cawelti Robert F Gish Ann Ronald Mick McAllister
