Thomas Couser, 2011-12-02 A compact pithy guide to the most popular form of life writing Memoir An Introduction provides a primer to the ubiquitous literary form and its many subgenres

James Ivory in Conversation Robert Emmet Long, 2005-04-21 James Ivory in Conversation is an exclusive series of interviews with a director known for the international scope of his filmmaking on several continents Three time Academy Award nominee for best director responsible for such film classics as A Room with a View and The Remains of the Day Ivory speaks with remarkable candor and wit about his more than forty years as an independent filmmaker In this deeply engaging book he comments on the many aspects of his world traveling career his growing up in Oregon he is not an Englishman as most Europeans and many Americans think his early involvement with documentary films that first brought attention to him his discovery of India his friendships with celebrated figures here and abroad his skirmishes with the Picasso family and Thomas Jefferson scholars his usually candid yet at times explosive relations with actors Supported by seventy illuminating photographs selected by Ivory himself the book offers a wealth of previously unavailable information about the director's life and the art of making movies James Ivory on On the Merchant Ivory Jhabvala partnership I've always said that Merchant Ivory is a bit like the U S Government I'm the President Ismail is the Congress and Ruth is the Supreme Court Though Ismail and I disagree sometimes Ruth acts as a referee or she and I may gang up on him or vice versa The main thing is no one ever truly interferes in the area of work of the other On Shooting Mr and Mrs Bridge Who told you we had long 18 hour days We had a regular schedule not at all rushed worked regular hours and had regular two day weekends during which the crew shopped in the excellent malls of Kansas City Paul Newman raced cars somewhere unknown to us and the insurance company and I lay on a couch reading The Remains of the Day On Jessica Tandy as Miss Birdseye in The Bostonians Jessica Tandy was seventy two or something and she felt she had to play being an old woman to act an old woman Unfortunately I couldn't say to her You don't have to act this just be that will be sufficient You can't tell the former Blanche Du Bois that she's an old woman now On Adapting E M Forster's novels His was a very pleasing voice and it was easy to follow Why turn his books into films unless you want to do that But I suppose my voice was there too it was a kind of duet you could say and he provided the melody On India If you see my Indian movies then you get some idea of what it was that attracted me about India and Indians any explanation would sound lamer than the thing warrants The mood was so great and overwhelming that any explanation of it would seem physically thin I put all my feeling about India into several Indian films and if you know those films and like them you see from these films what it was that attracted me to India On whether he was influenced by Renoir in filming A Room with a View I was certainly not influenced by Renoir in that film But if you put some good looking women in long white dresses in a field dotted with red poppies and they're holding parasols then people will say Renoir On the Critics I came to believe that to have a powerful enemy like Pauline Kael only made me stronger You know like a kind of voodoo I wonder if it worked that way in those days for any of her other victims Woody Allen for instance or Stanley Kubrick On Andy Warhol as a dinner guest I met him many times over the last twenty years of his life but I can't say I knew him which is what most people say even those who were his intimates Once he came to dinner with a group of his Factory friends at my apartment I remember that he or someone else left a dirty plate with chicken bones and knife and fork in my bathroom wash basin It seemed to be a symbolic gesture to be a matter of style and not just bad manners Sociology Meets Memoir

Memoir of Italo Svevo Livia Veneziani Svevo,2001 The Italian Italo Svevo had many things in common with other writers a long struggle for recognition a mutually respectful friendship with a noteworthy author in Svevo's case James Joyce and a long list of neuroses Unlike some writers however Svevo was fortunate to have a wife who worked tirelessly on his behalf After Svevo's death in 1928 at the age of sixty six Livia Veneziani Svevo penned this portrait of a serious artist and a loving if quirky marriage Memoir of Italo Svevo illuminates its subject's darkly comic novels and shows how a successful middle aged businessman as obsessed with smoking as with his abandoned literary ambitions became one of the great authors of the twentieth century Book Jacket Signifying Bodies G. Thomas Couser,2009-10-22 Sheds new light on the memoir boom by asking Is the genre basically about disability

Memoirs of Well-Being Tanja Reiffenrath, 2016-05-15 As the body politics of life writing in the United States change illness and disability memoirs receive considerable attention Although these narratives are framed by a lack of health they abundantly present health and do so beyond its binary relationship to the pathological This book departs from previous scholarship by bringing into focus the writers' representations of cure recovery and healing as well as their reluctance to bring closure to their narratives and align their stories with traditional notions of health These memoirs thus partake in the construction of alternative narratives of illness and disability
