Alternative Media and Politics of Resistance Joshua D. Atkinson, 2010 Scholars of journalism and media studies have illustrated the production of alternative media as a means for activists to generate dissent while communication scholars have examined activists performances and image events as challenges to dominant power structures The approaches of both fields have contributed to academic understanding of social movements in modern society but until now their findings have emerged separate from one another This book brings together both lines of research and demonstrates the role of alternative media in the performance of resistance against power structures by contemporary activists Specifically the book explores the role of alternative media in the establishment of activist networks in local communities the role of alternative media in the construction of strategies of resistance by networked activists and the role of interactivity between local and global networks in production of alternative media content The book is suitable for undergraduate and graduate courses concerning social movements within the fields of communication media and journalism

Matrix Activism Michela Ardizzoni, 2016-11-03 The intersection of virtual and physical spaces at the heart of contemporary political protests is a pivotal element in new practices of activism In this new and global ecology of dissent and activism different forces stakeholders and spaces once defiantly discordant come together to define the increasingly malleable nature and terms of participatory politics and the performance of democracy This book explores the emerging sites aesthetics and politics of contemporary dissent as a critical attempt to foreground their mediation and negotiation in an era of neoliberal globalization Contemporary forms of media activism occupy deeply ambivalent spaces which Ardizzoni analyzes using the lens of what she calls matrix activism Rather than confining the analysis to a single platform a single technology or a single social actor matrix activism allows us to explain the hybrid nature of new forms of dissent and resistance as they are located at the intersection of alternative and mainstream non profit and corporate individual and social production and consumption online and offline
