and critical language testing through critical analyses and research about challenges in language assessment around the world It investigates problematic practices in language testing which are relevant to language test users such as language program directors testing centers and language teachers as well as teachers in training in Graduate Diploma and Master of Arts in Applied Linguistics programs These issues involve aspects of language testing such as test development test administration scoring and interpretation use of test results Chapters in this volume discuss insights about language testing policy testing world languages developing program level language tests and tests of specific language skills and language assessment literacy In addition this book identifies two needs in language testing for further examination the need for collaboration between language test developers language test users and language users and the need to base language tests on real world language use   Designing Second Language Performance Assessments John M. Norris,1998 This volume focuses on the decision making potential provided by second language performance assessments The authors first situate performance assessment within a broader discussion of alternatives in language assessment and in educational assessment in general They then discuss issues in performance assessment design implementation reliability and validity Finally they present a prototype framework for second language performance assessment based on the integration of theoretical underpinnings and research findings from the task based language teaching literature the language testing literature and the educational measurement literature The authors outline test and item specifications and they present numerous examples of prototypical language tasks They also propose a research agenda focusing on the operationalization of second language performance assessments   Advancing Methodology and Practice Alison Mackey,Emma Marsden,2015-11-19 Instruments for Research into Second Languages is an accessible introduction to understanding and evaluating existing and emerging methodologies in L2 research The book provides an introduction to the data collection materials available in the IRIS database IRIS is an open access searchable repository of instruments used to elicit data for research into second and foreign language learning and teaching The book is aimed at graduate students researchers and educators in the fields of Applied Linguistics and Second Language Acquisition Featuring contributions from top scholars in the field this dynamic volume includes empirical research carried out using innovative instruments held in IRIS offering insights into their basic mechanics how and why they are used as well as the challenges they can present The chapters describe the kinds of data evidence about knowledge processing interaction learning and motivation that result from these methods and they discuss conditions that lead to reliable and valid data collection and analysis This unique collection provides researchers professionals and students with up to date responses to practical and theoretical questions about how second language learning and teaching can be investigated using the IRIS database of instruments IRIS was funded by the Economic and Social Research Council and is a long term British Academy Research Project   Transnational English Language Assessment Practices in the Age of Metrics Osman Z. Barnawi,Mohammed S. Alharbi,Ayman A. Alzahrani,2022-12-26 This edited volume examines how transnational English language assessment practices are envisioned enacted and justified by different stakeholders including students teachers and universities in different geographical contexts and what would be the multi level consequences of such practices Bringing together diverse perspectives from across the Global South and Global North the book argues that the field of English language assessment has always been transnational despite an absence of a research that explicitly examines English language assessment practices in relation to transnationalism The contribution of this volume lies in filling in this critical scholarly gap Through a wide set of epistemological theoretical and pedagogical interventions along with methodological orientations and analytical frameworks the chapter authors question the social economic political linguistic and pedagogical consequences of transnational English language assessment practices in higher education HE settings and contexts Offering fresh perspectives on English language assessment practices in relation to transnationalism this book will be of great interest to researchers academics and post graduate students in the fields of applied linguistics Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages TESOL and language assessment more broadly Re-examining Language Testing Glenn Fulcher,2015-06-12 Winner of the SAGE ILTA Book Award 2016 Re examining Language Testing explores ideas that form the foundations of language testing and assessment The discussion is framed within the philosophical and social beliefs that have forged the practices endemic in language education and policy today From historical and cultural perspectives Glenn Fulcher considers the evolution of language assessment and contrasting claims made about the nature of language and human communication how we acquire knowledge of language abilities and the ethics of test use The book investigates why societies use tests and the values that have driven changes in practice over time The discussion is presented within an argument that an Enlightenment inspired view of human nature and advancement is most suited to a progressive tolerant and principled theory of language testing and validation Covering key topics such as measurement validity accountability and values Re examining Language Testing provides a unique and innovative analysis of the ideas and social forces that shape the practice of language testing It is an essential read for advanced undergraduate and postgraduate students of Applied Linguistics and Education Professionals working in language testing and language teachers will also find this book invaluable Acts of Reading Hiroshi Nara,Mari Noda,2002-09-30 Students who have completed a year of German read Brecht in their second year those of Spanish read Cervantes Teachers of first and second year Japanese can often find nothing comparable Why aren t your students reading literature they are asked Why not Soseki Or Murakami What are instructors of Japanese doing wrong Nothing according to the authors of this volume Rather they argue such questions exemplify the gross misunderstandings and unreasonable expectations of teaching reading in Japanese In Acts of Reading the authors set out to explore what reading is for Japanese as a language and how instructors should teach it to students of Japanese They seek answers to two questions What are the aspects of reading in Japan as manifested in Japanese society What L2 second language reading problems are specific to Japanese In answering the first and related questions the authors conclude that reading is a socially motivated purposeful act that is savored and becomes a part of people s lives Reading instruction in Japanese therefore should include teaching students how to work with text as the Japanese do in Japanese society The second question relates more directly to traditional concerns in L2 reading The authors begin with a general theory of reading They then offer a welcome glimpse into the rich and complex perspectives sometimes conflicting other times symbiotic on what reading is and how it is performed in L1 and L2 and most importantly on the web of interconnections between the phenomenology of reading and the demands it places on teaching approaches to reading in Japanese With essays by Charles J Quinn Jr Fumiko Harada and Chris Brockett Foreword by J Marshall Unger   Testing Academic Language Proficiency Marco Mezzadri,2018-01-23 This book focuses on the development of the process of teaching and assessing foreign language competence for study purposes in a pluricultural and plurilingual context It addresses not only the individual who is learning the language for academic purposes LAP but also other stakeholders like teachers schools and universities and external boards such as examination boards for language testing The book highlights an ongoing research project at the University of Parma Italy aimed at developing teaching programs and evaluative tools for language for academic purposes Starting from a reflection upon the nature of language for study purposes stemming from the tradition of English for Academic Purposes it describes the model of an LAP test implemented in Italian secondary schools and universities and shows the findings concerning the performance in the test of both students whose mother tongue is Indo European and those who speak non Indo European languages   Fairness and Validation in Language Assessment Antony John Kunnan,2000-10-12 Fairness of language tests and testing practices has been a concern among test developers and test users The 19th annual Language Testing Research Colloquium held in 1997 in Florida brought this concern into focus The papers in this volume offer an introduction to fairness and validation in the field of language assessment   Foreign Language Research in Cross-Cultural Perspective Kees de Bot,Ralph B. Ginsberg,Claire Kramsch,1991-04-19 This volume focuses on priorities for research in language pedagogy The aim is to give an up to date overview of current thinking about important research issues such as the viability of large scale comparisons the quantitative qualitative research controversy new trends in language testing and evaluation and the role of different learning environments In their discussions of these issues researchers from the US and from different countries in Europe show to what extent the priorities differ on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean
