of new media and new conditions for the viewing and the reception of works of art How might the rhetoric of the sublime be used to both describe our current situation and help formulate constructive responses to it The Sublime Today collects the work of scholars in literature film art and media studies and provides a forum for investigating the contemporary relevance of the sublime both as it has been understood historically and as it has been formulated by more recent theorists such as Jameson Lyotard Kristeva and others The volume includes essays on literary readings of the sublime in Coetze Eggers Lahiri and Auster essays on film and the visual arts in the work of Fran ois Ozon and in recent participatory art and essays on how new technologies and media as in media representations of 9 11 re frame our relationship to the aesthetics of the sublime especially as they intersect with questions of gender the postcolonial and the uneasy politics of terror Resistance in English Studies Elisabet Pladevall-Ballester, Sara Martín, 2018-06-11 Persistence and Resistance New Research in English Studies gathers together a selection of articles by members of the Association of Young Researchers in Anglophone Studies ASYRAS The volume covers a wide range of topics dealing with English literature and culture language and linguistics Varied in content and methodology the articles here offer valuable insights into how young researchers approach the field of English Studies at a time of crisis when the very existence of the university is at risk The work gathered here also shows that we need to reconsider the meaning of international research Based mostly in Spanish universities the researchers gathered here come from a variety of national backgrounds mainly Spanish but also British American Eastern European and Chinese They are producing research in English Studies in a global Anglophone environment contributing at the same time with persistence and resistance new approaches that enhance the research produced in the geographical areas where English is spoken The Devil's Details Chuck Zerby, 2007-11-01 Footnotes have not had it easy Their dominance of eighteenth and nineteenth century literature and scholarship was both hard won following many years of struggle and doomed as it led to belittlement in the twentieth century In The Devil's Details Chuck Zerby playfully explores footnotes long and illustrious history and makes a clarion call to save them from the new world of the Internet and hypertext In a story that boasts a marvelous plot and a rogues gallery of players Zerby examines traditional footnotes and their less buttoned down incarnations as when used by pornographers Yes The Devil's Details is full of surprises Zerby hunts down the first bona fide fully functioning footnote unearths a multivolume history of Northumberland County England that uses one volume for a single footnote and uncovers a murder plot He even explains why footnotes are like blind dates Carefully researched and highly opinionated The Devil s Details affirms that delight in reading can come from unexpected places

American Autobiography After 9/11 Megan Brown,2017-01-10 In the post 9 11 era a flood of memoirs has wrestled with anxieties both personal and national Metagnosis Danielle Spencer,2020-10-08 This book identifies and names the phenomenon of metagnosis the experience of newly learning in adulthood of a longstanding condition It can occur when the condition has remained undetected e g colorblindness and or when the diagnostic categories themselves have shifted e g

ADHD More broadly it can occur with unexpected revelations bearing upon selfhood such as surprising genetic test results. This phenomenon has received relatively scant attention yet learning of an unknown condition is frequently a significant and bewildering revelation subverting narrative expectations and customary categories. The Preface Ross K.

Tangedal, 2021-11-06 Building on insights from the fields of textual criticism bibliography narratology authorship studies and book history. The Preface American Authorship in the Twentieth Century examines the role that prefaces played in the development of professional authorship in America. Many of the prefaces written by American writers in the twentieth century catalogue the shifting landscape of a more self consciously professionalized trade one fraught with tension and compromise and influenced by evolving reading publics. With analyses of Willa Cather Ring Lardner F Scott Fitzgerald Ernest Hemingway Robert Penn Warren and Toni Morrison Ross K Tangedal argues that writers used prefaces as a means of expanding and complicating authority over their work and ultimately as a way to write about their careers Tangedal s approach offers a new way of examining American writers in the evolving literary marketplace of the twentieth century

The Books They Gave Me Jen Adams, 2012-11-06 THE BOOKS THEY GAVE MEcollects stories of books given and books received by loved ones The gift of a book can be surprisingly intimate revealing much about a relationship An ill chosen book can serve as a harbinger of doom while a perfect selection can fill one with hope for the future Together these stories form a revealing look at love loss and our literary tastes Originally focusing on romantic gifts THE BOOKS THEY GAVE ME quickly expanded to gifts from parents and grandparents siblings and friends There s the couple who tried to read Ulyssestogether over the course of their long distance relationship and ultimately never finished it There s the guy who bristled when he received Joy of Cooking from his boyfriend until he realized that the gift didn t represent a demand for better meals but a dream for a beautiful life together throwing cocktail parties for a warm group of friends These are stories of people falling in love regretting mistakes and finding hope through books

Affect and American Literature in the Age of Neoliberalism examines the relationship between contemporary American literature and politics Through readings of works by Paul Auster Karen Tei Yamashita and others Smith challenges the neoliberal notion that emotions are the property of the self Narrative Unreliability in the Twentieth-Century First-Person Novel Elke D'hoker, Gunther Martens, 2008-12-10 This volume deals with the occurrence and development of unreliable first person narration in twentieth century Western literature. The different articles in this collection approach this topic both from the angle of literary theory and through a detailed reading of literary texts. By addressing questions concerning the functions characteristics and types of unreliability this collection contributes to the current theoretical debate about unreliable narration. At the same time the collection highlights the different uses to which unreliability has been put in different contexts poetical traditions and literary movements. It does so by tracing the unreliable first person narrator in a variety of texts from Dutch German American.

British French Italian Polish Danish and Argentinean literature In this way this volume significantly extends the traditional canon of narrative unreliability This collection combines essays from some of the foremost theoreticians of unreliability James Phelan Ansgar N nning with essays from experts in different national traditions. The result is a collection that approaches the case of narrative unreliability from a new and more varied perspective Do You Feel it Too? Nicoline Timmer, 2010 Do You Feel It Too explores a new sense of self that is becoming manifest in experimental fiction written by a generation of authors who can be considered the heirs of the postmodern tradition It offers a precise in depth analysis of a new post postmodern direction in fiction writing and highlights which aspects are most acute in the post postmodern novel Most notable is the emphatic expression of feelings and sentiments and a drive toward inter subjective connection and communication The self that is presented in these post postmodern works of fiction can best be characterized as relational To analyze this new sense of self a new interpretational method is introduced that offers a sophisticated approach to fictional selves combining the insights of post classical narratology and what is called narrative psychology Close analyses of three contemporary experimental texts Infinite Jest 1996 by David Foster Wallace A Heartbreaking Work of Staggering Genius 2000 by Dave Eggers and House of Leaves 2000 by Mark Danielewski provide insight into the typical problems that the self experiences in postmodern cultural contexts Three such problems or symptoms are singled out and analyzed in depth an inability to choose because of a lack of decision making tools a difficulty to situate or appropriate feelings and a structural need for a we a desire for connectivity and sociality The critique that can be distilled from these texts especially on the perceived solipsistic quality of postmodern experience worlds runs parallel to developments in recent critical theory. These developments in fiction and theory both signal in the wake of poststructural conceptions of subjectivity a perhaps much awaited turn to the human in our culture at large today n+1, Number One: Negation,
