Methods in Dialectology Alan R. Thomas,1988 This book reflects the current concerns of dialectologists as they exploit methodological tools in the twin contexts of insights which derive from sociology via sociolinguistics and their awareness of the interplay between synchronic variation and linguistic change

The Voices of Eden Albert J. Schütz,1995-01-01 How did outsiders first become aware of the Hawaiian language How were they and Hawaiians able to understand each other How was Hawaiian recorded and analyzed in the early decades after European contact Albert J Schutz provides illuminating answers to these and other questions about Hawaii s postcontact linguistic past The result is a highly readable and accessible account of Hawaiian history from a language centered point of view The author also provides readers with an exhaustive analysis and critique of nearly every work ever written about Hawaiian Empowering 21st Century Learners Through Holistic and Enterprising Learning Geok Bee Teh,Siew Chee Choy,2017-04-08 This book consists of a collection of selected papers presented at the TARC International Conference 2016 held from 17 to 18 October 2016 It offers a tool for empowering schools and teachers as a way forward for transforming education Educational Development and Infrastructure for Immigrants and Refugees Erçetin, Şefika Şule,2017-08-11 Education is a pivotal influence on all members of society However in the case of immigrants and refugees integrating into a new country allowing proper learning opportunities can offer specific challenges that must be overcome Educational Development and Infrastructure for Immigrants and Refugees is an innovative source of scholarly research on the role of education for refugees and immigrants and it examines methods to develop effective learning processes for these students Highlighting a range of perspectives on topics such as lifelong learning legal considerations and multiculturalism this book is ideally designed for teachers policy makers researchers academics and professionals actively involved in the education sector Speech and Interaction of Preadolescents with Autism Spectrum Disorder Mari Wiklund,2023-01-09 The book focuses on the interaction of persons with autism spectrum disorder ASD ASD is a neurobiological developmental disorder characterized by problems with social interaction over sensitivity to sensory stimuli and restricted interest APA 2013 Problems with social interaction being a core feature of ASD there is a scientific and a societal need for a book focusing on this topic The book approaches the interaction of persons with ASD from a new angle Firstly where most studies on ASD are based on data coming from experimental settings this book is based on naturally occurring data coming from group therapy sessions where 11 13 year old Finnish and French speaking boys with ASD talk with each other and with their therapists Secondly the book treats a variety of themes that have so far been studied much less than for example the pragmatic problems of persons with ASD These themes include the following aspects speech prosody characteristic features perception of atypicality by neurotypical listeners disfluencies of speech comparison with neurotypical controls comprehension problems role of prosody role of disfluencies other causes gaze behavior eye contact avoidance strategies using gaze as a source of feedback as well as therapists response strategies and teaching orientations The book is intended for researchers working in the field of autism professionals working with persons with ASD as well as for families of persons with ASD Toward Proto-Nostratic Allan R. Bomhard,1984 This book represents the culmination of the author s work to date it incorporates and updates previous articles and adds much new material This book is not nor was it ever intended to be a comparative grammar of either the Indo European or the Afroasiatic language families It is rather a comparison of Proto Indo European with Proto Afroasiatic While this is not the first attempt to demonstrate that Proto Indo European and Proto Afroasiatic are genetically related it is the first to use the radical revision of the Proto Indo European consonantal system proposed by Thomas V Gamkrelidze Paul J Hopper and Vjaceslav V Ivanov Moreover unlike previous endeavors this is the first to make extensive use of data from the non Semitic branches of Afroasiatic The assumptions underlying this investigation of the possibility of the common genetic origin of Proto Indo European and Proto Afroasiatic differ considerably from the assumptions made in other works on Nostratic the methodological approach followed in this monograph has been one of rigorous adherence to the time honored principles of comparative reconstruction Language and Education British Association for Applied Linguistics. Meeting,1996 The papers in this collection discuss educational applied linguistics discourse language policy and education professional culture in language education and learner language in educational settings Aspects of Language Teaching H. G. Widdowson,1990-04-19 This volume critically reviews the most prominent issues in language teaching today and relates them to general perspectives on the nature of language and of language teaching and learning
