 Jorge Lara Braud Director Council on Theology and Culture Presbyterian Church in the U S Costas writes from the background of an Hispanic Evangelical but goes far beyond the normal concerns of that tradition In a series of far ranging essays he deals with virtually every aspect of the contemporary missiological debate in a manner that is usually balanced and always provocative While some readers will violently question his views at certain points all will be stimulated and challenged to think more deeply and participate more effectively in the total world mission to which God has called His Church Paul E Concepci n Serv n Nieto Earthen Vessels Joel A. Carpenter, Wilbert R. Shenk, 2012-12-01 Contrary to popular impressions the days of the missionary are far from over North American churches send more missionaries than ever before and 90 percent of them are evangelicals who are not affiliated with the mainline Protestant mission boards The first major historical treatment of the distinctly evangelical wing of twentieth century American missions Earthen Vessels truly breaks new ground Covering territory that missions histories have scarcely explored yet the distinguished historians contributing to this volume portray the North American including Canadian evangelical missionary enterprise from the Student Volunteer Movement to the very recent past The book traces the influences of premillennial eschatology the fundamentalist modernist controversies the rise of independent missions and conservative denominational boards the role of World War II and America's rise to world power the recent development of a distinctly evangelical theology of missions and the growing influence of the Two Thirds World's evangelical leaders While this volume certainly does not contain the last word on these subjects in a number of areas it does offer very nearly the first look With its fresh subject matter and new historical interpretations Earthen Vessels will interest church history scholars and students missionaries and ministers and any others who wish to know more about American missions

A Survey of World Missions Robin Hadaway, 2020-05-01 Robin Hadaway presents a full survey of world missions addressing biblical theological and historical foundations as well as culture context philosophy and missions strategy

Race for Revival Helen Jin Kim, 2022 Race for Revival retells the story of modern American evangelicalism through its relationship with South Korea Employing a bilingual and bi-national approach Helen Jin Kim reexamines the narrative of modern evangelicalism through an innovative transpacific framework offering a new lens through which to understand evangelical history from the Korean War to the rise of Ronald Reagan

The Short-term Missions Boom Michael J. Anthony, 1994 By the year 2000 nearly three fourths of all missions work will be done by short-termers from teens to retirees Now in this guide to recruiting and planning Tony Campolo and 15 others show how to develop the congregation's vision involve Christians in a world missions organization and develop projects close to home
