A Great Revolution In The Brain World:

Classical Chinese Medicine Liu Lihong, 2019-04-19 The English edition of Liu Lihong's milestone work is a sublime beacon for the profession of Chinese medicine in the 21st century. Classical Chinese Medicine delivers a straightforward critique of the politically motivated integration of traditional Chinese wisdom with Western science during the last sixty years and represents an ardent appeal for the recognition of Chinese medicine as a science in its own right. Professor Liu's candid presentation has made this book a bestseller in China, treasured not only by medical students and doctors but by vast numbers of non-professionals who long for a state of health and well-being that is founded in a deeper sense of cultural identity. Oriental medicine education has made great strides in the West since the 1970s but clear guidelines regarding the traditional nature of Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM) remain undefined. Classical Chinese Medicine not only delineates the educational and clinical problems faced by the profession in both East and West but transmits concrete and inspiring guidance on how to effectively engage with ancient texts and designs in the postmodern age. Using the example of the Shanghanlun Treatise on Cold Damage, one of the most important Chinese medicine classics, Liu Lihong develops a compelling roadmap for holistic medical thinking that links the human body to nature and the universe at large.

Architecture Beyond Criticism Wolfgang F. E. Preiser, Aaron T. Davis, Ashraf M. Salama, Andrea Hardy, 2014-11-27 For the first time, this book demonstrates that the two paradigms of architectural criticism and performance evaluation can not only co-exist but complement each other in the assessment of built works. As architecture takes more principled stances worldwide from environmental sustainability to social cultural and economic activism, this book examines the roles of perceived and measured quality in architecture. By exploring in tandem both subjective traditional architectural criticism and environmental design and performance evaluation and its objective evaluation criteria, the book argues that both methodologies and outcomes can achieve a comprehensive assessment of quality in architecture. Curated by a global editorial team, the book includes Contributions from international architects and critics based in the UK, USA, Brazil, France, Qatar, Egypt, New Zealand, China, Japan, and Germany. Global case studies which illustrate both perspectives addressed by the book and comparative analyses of the findings. A six-part organization which includes introductions and conclusions from the editors to help guide the reader and further illuminate the contributions. By presenting a systematic approach to assessing building performance, design professionals will learn how to improve building design and performance with major stakeholders in mind, especially end users/occupants. Asian/Pacific Book Development, 1995 Keajaiban Otak Kanan (SC) dr. answers seeking neural correlates for consciousness self and free will In this book Georg Northoff does not propose new solutions to the mind body problem instead he questions the problem itself arguing that it is an empirically ontologically and conceptually implausible way to address the existence and reality of mental features We are better off he contends by addressing consciousness and other mental features in terms of the relationship between world and brain philosophers should consider the world brain problem rather than the mind body problem This calls for a Copernican shift in vantage point from within the mind or brain to beyond the brain in our consideration of mental features Northoff a neuroscientist psychiatrist and philosopher explains that empirical evidence suggests that the brain s spontaneous activity and its spatiotemporal structure are central to aligning and integrating the brain within the world This spatiotemporal structure allows the brain to extend beyond itself into body and world creating the world brain relation that is central to mental features Northoff makes his argument in empirical ontological and epistemic methodological terms He discusses current models of the brain and applies these models to recent data on neuronal features underlying consciousness and proposes the world brain relation as the ontological predisposition for consciousness     Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette ,1897
