International Law, Politics, and Inhumane Weapons Alan Bryden, 2013 This book contributes to contemporary debates on the effectiveness of international humanitarian law IHL in regulating or prohibiting inhumane weapons such as landmines Two treaties have emerged under IHL in response to the humanitarian scourge of landmines However despite a considerable body of related literature clear understandings have not been established on the effectiveness of these international legal frameworks in meeting the challenges that prompted their creation This book seeks to address this lacuna An analytical framework grounded in regime theory helps move beyond the limitations in the current literature through a structured focus on principles norms rules procedures actors and issue areas On the one hand this clarifies how political considerations determine opportunities and constraints in designing and implementing IHL regimes On the other it enables us to explore how and why ideal policy prescriptions are threatened when faced with complex challenges in post conflict contexts This book will be of much interest to students of international humanitarian law global governance human security and IR in general A Guide to the International Mine Action Standards Centre international de déminage humanitaire (Genève), 2006 Landmine Monitor Report , 2004 Landmine Monitor: Executive Summary 2007 , 2007
