evidence in criminal proceedings in England and Wales Great Britain: Law Commission, 2011-03-22 This project addressed the admissibility of expert evidence in criminal proceedings in England and Wales Currently too much expert opinion evidence is admitted without adequate scrutiny because no clear test is being applied to determine whether the evidence is sufficiently reliable to be admitted Juries may therefore be reaching conclusions on the basis of unreliable evidence as confirmed by a number of miscarriages of justice in recent years Following consultation on a discussion paper LCCP 190 2009 ISBN 9780118404655 the Commission recommends that there should be a new reliability based admissibility test for expert evidence in criminal proceedings The test would not need to be applied routinely or unnecessarily but it would be applied in appropriate cases and it would result in the exclusion of unreliable expert opinion evidence Under the test expert opinion evidence would not be admitted unless it was adjudged to be sufficiently reliable to go before a jury The draft Criminal Evidence Experts Bill published with the report as Appendix A sets out the admissibility test and also provides the guidance judges would need when applying the test setting out the key reasons why an expert's opinion evidence might be unreliable The Bill also codifies with slight modifications the uncontroversial aspects of the present law so that all the admissibility requirements for expert evidence would be set out in a single Act of Parliament and carry equal authority
