Lawson,2012-05-24 Written from an archaeological perspective Painted Caves is a beautifully illustrated introduction to the oldest art of Western Europe the very ancient paintings found in caves Lawson offers an up to date overview of the geographical distribution of the sites and their significance within the varied network of Palaeolithic art Cave Art and Climate Change Kieran D. O'Hara,2014-10-03 French and Spanish Upper Paleolithic cave art was drawn forty thousand to eleven thousand years ago and it was motivated by climate change Kieran D O'Hara a geologist and professor emeritus at the University of Kentucky explains why we know that to be true in this groundbreaking book His goal isn't to explore the meaning of cave art but to show why it was done While many scholars argue that the art depicted in these caves don't depict the animals of that period O'Hara argues just the opposite putting forth the controversial theory that the cave paintings accurately reflect the climate and animals that existed alongside the artists For far too long cave art specialists have incorrectly concluded that cave art doesn't match up with the reality of life at the time because they've been comparing archaeological bone remains with cave imagery of a different age Paleolithic people survived through the most severe swings in climate this planet has experienced in the past two million years and it was a major factor in what cave artists depicted Examine the facts and discover a new interpretation with Cave Art and Climate Change Deep-Time Images in the Age of Globalization Oscar Moro Abadía,Margaret W. Conkey,Josephine McDonald,2024-05-13 This open access volume explores the impact of globalization on the contemporary study of deep time art The volume explores how early rock art research's Eurocentric biases have shifted with broadened global horizons to facilitate new conversations and discourses in new post colonial realities The book uses seven main themes to explore theoretical methodological ethical and practical developments that are orienting the study of Pleistocene and Holocene arts in the age of globalization Compiling studies as diverse as genetics visualization with the proliferation of increasingly sophisticated archaeological techniques means that vast quantities of materials and techniques are now incorporated into the analysis of the world's visual cultures. Deep Time Images in the Age of Globalization aims to promote critical reflection on the multitude of positive and negative impacts that globalization has wrought in rock art research. The volume brings new theoretical frameworks as well as engagement with indigenous knowledge and perspectives from art history. It highlights technical, methodological and interpretive developments and showcases rock art characteristics from previously unknown in the global north geographic areas. This book provides comparative approaches on rock art globally and scrutinises the impacts of globalization on research, preservation and management of deep time art. This book will appeal to archaeologists, social scientists and art historians working in the field as well as lovers of rock art. Lonely Planet Spain Lonely Planet, Guy Davenport, 2007-07-20

Guy Davenport, 1927-2005, an American writer of fiction, poetry, criticism and essays, a translator, painter, intellectual and teacher, brought a breadth and depth of knowledge to his pursuits that few other writers could approach, let alone appraise. In Andre Furlani, this twentieth-century American master has finally found an apt critical reader. In this first sustained critical study of Davenport, Furlani elucidates the depths of Davenport's fiction and its poetic precedents, bringing a rare understanding to the author's reworking of twentieth-century literature and intellectual history and offering unusual insight into his compositional technique. Furlani explores key themes across the spectrum of Davenport's fiction: pastoral utopia, twentieth-century dystopia, sexual ethics, the mythologizing of childhood, the inseparability of the archaic and the modern, and a celebration of the union of sophia, eros and poesia. Whether Davenport's view of art and the cosmos should be called postmodern is a question that Furlani considers closely, offering finally a new aesthetic for this American original who in these pages at last receives the thorough and meticulous attention he has long merited.

Visual Culture, Heritage and Identity: Using Rock Art to Reconnect Past and Present Andrzej Rozwadowski, Jamie Hampson, 2021-06-17 This book presents a fresh perspective on rock art by considering how ancient images function in the present. It focuses on how ancient heritage is recognized and reified in the modern world and how rock art stimulates contemporary processes of cultural identity making. Art in World History 2 Vols Mary Hollingsworth, Giulio Carlo Argan, 2016-06-03 This is a collection of two volumes covering the History of Art and its relationship with human development, religion and cultures. Volume One starts from the early civilisations and the origins of art in early artifacts, the kingdoms of Mesopotamia and Ancient Egypt, Eastern Mediterranean and the empire in China. It continues onto the sixteenth century, taking in Classical Greece and Rome, Byzantine Art, the Carolingian Empire, explain to the rise of Islamic, African Art and the development of India. Art around the religions of Buddhism, Jainism and Hinduism as well as Chinese Art of Taoism and Confucianism. Much of art in the medieval age was influenced by the conquests, religion and faith as well as gothic and Italian City State art. The early renaissance of the fifteenth century is heavily steeped in the history of Florence and the Papacy as well as the princes and merchants of northern Europe.

compassing Venetian art at the end of the sixteenth century Volume Two continues until the twentieth century looking at the themes of power and image in the European courts as well as the Muslim Courts The strength of the Catholic church influences the Roman and Baroque art developments of the seventeenth century as well as expeditions to the Americas Spain and the Netherlands The frivolity and extravagance dominates eighteenth century art with the arrival of Rococo and a return to neoclassicism which moved to romanticism in the nineteenth century and the freedom of realism impressionism and the new materials of the industrial revolution in the twentieth century Both volumes contain an index of names and places

Foundations of Culture Harald Haarmann, 2007 Constructing culture means constructing knowledge and making it operational for the benefit of sustained community life As a cognitive process knowledge construction does not evolve in a vacuum but rather interacts with belief systems and worldview Cultural knowledge is modulated by key factors such as time linear versus non linear conceptions of reality physical imagined virtual identity and intentionality The critical investigation and comparison of cultures in space and time call for a revision of several concepts These include utility as the maxim of modern Euro American society prototype as an allegedly unified concept of culture evolution and replacement as a generalizing signifier for the exchange of old items for new ones The working of cultural memory is understood as the storage capacity of items of knowledge relating to the past present and future according to parameters of experienced rather than absolute time This study discusses a wide selection of the variables shaping the foundations and fabric of culture starting with the human capacities for symbol making and using sign systems The impact of knowledge construction on the culture process is articulated in 30 postulates concerning the dynamics of communal life and patterns of sustenance the relationship between the natural environment and cultural space and the life cycle of cultures
