Creating Successful Telementoring Program Perspectives On Mentoring Paperback:

Creating Successful Telementoring Programs Frances K. Kochan, Joseph T. Pascarelli, 2005 This volume Technological Aspects of Mentoring edited by Frances K Kochan and Joseph T Pascarelli will examine mentoring in the technological age It will focus upon the impact and use of technology in terms of program development mentoring roles problems and solutions and issues to be addressed including confidentiality ethics and implications for future practice The editors will explore the possibilities for tomorrow from the work of today Uncovering the Cultural Dynamics in Mentoring Programs and Relationships Frances K. Kochan, Andrea M. Kent, André M. Green, 2014-12-01 Although cultural issues have a powerful influence on the failure and success of mentoring programs and relationships there is scant research on this area and little in the way of guidelines that practitioners can use to help assure mentoring success This book seeks to expand our knowledge and understanding of this topic and to foster the use of this information to enhance practice and research The book is unique in a number of ways and will be an important resource for all those engaged in mentoring endeavors and for those conducting research in this area First it presents research findings on the cultural impact of mentoring at the individual relational level at the organizational level and within the structures of the society Secondly the chapters describe mentoring from an international perspective including programs from Africa Australia Canada Finland India Ireland Korea Scotland Sweden and the United States Third the book is research based and yet can be easily applied to practice Chapters provide information on lessons learned and also include reflective questions to enable the reader to delve more deeply into the constructs and findings in order to apply them to their own practice and research This makes the book an ideal resource for training mentors and mentees for designing mentoring programs for teaching about mentoring and for establishing and maintaining mentoring relationships It also will be of value to those who are engaged in conducting research on how to create and maintain successful mentoring relationships and programs Endorsements All mentoring relationships are diverse Indeed it is the difference between mentor and mentee that creates the potential for co learning Mentoring that bridges cultural gaps opens the way to an exchange of understanding about both internal and external assumptions and perspectives how each of us thinks and how the world functions for each of us In this book the editors and contributors demonstrate the diversity of diversity with particular focus on education in different societies I recommend it as essential background reading for anyone designing mentoring programmes in which cultural diversity will be a significant dynamic Dr David Clutterbuck Special Ambassador European Mentoring and Coaching Council In this boundary spanning volume the authors pull back the curtain on the latest evolution of mentoring theory and practice revealing that all mentoring relationships are intrinsically cultural Not only that the researchers present creative empirically sound ideas for mentoring at different scales personal encounters networked communities and loose collectives This book is robustly inclusive of structural layers of mentoring differentiated by context whether higher education schools or collegial communities making meaning of cultural diversity as part of one's inner core of relational and systematic mentoring. Practitioners of mentoring and researchers of mentoring alike should find this work important for understanding the breadth and depth of mentoring in different cultural contexts while allowing its essence to remain unfolding rather than simply told. All mentoring professionals can gain insight and value from the diversity of theoretical orientations that capture as well as map the impact of global and cultural influences of mentoring in everyday worlds. A must read for all who care about the quality of educational relationships and about making a difference in learning settings. Dr. Carol A. Mullen, Professor of Educational Leadership, Virginia Tech University Council for Educational Administration, UCEA Plenary Session Representative. PSR Creating Successful Mentoring Programs Catalyst (Organization), 2002. A how to guide on mentoring programs. Mentoring for the Professions Aimee Howley, Mary Barbara Trube, 2014-10-01. This edited volume brings together conceptual and empirical work from various professional fields to inform a perspective on mentoring that goes beyond what is needed for today and orients toward what is needed for the future in order to promote healthy and productive organizations. This perspective is important because the pace of change in organizations is rapid and increasingly so. Under conditions of rapid and on going change employees, students and colleagues all are learners and the learning needs of these adults demand meaningful and focused strategies for professional development. A major strategy with demonstrated value for fostering learning among adults is mentoring which contributes both relational and structural support for such learning. This support helps organizations build communities of practice in which colleagues alternate the role of mentor and mentee by sharing different types of expertise and different perspectives on organizational challenges. Chapters within the book focus on theoretical perspectives on mentoring, the connection between change and mentoring, the character of the leadership that mentoring entails, the developmental processes that mentees experience, the transformation of the mentee as a result of mentoring, the value of matching mentor and mentee styles and the role of mentoring in organizational team building. Furthermore, some chapters explore the similarities and differences in individual versus group mentoring. And some of the contributions elaborate linkages among mentoring concepts and those used in related practices such as coaching and distributed leadership. Mentoring In Health Professions Education Alice Fornari, Darshana T. Shah, 2022-01-11. This IAMSE Manual, Mentoring Across the Continuum, is a product of its co editors and authors' lifetime work in mentoring faculty and studying the impact of this mentoring. The book defines the field of academic medicine as highly dependent on finding and relating to mentors at virtually every stage of a doctor's career. It describes and analyzes successful mentor-mentee relationships, examining the authors' personal experiences as well as a data driven approach to explore the many different roles and perspectives on mentoring relationships and ultimately the mentoring culture. The editors look at the data with respect to the success of different strategies in mentoring as well as different structures of diverse mentoring programs. As well proven ways to deliver these programs successfully for all professionals who lead mentoring programs or are active participants as mentees. There is a special emphasis on the mentoring of medical educators However the themes explored in this book are generalizable beyond the medical educator to include diverse academic roles across the continuum In particular enumerating the many specific roles of a mentor beyond just the traditional concepts adds breadth and depth to understanding what can be gained from mentor mentee relationships This Manual is a valuable resource for clinicians educators and trainees in addition to anyone involved in medical education and progressing through the stages of practicing teaching and learning in medicine This Manual represents a meaningful addition to the literature on this most important professional subject
