Creating Writers Vicki Spandel, 2008 Written by the pioneer of 6 trait writing this fifth edition brings everything up to date offering a comprehensive overview of the best education strategies and philosophies of writing assessment and instruction. It provides clear guidelines on helping students draft, assess and revise their writing as well as explicit criteria to show students precisely what they must do to succeed as writers in virtually any situation. Because the six traits are so widely used at the state level many school districts are incorporating them into state standards and state assessments. This book can dramatically help teachers to prepare their students for success on state tests and beyond. Give students the preparation they need to become writers for life. New lessons suggested by numerous teachers throughout the country all tested and tried with students in the classroom. Lesson ideas connected to sample papers offering students many opportunities to learn and practice revision skills. Updated rubrics offering greater clarity and ease of use including a teacher favorite the Leap the River 6 point model that shows students precisely when and how writing moves from beginning levels in need of revision to proficient levels demonstrating strength. A brand new 3 level rubric that can be adapted as a 5 or 6 point scale. This model offers students and teachers more flexibility than they have ever had in a rubric with the descriptive richness of the 5 point scale and the thoroughness and precision of the 6 point. New teacher voices in Chapter 10 to offer a wide range of instructional ideas. The author explicitly identifies key strategies making this chapter much more user friendly and easy to skim for favorite moments. Spanish translations offered for some key items. Leap the River rubric for students a Spanish student checklist and also brand new Spanish trait summaries for use by teachers in introducing the traits. Strategies for challenged writers and for those who need a challenge are part of virtually every chapter from lessons to process to recommendations from teachers. Those who work with struggling writers will gain ideas for making revision small and manageable while those who work with more advanced students will discover ways to make trait based writing as challenging as their students can handle. New primary continuums invite even the youngest writers into the trait based classroom all while emphasizing instruction, exploration and discovery not assessment. Study group discussion questions and activities offer challenging and diverse ways for study groups or students in a writing class to extend their learning and work in teams. This book is intended to be used by groups who are serious about rethinking and redesigning their writing instruction and who wish to make the six traits part of that plan. Increased emphasis on informational writing appears.

teachers lounge bring up the topic of how best to teach grammar There is a wide spectrum of opinion Traditionalists claim that we must explicitly teach grammar Students drill the basics and diagram sentences Sometimes their study and drills take the place of writing but these teachers claim that good writing demands good grammar At the opposite end of the spectrum are teachers who claim that the best way to learn grammar is to write thereby being forced to use grammar in writing and editing They reason that students will learn grammar in the context of actually using it without all the drills and worksheets They trust the writing process to instill an appreciation for grammar instead of actually teaching it Teachers on the write to learn grammar side claim that students who are only taught grammar rules might pass tests but since they didn't learn in the context of writing they typically don't apply the rules when they write Grammar traditionalists say students in writing classes never learn grammar at all because it is not explicitly taught In Tools Not Rules authors Tommy Thomason and Geoff Ward take the middle ground position that grammar should be taught as part of the writing process Tommy Thomason is a veteran journalist and university journalism professor at TCU Geoff Ward is a well known Australian professor and associate dean from James Cook University in Townsville Both have written several books and work extensively with American teachers Publisher's website <http://www.eloquentbooks.com/ToolsNotRules/TeachingGrammarInTheWritingClassroom.html>
