Dependency and Socialism in the Modern Caribbean Euclid A. Rose, 2002-01-01 Was the Anglophone Caribbean condemned by its colonial history to permanent conditions of dependency and by Cold War geopolitical realities to international interventionism In Dependency and Socialism in the Modern Caribbean Euclid Rose focuses upon the efforts made by the English speaking Caribbean through case studies that compare and contrast the political economies of Guyana Jamaica and Grenada to break out of the legacy of colonial dependency and underdevelopment through the implementation of a Caribbean brand of socialism The work considers the Caribbean s adoption of Fabian style socialism as an alternative to capitalist development and how these socialist policies were impacted by differences in infrastructure capacity economic and social resources and political agendas It highlights the pivotal role of race and class and the hitherto little studied impact of religion on the region s political economy Moreover the study calculates the impact of the global economy upon Caribbean socio economic conditions and the ideological geopolitical and strategic implications of the Cold War and the Caribbean s socialist alignment on the nature character and intensity of British and American interventionism in the region A must read for political economists in search of a greater understanding of the postcolonial political economy of the Caribbean and Latin America The New Canadian Political Economy Wallace Clement, Glen Williams, 1989 Studies in political economy are now at a crossroads The revival of political economy as an important area of research in Canada began in the early 1970s with the publication of Kari Levitt s Silent Surrender In 1976 it was launched in earnest by the fi Regional Development Agencies Nicola Bellini, Mike Danson, Henrik Halkier, 2012 Across Europe regional development agencies RDAs have become a central feature of regional policy both as innovative policy makers and as the implementers of programmes and initiatives originating from the national or European level Since the first generation of RDAs were established in the 1970s and 1980s major changes have swept through the policy arena globalisation has increased competitive pressure and moved the position of regions in the international division of labour to the forefront of regional strategy making the digital revolution and the EU Lisbon agenda have highlighted the importance of production and access to knowledge as key factors in regional competitiveness regional policy has become part of a wider system of multi level governance so that their geographical horizon has expanded in terms of sponsors and collaborators issues of governance and accountability of RDAs have been one of the drivers to devolution of powers to governments and bodies below the level of the nation state raising questions over their status and distance from political control The aim of this book is to develop a profile of the next generation of RDAs that will identify key issues and trends regarding policy aims strategy making and the new role of knowledge the organisation of policy delivery with emphasis on interactive knowledge brokerage the organisational shift towards smaller and more flexible RDAs and the political governance of regional policy By drawing on a combination of conceptual reflection surveys comparative research and systematic use of critical case studies the book provides a new point of reference by identifying key features of the current and indeed next generation of regionally based economic development organisations Path Dependence and Creation Raghu Garud, Peter Karnoe, 2013-05-13 The editors aware of the recent work in evolutionary theory and the science of chaos and complexity challenge the sometimes deterministic flavor of this subject They are interested in uncovering the place of agency in these theories that take history so seriously In the end they are as interested in path creation and destruction as they are in path dependence This book is compiled of both theoretical and empirical writings It shows relatively well known industries such as the automobile biotechnology and semi conductor industries in a new light It also invites the reader to learn more about medical practices wind power lasers and synthesizers Primarily written for academicians researchers and Ph D students in fields related to technology management this book is research oriented and will appeal to all managers

Path Dependence and New Path Creation in Renewable Energy Technologies James Simmie, 2016-01-08 Why are old technologies persisted with after better alternatives have been invented This book examines this question a central concern of evolutionary economics specifically focusing on renewable energy technologies The concept of path dependence is used to analyse why and how technological development can become locked in to inefficient ways of doing things This book shows how lock in can be avoided by the creation of new technological pathways The chapters focus on the comparatively recent introduction of new wind turbine technologies for the generation of carbon free electricity This case study provides valuable lessons in understanding the issues confronting inventors attempting to commercialise their new ideas in the form of innovations in the face of historically established conventional technologies It is also set within the critical debate on climate change and the need to de carbonise energy supplies in order to stop further man made deterioration in the global environment This book was originally published as a special issue of European Planning Studies

Regional Development in Australia Robyn Eversole, 2015-12-22 In Australia regions are not just geographic locations they are also cultural ideas Being regional means being located outside the nation s capital cities and in the periphery of its centres of power and influence Regional development in Australia is thus significantly different than its European or American counterparts However surprisingly little has been written about the unique dynamics of development in Australia s regions this book has been written to fill this gap In recent decades the Australian government has made repeated policy efforts to achieve sustainable development in its non metropolitan areas Over the same period those who live and work outside the nation s capital cities have come to identify as regional Australians This book takes an anthropological approach to understanding the particularities of regional development in Australia It draws upon rich on the ground observations of towns industries universities development organisations and communities across different settings to provide an in depth understanding of the subject This book will be of interest to researchers and practitioners concerned with regional development and policy
