Thomas Becket: Friends, Networks, Texts and Cult Anne J. Duggan, 2023-05-31 Becket's life was lived on a European stage his cause was conducted in a European setting and the cult of the new martyr spread with extraordinary rapidity to the furthest reaches of Latin Christendom before the end of the twelfth century The fifteen studies collected here reflect not only the global reach of the subject but the diverse expertise of their author whose edition and translation of the Correspondence of Archbishop Thomas Becket 2000 and acclaimed biography Thomas Becket 2004 have established her place in Becket studies Based on the critical examination of manuscripts and texts this collection focuses first on the papal curia and Becket's household in exile The following studies deal with Becket's letters and their authorship the coronation of the young King Henry 1170 and

Henry II's reconciliation at Avranches 1172 The final part traces the explosion of Becket's cult the transmission of hagiographical and liturgical texts to France Germany and Portugal and the role of diverse agencies of dissemination Henry II's daughters for example in Saxony Castile and Sicily and the Cistercian and Augustinian orders whose networks of houses embraced the whole of Europe The Register of John Morton, Archbishop of Canterbury, 1486-1500 Catholic Church. Province of Canterbury (England). Archbishop (1486-1500 : Morton), John Morton, Canterbury and York Society, 2000 This volume which completes the edition of Cardinal Morton's register deals exclusively with the administration of the diocese of Norwich during the vacancy of 1499 and represents one of the most complete records of the governance of any English diocese over a short period The original Latin text is here presented in the form of a full English calendar the contents include a detailed financial account 140 wills presented for probate judgements in the consistory court at Norwich and the record of a visitation of the parishes of Suffolk The wills provide valuable insights into the religious motivation of East Anglians at the end of the middle ages while the visitation returns and court judgements reveal much about the conduct of clergy and laity This is thus a valuable source not only for the religious and social history of late medieval East Anglia but also for the condition of the church in England thirty years before the Henrician Reformation Memorials of the Cathedral & Priory of Christ in Canterbury Charles Eveleigh Woodruff, William Danks, 1912 Registers During Archiepiscopal Vacancies Catholic Church. Archbishop, 1414-1443 (Henry Chichele), 1938 Memorials of the Cathedral and Priory of Christ in Canterbury (Classic Reprint) C. Eveleigh Woodruff, 2016-08-16 Excerpt from Memorials of the Cathedral and Priory of Christ in Canterbury The aim of the authors of the present book is to give a trustworthy readable and compendious account of the Cathedral from the earliest times to the present day To do this within the compass of a single octavo volume it has been necessary to confine the range of view strictly to the church and its custodians Thus since the book does not claim to be a history of the See of Canterbury little is said about the Archbishops except when they came into contact with the defacto governing body prior and convent before and dean and chapter after the Reformation To write a history of the great Benedictine priory of Christ Church would require a separate volume but its fortunes and internal economy are sketched in the following pages with some fulness of detail and this we believe to be a distinctive feature of the present book Throughout an honest attempt has been made to go to first hand sources of information and the recent rearrangement of the Cathedral archives has Opened out some which have not hitherto been available Full advantage has been taken of this Opportunity with the result that the authors have been able to incorporate in their book some fresh matter and much more which if not absolutely new has hitherto been known only to a few About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
