Wilderness Dog; the Biography of a Gray Wolf, 1910 Metabiography Caitríona Ní Dhúill, 2020-03-09 This book explores the contradictions of biography It charts shifting approaches to the writing and reading of biographies from post hagiographical attitudes of the Enlightenment heroic biographies of Romanticism and irreverent modernist portraits through to contemporary experiments in politically committed and hybrid forms of life writing The book shows how biographical texts in fact destabilise the models of historical visibility cultural prominence and narrative coherence that the genre itself seems to uphold Addressing the fraught relationships between genre and gender private and public image and text life and narrative that play out in the modern biographical tradition Metabiography suggests new possibilities for reading writing and thinking about this enduringly popular genre The Timber Wolf in Wisconsin Richard P. Thiel, 1993 In early 1958 in the far northern town of Cornucopia Wisconsin's last timber wolf was accidentally run over by an automobile The humane intention to end the animal's suffering produced a grisly aftermath the wolf survived the impact of the car was bludgeoned with a tire iron twice but survived and finally had its throat slit with a restaurant knife This horrifying scene is certainly an apt if appalling symbol of the timber wolf's early fate in Wisconsin Feared detested hunted down for state authorized bounties the animal was systematically exterminated as an enemy of man and progress Yet this bleak chapter in the history of conservation has a happier ending Seventeen years later in 1975 the timber wolf had officially reestablished itself and as a protected species is now flourishing under the care of Wisconsin's Department of Natural Resources Few can be more caring than the author a DNR educator in wildlife management As an inquisitive teenager Richard Thiel began his pursuit of the Wisconsin timber wolf's story in the mid 1960s and has been at it ever since The result is this arresting intensely readable

Bio-inspired Algorithms for Data Streaming and Visualization, Big Data Management, and Fog Computing Simon James Fong, Richard C. Millham, 2020-08-25 This book aims to provide some insights into recently developed bio inspired algorithms within recent emerging trends of fog computing sentiment analysis and data streaming as well as to provide a more comprehensive approach to the big data management from pre processing to analytics to visualization phases The subject area of this book is within the realm of computer science notably algorithms meta heuristic and more particularly bio inspired algorithms Although application domains of these new algorithms may be mentioned the scope of this book is not on the application of algorithms to specific or general domains but to provide an update on recent research trends for bio inspired algorithms within a specific application domain or emerging area These areas include data streaming fog computing and phases of big data management One of the reasons for writing this book is that the bio inspired approach does not receive much attention but shows considerable promise and diversity in terms of approach of many issues in big data and streaming Some novel approaches of this book are the use of these algorithms to all phases of data management not just a particular phase such as data mining or business intelligence as many books focus on effective demonstration of the effectiveness of a selected algorithm within a chapter against comparative algorithms using the experimental method Another novel approach is a brief overview and evaluation of traditional algorithms both sequential and parallel for use in data mining in order to provide an overview of existing algorithms in use This overview complements a further chapter on bio inspired algorithms for data mining to enable readers to make a more suitable choice of algorithm for data mining within a particular context In all chapters references for further reading are provided and in selected chapters the author also include ideas for future research
