Biological Metaphor And Cladistic Classification An Interdisciplinary Approach:

Biological Metaphor and Cladistic Classification Henry M. Hoenigswald, Linda F. Wiener, 2016-11-11 The dynamic aspect of biological systems the birth growth and death of individual organisms the evolution of one form into another over time has formed the basis for metaphors used in many fields for both artistic and heuristic purposes Cladistic classification uses a tree whose branch points are based on the possession of derived or relatively recent characteristics rather than primitive ones Metaphor II Jean-Pierre Noppen, Edith Hols, 1990-01-01 Metaphor though not now the scholarly mania it once was remains a topic of great interest in many disciplines albeit with interesting shifts in emphasis Warren Shibbes Metaphor An Annotated Bibliography and History Bloomington Ind 1971 recorded the initial interest Then Metaphor A Bibliography of Post 1970 Publications published by John Benjamins continued the record through the mania years up to 1985 when writings proliferated as metaphor was seen to be a fundamental category in human thought and language Five years later there is a need for a report on the newest thinking and tendencies in the field This need is fulfilled by Metaphor II which offers a comprehensive view of information which would otherwise remain scattered throughout a numbing plethora of resources including many sometimes hard to find publications from Eastern Europe Metaphor II systematically collects references of books articles and papers published between 1985 and May 1990 and includes for completeness corrections and additions to the earlier bibliographies Abstracts are given for many of the titles while four indices disciplines semantic fields metaphor theory and names multiply the number of access points to the information Ancestors and Relatives Eviatar Zerubavel, 2012-01-26 Noted social scientist Eviatar Zerubavel casts a critical eye on how we trace our past individually and collectively arguing that rather than simply find out who our ancestors are from genetics or history we actually create the stories that make them our ancestors Handbook of Stemmatology Philipp Roelli, 2020-09-07 Stemmatology studies aspects of textual criticism that use genealogical methods to analyse a set of copies of a text whose autograph has been lost This handbook is the first to cover the entire field encompassing both theoretical and practical aspects of traditional as well as modern digital methods and their history As an art ars stemmatology's main goal is editing and thus presenting to the reader a historical text in the most satisfactory way As a more abstract discipline scientia it is interested in the general principles of how texts change in the process of being copied Thirty eight experts from all of the fields involved have joined forces to write this handbook whose eight chapters cover material aspects of text traditions the genesis and methods of traditional Lachmannian textual criticism and the objections raised against it as well as modern digital methods used in the field The two concluding chapters take a closer look at how this approach towards texts and textual criticism has developed in some disciplines of textual scholarship and compare methods used in other fields that deal with descent with modification The handbook thus serves as an introduction to this interdisciplinary field Beyond Cladistics David M. Williams, Sandra Knapp, 2010-10-28 Cladistics or phylogenetic systematics an approach to discovering unraveling and testing hypotheses of evolutionary history took hold during a turbulent and acrimonious time in the history of systematics. During this period the 1960s and 1970s much of the foundation of modern systematic methodology was established as cladistic approaches became widely accepted. Virtually complete by the end of the 1980s the wide perception has been that little has changed. This volume vividly illustrates that cladistic methodologies have continued to be developed improved upon and effectively used in ever widening analytically imaginative ways.

Handbook of Evolutionary Thinking in the Sciences Thomas Heams, Philippe Huneman, Guillaume Lecointre, Marc Silberstein, 2014-11-23

The Darwinian theory of evolution is itself evolving and this book presents the details of the core of modern Darwinism and its latest developmental directions. The authors present current scientific work addressing theoretical problems and challenges in four sections beginning with the concepts of evolution theory its processes of variation heredity selection adaptation and function and its patterns of character species descent and life. The second part of this book scrutinizes Darwinism in the philosophy of science and its usefulness in understanding ecosystems whilst the third section deals with its application in disciplines beyond the biological sciences including evolutionary psychology and evolutionary economics Darwinian morality and phylolinguistics. The final section addresses anti Darwinism the creationist view and issues around teaching evolution in secondary schools. The reader learns how current experimental biology is opening important perspectives on the sources of variation and thus of the very power of natural selection. This work examines numerous examples of the extension of the principle of natural selection and provides the opportunity to critically reflect on a rich theory on the methodological rigour that presides in its extensions and exportations and on the necessity to measure its advantages and also its limits. Scholars interested in modern Darwinism and scientific research its concepts research programs and controversies will find this book an excellent read and those considering how Darwinism might evolve how it can apply to the human sciences and other disciplines beyond its origins will find it particularly valuable. Originally produced in French Les Mondes Darwiniens the scope and usefulness of the book have led to the production of this English text to reach a wider audience. This book is a milestone in the impressive penetration by Francophone scholars into the world of Darwinian science its historiography and philosophy over the last two decades. Alex Rosenberg R Taylor Cole Professor of Philosophy Duke University. Until now this useful and comprehensive handbook has only been available to francophones. Thanks to this invaluable new translation this collection of insightful and original essays can reach the global audience it deserves. Tim Lewens University of Cambridge

The Philosophy and Science of Language Ryan M. Nefdt, Carita Klippi, Bart Karstens, 2021-03-30

This volume brings together a diverse range of scholars to address important philosophical and interdisciplinary questions in the study of language. Linguistics throughout history has been a conduit to the study of the mind brain societal structure literature and history itself. The epistemic and methodological transfer between the sciences and humanities in regards to linguistics has often been documented but the underlying philosophical issues have not always been adequately addressed. With 15 original and interdisciplinary chapters this volume therefore tackles vital questions relating to the philosophy history and theoretical interplay between the study of language and fields as varied as logic physics biology classical philology and neuroscience With a four part structure questions of the mathematical foundations of linguistics links to the natural sciences cognitive implications and historical connections take centre stage throughout the volume The final chapters present research related to the linguistic connections between history philosophy and the humanities more broadly Advancing new avenues of research this volume is exemplary in its treatment of diachronic and cross disciplinary interaction and will be of interest to all scholars interested in the study of language     The Future of Phylogenetic Systematics David Williams,Michael Schmitt,Quentin

Wheeler,2016-07-21 This book documents Willi Hennig s founding of phylogenetic systematics and the relevancy of his work for the future of cladistics     Canadian Language Policies in Comparative Perspective Michael A. Morris,2010 A systematic examination of language policies in Canada based on domestic and international comparisons     Form and formalism in linguistics James McElvenny,2019-06-06 Form and formalism are a pair of highly productive and polysemous terms that occupy a central place in much linguistic scholarship Diverse notions of form embedded in biological cognitive and aesthetic discourses have been employed in accounts of language structure and relationship while formalism harbours a family of senses referring to particular approaches to the study of language as well as representations of linguistic phenomena This volume brings together a series of contributions from historians of science and philosophers of language that explore some of the key meanings and uses that these multifaceted terms and their derivatives have found in linguistics and what these reveal about the mindset temperament and daily practice of linguists from the nineteenth century up to the present day     Studies in Stemmatology II Pieter Th. van Reenen,A. A. den Hollander,Margot van Mulken,2004-01-01

Stemmatology is the discipline that attempts to reconstruct the transmission of a text on the basis of relations between the various surviving manuscripts The object of this volume is the evaluation of the most recent methods and techniques in the field of stemmatology as well as the development of new ones The book is largely interdisciplinary in character it contains contributions from scholars from classical historical biblical medieval and modern language studies as well as from mathematical and computer scientists and biologists The contributions in the book have been divided into two sections The first section deals with various stemmatological methods and techniques The second section focuses more specifically on the various problems concerning textual variation An earlier volume on Studies in Stemmatology was published in 1996 and opened the most actual state of the art in stemmatology to a broad audience That first volume was very well received by stemmatologists and also gave an impulse to new research as several articles in the current volume clearly illustrate Both volumes are of interest to scholars in historical linguistics literary studies Bible studies classical studies medieval studies and history     Darwin and the Nature of Species David N. Stamos,2012-02-01 Since the 1859 publication of On the Origin of Species the concept of species in biology has been widely debated with its precise definition far from settled And yet amazingly there have been no books devoted to Charles Darwin's thinking on the term until now David N Stamos gives us a groundbreaking historical reconstruction of Darwin's detailed yet often misinterpreted thoughts on this complex concept Stamos provides a thorough and detailed analysis of Darwin's extensive writings both published and unpublished in order to reveal Darwin's actual species concept Stamos argues that Darwin had a unique evolutionary species concept in mind one that was not at all a product of his time Challenging currently accepted views that believe Darwin was merely following the species ascriptions of his fellow naturalists Stamos works to prove that this prevailing nominalistic view should be overturned This book also addresses three issues pertinent to the philosophy of science the modern species problem the nature of concept change in scientific revolutions and the contextualist trend in professional history of science

Yesterday's Words Marijke Mooijaart, Marijke van der Wal, 2021-02-03 Yesterday's Words Contemporary Current and Future Lexicography reflects the main issues of scholarly discussion in the fields of historical lexicography and lexicology including the historiography of lexicography The state of the art volume offers a wide range of contributions in five chapters After the editors' introduction to Yesterday's Words the chapter Dictionaries and Dictionary Makers of Former Ages concentrates on historical lexicography including both the main lexicographical works in English and German and dictionaries of minority languages such as Frisian Welsh Irish and Scots The Vocabulary of the Past discusses historical lexicological and etymological issues such as the results of early language contact in the West Germanic area and in Jamaica in more recent times Researchers involved in ongoing lexicographical projects such as the first dictionary of Old Dutch report on their practice and methodological approach in Current and Future Lexicography and Lexicology Many dictionaries or dictionary research projects discussed in the volume have been or are being carried out in a digital environment In the final chapter Technology of Today for Yesterday's Words special attention is paid to projects in which computer techniques and the development of new applications have been essential The volume is an essential text for lexicographers historiographers and historical linguists

Diversions of Galway Anders Ahlqvist, 1992-01-01 This volume contains a selection of papers from the Fifth International Conference on the History of the Language Sciences dealing with subjects ranging from the classical period till the 20th century

Time Maps Eviatar Zerubavel, 2020-03-04 The pioneering sociologist and author of The Seven Day Circle continues his analysis of time with this fascinating look at history as social construct Who were the first people to inhabit North America Does the West Bank belong to the Arabs or the Jews Why are racists so obsessed with origins Is a seventh cousin still a cousin Why do some societies name their children after dead ancestors As Eviatar Zerubavel demonstrates in Time Maps we cannot answer burning questions such as these without a deeper understanding of how we envision the past In a pioneering attempt to map the structure of collective memory Zerubavel considers the cognitive patterns we use to organize the past and the social grammar of conflicting interpretations of history Drawing on fascinating examples that range from Hiroshima to the Holocaust and from ancient Egypt to the former Yugoslavia Zerubavel shows how we construct historical origins how we tie discontinuous events together into stories how we link families and entire nations through genealogies and how we separate distinct historical periods from one another through watersheds such as the invention of fire or the fall of the Berlin Wall Time Maps extends beyond all of the old clichés about linear circular and spiral patterns of historical process and provides us with models of the actual legends used to map history brilliant and elegant Hayden White University of California Santa Cruz Life's Splendid Drama Peter J. Bowler, 1996-11-15 As Bowler tracks major scientific debates over the emergence of the vertebrates the origins of the main types of living animals and the rise and extinction of groups such as the dinosaurs his richly detailed accounts bring to light complex interactions among specialists in various fields of biology The Metaphoric Process Gemma Corradi Fiumara, 2005-08-16 Metaphor is much more than just a linguistic phenomena argues Gemma Corradi Fiumara it is in fact the key process by which we construct and develop our ability to understand the world and the people we share it with Rationality as understood by philosophers has led to a disembodied view of ourselves in which interaction between life and language has been downplayed By looking at the metaphoric process in an interpersonal rather than a formal way its importance in allowing us access to new worlds of experience is revealed The metaphoric potential in us all exposes us to the world and initiates our involvement in it

Evolution Irfan Yilmaz, 2009-05-01 Examining the evolution debate from different aspects this study points out the divergent uses of evolution and it posits a scientific argument against the theory of evolution and includes rational explanations derived from the Islamic understanding of creation Radical Interpretation in Religion Nancy Frankenberry, 2002-09-19 Publisher Description On Revival Roni Henig, 2024-11-12 A critique of the discourse of language revival in modern Hebrew literature On Revival is a critique of one of the most important tenets of Zionist thinking Hebrew revival or the idea that Hebrew a largely unspoken language before the twentieth century was revitalized as part of a broader national revival which ultimately led to the establishment of the Israeli nation state This story of language revival has been commemorated in Israeli popular memory and in Jewish historiography as a triumphant transformation narrative that marks the success of the Zionist revolution But a closer look at the work of early twentieth century Hebrew writers reveals different sentiments Roni Henig explores the loaded figurative discourse of revival in the work of Hebrew authors and thinkers working roughly between 1890 and 1920 For these authors the language once known as the holy tongue became a vernacular in the making Rather than embracing revival as a neutral descriptive term Henig takes a critical approach employing close readings of canonical texts to analyze the primary tropes used to articulate this aesthetic and political project of reviving Hebrew She shows that for many writers the national mission of language revival was entwined with a sense of mourning and loss These writers perceived and simultaneously produced the language as neither dead nor fully alive Henig argues that it is this figure of the living dead that lies at the heart of the revival discourse and which is constitutive of Jewish nationalism On Revival contributes to current debates in comparative literary studies by addressing the limitations of the national language paradigm and thinking beyond concepts of origin nativity and possession in language Informed by critical literary theory including feminist and postcolonial critiques the book challenges Zionism's monolingual lens and the auto Orientalism involved in the project of revival questioning charged ideological concepts such as native

speaker and mother tongue
