Biopolitics International Values Inv:

Biopolitics and International Values Ralph Pettman, 1981 Biopolitics and International Values Investigating Liberal Norms attempts to provide as profound an understanding of human behavior as possible It sorts out the subjective meanings we share with other people that define our cultures and the symbolic contexts that surround us all The book begins with a discussion of the sources of order in contemporary world politics in particular the intellectual and moral values that have come to prevail there the European doctrines of social justice and human rights and the underlying assumptions they make about human fraternity equality liberty and Physical Culture and the Biopolitics of the International Garden City Movement Samuel M. Clevenger, 2025-05-25 This book revisits the history of the international garden city town planning movement in the early twentieth century focusing on the significance of various forms of physical culture sport recreation leisure and other active body practices within garden city planning discourse and the development of some of the first garden city communities in the United Kingdom and United States Biopolitics and Structure in Legal Education Luca Siliquini-Cinelli, Thomas Giddens, 2023-06-30 Taking up the study of legal education in distinctly biopolitical terms this book provides a critical and political analysis of structure in the law school Legal education concerns the complex pathways by which an individual becomes a lawyer making the journey from lay person to expert from student to practitioner To pose the idea of a biopolitics of legal education is not only to recognise the tensions surrounding this journey but also to recognise that legal education is a key site in which the subject engages and is engaged by a particular structure and here the particular structure of the law school This book explores that structure by addressing the characteristics of the biopolitical orders engaged in legal education including understanding the lawyer as a commodity unpicking the force relations in legal education examining the ways codes of conduct in higher education impact academic freedom as well as putting the distinctly Western structures of legal learning within a wider context Assembling original field defining essays by both leading international scholars and emerging researchers it constitutes an indispensable resource in legal education research and scholarship that will appeal to legal academics everywhere Denver Journal of International Law and Policy, 1992 The Biopolitics of Lifestyle Christopher Mayes, 2015-12-22 A growing sense of urgency over obesity at the national and international level has led to a proliferation of medical and non medical interventions into the daily lives of individuals and populations This work focuses on the biopolitical use of lifestyle to govern individual choice and secure population health from the threat of obesity The characterization of obesity as a threat to society caused by the cumulative effect of individual lifestyles has led to the politicization of daily choices habits and practices as potential threats This book critically examines these unquestioned assumptions about obesity and lifestyle and their relation to wider debates surrounding neoliberal governmentality biopolitical regulation of populations discipline of bodies and the possibility of community resistance The rationale for this book follows Michel Foucault's approach of problematization addressing the way lifestyle is problematized as a biopolitical domain in neoliberal societies Mayes argues that in response to the threat of obesity lifestyle has emerged as a network of disparate knowledges relations and practices through which individuals are governed toward the security of the population's health Although a central focus is government health campaigns this volume demonstrates that the network of lifestyle emanates from a variety of overlapping domains and disciplines including public health clinical medicine media entertainment school programs advertising sociology and ethics This book offers a timely critique of the continued interventions into the lives of individuals and communities by government agencies private industries medical and non medical experts in the name of health and population security and will be of interests to students and scholars of critical international relations theory health and bioethics and governmentality studies

Global Governance and Biopolitics

David Roberts, 2009-12-10 This seminal work is the first fully to engage human security with power in the international system It presents global governance not as impartial institutionalism but as the calculated mismanagement of life directing biopolitical neoliberal ideology through global networks undermining the human security of millions The book responds to recent critiques of the human security concept as incoherent by identifying and prioritizing transnational human populations facing life ending contingencies en masse Furthermore it proposes a realignment of World Bank practices towards mobilizing indigenous provision of water and sanitation in areas with the highest rates of avoidable child mortality Roberts demonstrates that mainstream IR's nihilistic domination of security thinking is directly responsible for blocking the realization of greater human security for countless people worldwide whilst its assumptions and attendant policies perpetuate the dystopia its proponents claim is inevitable Yet this book presents a viable means of achieving a form of human security so far denied to the most vulnerable people in the world

Biopolitics at 50 Years

Tony Wohlers, Amy Fletcher, 2022-11-21 Biopolitics at 50 Years Founding and Evolution explores the study of biology and politics through the prism of fifty years of experience presenting current research that illustrates the nature and evolution of biopolitics

The Biopolitics of Dementia James Rupert Fletcher, 2023-11-24 This book explores how dementia studies relates to dementia's growing public profile and corresponding research economy The book argues that a neuropsychiatric biopolitics of dementia positions dementia as a syndrome of cognitive decline caused by discrete brain diseases distinct from ageing widely misunderstood by the public that will one day be overcome through technoscience This biopolitics generates dementia's public profile and is implicated in several problems including the failure of drug discovery the spread of stigma the perpetuation of social inequalities and the lack of support that is available to people affected by dementia Through a failure to critically engage with neuropsychiatric biopolitics much dementia studies is complicit in these problems Drawing on insights from critical psychiatry and critical gerontology this book explores these problems and the relations between them revealing how they are facilitated by neuro agnostic dementia studies work that lacks robust biopolitical critiques and sociopolitical alternatives In response the book makes the case for a more biopolitically engaged neurocritical dementia studies and shows how such a tradition might be realised through the promotion of a promissory sociopolitics of dementia. This book explains why the 2030 UN Sustainable Development Agenda for Transforming our World including 17 agreed sustainable development goals requires transforming the UN and WTO legal systems as well as international investment law and adjudication. Childhood and Biopolitics N. Lee, 2013-10-01. Will the future be a climate disaster? Will biotechnologies bring huge improvements to lifespan? Predictions vary but children's status as human embodiments of the future puts them at the centre of attempts to shape the world and the discipline of childhood studies can therefore make a critical and creative contribution to future making.

The 'Ecosystem Approach' in International Environmental Law Vito De Lucia, 2019-03-28. The ecosystem approach broadly understood as a legal and governance strategy for integrated environmental and biodiversity management has been adopted within a wide variety of international environmental legal regimes and provides a narrative, a policy approach and in some cases legally binding obligations for States to implement what has been called a new paradigm of environmental management. In this last respect the ecosystem approach is also often considered to offer an opportunity to move beyond the outdated anthropocentric framework underpinning much of international environmental law thus helping re-think law in the Anthropocene. Against this background this book addresses the question of whether the ecosystem approach represents a paradigm shift in international environmental law and governance or whether it is in conceptual and operative continuity with legal modernity. This central question is explored through a combined genealogical and biopolitical framework which reveals how the ecosystem approach is the result of multiple contingencies and contestations and of the interplay of divergent and sometimes irreconcilable ideological projects. The ecosystem approach this book shows does not have a univocal identity and must be understood as both signalling the potential for a decisive shift in the philosophical orientation of law and the operationalisation of a biopolitical framework of control that is in continuity with and even intensifies the eco-destructive tendencies of legal modernity. It is however in revealing this disjunction that the book opens up the possibility of moving beyond the already tired assessment of environmental law through the binary of anthropocentrism and ecocentrism.

Investment Treaties and the Legal Imagination Nicolás M. Perrone, 2021. This book brings a new perspective to the subject of international investment law by tracing the origins of foreign investor rights. It shows how a group of business leaders, bankers and lawyers in the mid twentieth century paved the way for our current system of foreign investment relations and the investor state dispute settlement mechanism. Foreign Investment, Human Rights and the Environment Shyami Puvimanasinghe, 2007-06-30. Events like the Bhopal disaster, the sale of products harmful to human health and safety and child labour especially in resource scarce settings raise fundamental issues of human dignity and ecological integrity From a legal perspective and in the context of Foreign Direct Investment by Transnational Corporations in developing countries they highlight the lacuna of a holistic international legal framework and its implementation This book embodies a critique of the complex web of public international law principles on economics human rights and the environment and their convergence or lack thereof related regional South Asian and domestic Sri Lankan legal arrangements interventions of states and non state actors towards just equitable and sustainable development It is a quest for a middle path in the multidisciplinary landscape of international law development and North South power dynamics globalization of free trade and investment and of social and environmental interests and salient aspects of the philosophical socio economic and legal fabric of South Asia viewed against the evolving controversial and elastic sphere of international relations and law where consensus has hitherto been an elusive dream Neoliberalism Inequality and Authoritarianism Jon Kofas,2024-09-03 This book exposes the inherent contradictions of neoliberalism The myth of limitless growth ignores the reality of resource constraints and fuels a global upward transfer of wealth Meanwhile a fractured global economy and intensifying class warfare chip away at neoliberalism s foundation As inequality spirals and social justice crumbles the model increasingly serves a privileged few at the expense of the majority This undermines the Enlightenment ideal of using liberal democracy to improve lives in the age of mass politics threatening neoliberalism s very survival Foreign Affairs ,1981 International Encyclopedia of Geography, 15 Volume Set Noel Castree,Michael F.
